Good Weather Return Promises
Completion of City Paving Work

With a return of good weather this week, street paving contractors believe they will be able to finish work on 33 projects they now have underway, City Manager Oren King reported Tuesday. Rains here last week brought widespread concern, especially to residents of the southeast section of the city where almost a dozen streets have been cut to grade in preparation for paving.

Robesons See
A Civil War

MEXICO CITY — (AP) — Mrs. Paul Robeson, wife of the American Negro singer, told the leftist "Continental Peace Congress" that "there is civil war" in the United States.

She said that was her interpretation of what she called "the Battle of Peekskill" — riots in which more than 100 were injured during recent attempts by her husband to sing and speak at Peekskill, N. Y.

Mrs. Robeson spoke in place of the singer at the final session of the Peace Congress.

Henry Wallace, 1948 Progressive Party Candidate for President, declared in a message read to the Congress:

"The people of the world will clamor for peace until one world has become a reality."

Another message from Charles Chaplin, the actor, said: "The only defense against war is peace."

This has been the city's heaviest paving year since 1924, King noted Monday, perhaps the heaviest in its entire history.

Need Good Weather
He admitted that contractors will need continued good weather to finish the paving jobs for which they hold contracts, but, he added, "every effort to speed the work is being made and—with just average fall weather conditions—the contractors should be able to wind up these jobs before winter sets in."

King said he had toured the street projects several times since the rains caused so much consternation and had checked in particular on these jobs that seemed to be lagging.

The city council, he said, was aware that some difficulty might be encountered in finishing the last projects contracted this summer. The urgency of property owner's pleas for paving brought a council policy of attempting to do as much as seemed likely of success.

Additional men were added to the staff of the city engineering department, and all other efforts possible made to expedite the paving projects, King said.

Six Weeks to Process
Some residents, he said, feared to realize that approximately six weeks is required to process a street paving petition under provisions of the Oregon Bancroft law (the legal installment plan for paving and similar improvements assessed to benefitted properties).

Accordingly, they waited until mid-summer before requesting the council to let contracts for paving their streets.

"In anticipation of another heavy paving season next summer," King said, "the city administration is going to do everything possible to encourage property owners to file their improvement petitions this winter."

By this move, the city should be better able to let paving contracts early in the season and help avert such a tight squeeze as has been felt this summer."

Anglican Priest
Goes to Africa

LOS ANGELES — (AP) — The former Anglican priest who married the Duke of Windsor to American divorcee Mrs. Wallis Warfield Simpson leaves for England Friday en route to South Africa.

The Rev. R. Anderson Jardine, 71, said he would become bishop prelate of the South African Episcopal Church, a sect independent of the Church of England.

The stocky clergyman resigned his Anglican pastorage when church authorities censured him for breaking a rule against marrying a divorced person. Jardine recently has held the pulpit at the Grace Gospel Assembly Church here.
