

School Census Shows Growth

Children Tallied by Springfield District

Springfield School District 19's census just completed shows 6556 children, but is in the ages of four to 18 years. This is an increase of 249 children over the 1949 census, which was 6579 by the Silke, superintendent of schools.

The 1949 census was a reflection of actual children on a ratio basis. The law now compels the school to count each year. Only the calculation, one phase of the census, was completed Wednesday.

Mrs. Dorothy Fullerton, attendance clerk, reported that the first of next year will be a listing of children up to four years of age.

Skipworth Older Than Benny?

It was Circuit Judge G. F. Skipworth's birthday Wednesday and although no formal celebration was planned at the courthouse, everyone there was extending congratulations.

When asked his age on the anniversary, Skipworth said, "I'm ten years older than Jack Benny. Or maybe I'm ten years younger," he added as an afterthought.

Looking spry and cheerful, Skipworth paused on his way out of chambers to help a young lawyer in advising a client, a person Skipworth referred to as "that old man."

Who's Who for Oregon gives a hint of the veteran judge's age. It says he was born in Kechi, Louisiana, Nov. 21, 1873.

Rotarians Hear School Choir

Eugene Rotarians Tuesday heard the Woodrow Wilson Junior High School Choir present a program of Thanksgiving music.

Directed by Miss Lolita Pierson, the choir sang "Ride the Chariot," "Over the River and Through the Wood," and "A Song of Thanksgiving." A boys' double quartet sang "I had a Dream" and "The Winter Song."

Kay Beatty and Jerry Holloway sang a duet, "I Still Suits Me." Barbara Niles, a ninth grader and secretary-treasurer of the student body, spoke briefly on "What Thanksgiving Means to Me."

Ed Bailey, Eugene attorney and former president of the club, suggested members turn their homecoming buttons upside down. He said it would indicate the hope for an "upset" in the Oregon-Oregon State game Saturday.

Ruth Ann Prothero

Ruth Ann Prothero, 45, of 1290 Dalton Dr., died Monday, Nov. 19, 1951. Born June 25, 1906, in Kansas City, Mo., she had lived in Eugene for 16 years.

She was a member of the Evangeline Chapter of the Eastern Star, the Zuleima Temple 13 of the Daughters of the Nile, and the Brotherhood of Railway Clerks.

Survivors include her husband, Vaughn D. Prothero; her mother, Mrs. Jennie B. Creager, Eugene; a brother, Jack H. Creager of Medford.

Services will be at the Veatch Hollingsworth England Funeral Home Friday, Nov. 23, 1951, at 4 p.m. with the Daughters of the Nile in charge of final services. Interment will be at Rest Haven Memorial Park.

Two Accidents Damage Cars

City police issued no citations after a two-car accident at 8th and Polk Tuesday evening, but the investigating officer wasn't sure that meant nobody was wrong.

On the accident report he noted: "Both drivers should have looked more carefully."

The 6:30 p.m. accident involved automobiles driven by George E. Everingham, 1042 Polk, and Joseph H. Furguson, Rt. 1, Creswell. Damage was estimated at $50 to each car.

In another Tuesday accident, cars driven by Charles E. Martin, 497 N. 36th, Springfield, and William J. Craigen, Portland, collided at 8th and High. Damage was estimated at $150 and $200 to the two vehicles. Martin was cited for failure to heed a stop sign.

Edison Grounds To Get Blacktop

PTA Raises Funds To Finance Project

Muddy sons and daughters will be thing of the past at Edison school soon, Edison PTA members hope.

Starting Wednesday, a portion of the playground area at the school will be blacktopped, paid for by the Edison PTA.

An area 70 by 102 feet, one-third of the total, is being macadamized as a starter, and more work is planned in the spring. The remainder of the area will be hard-surfaced next year, if plans materialize.

During the rainy season, many portions of the playground become a quagmire, according to one PTA member.

The playground costs, at $1 a square foot, are being met by postcard appeals — "Won't you buy a square yard." Central Heating Co. is doing the work.

In addition, landscape plans are being drawn for the entire school area by Tex Matzler, director of the Eugene Parks and Recreation Bureau, also a member of the Edison PTA.

Oops! Wrong Number

JUNCTION CITY—The Junction City Fire Department has been receiving calls from mothers and kiddies who are interested in joining a new kindergarten, ever since the Register-Guard was delivered Tuesday evening.

The firemen want it known that the number to call about the kindergarten is 8-2114, Mrs. Max Strauss. The JCED number which please DON'T call unless your house is on fire, is 8-2112, the one which appeared in the paper.

Cascade Lions Told About Charter Night

The Cascade Lions Club, the second Lions club in Eugene, has the necessary 40 members to receive its charter, the group learned at their regular meeting Tuesday.

Charter night will be Dec. 11 at the Veteran's Memorial Building. The membership is increasing and new members are welcome, a group spokesman said.

At the Tuesday meeting, Hale Thompson, local lawyer, was the speaker. He told members how charter nights are arranged and how they are handled. New members were introduced.

Two Prison Inmates Recaptured in Salem

SALEM—(AP)—Two prison inmates escaped from a work gang here Tuesday afternoon, but were recaptured within 30 minutes.

The pair, Dean Funk, 20, and Gerry Hempel, 24, jumped off a work truck near the Salem airport. They were recaptured by state police at nearby Fairview Home.

Funk was serving 18 months from Wasco County on a charge of assault and robbery. Hempel was serving five years on a lane County morals conviction.

Youth Pleads Not Guilty To Reckless Driving

COTTAGE GROVE—A 19-year-old motorist pleaded not guilty to a charge of reckless driving in Justice Court here Tuesday.

Raymond Ikola, Lorane Route, Cottage Grove, was arrested on the charge after a complaint had been signed by a county weighmaster.

Judge John Wells set bail at $50. No trial date has been set.

Springfield Firemen Called to Aid Ill Child

Springfield Police Wednesday reported they transported a fire department resuscitator to Maple School Tuesday in an effort to aid a sick 10-year old girl.

A doctor's diagnosis, however, deemed the equipment unnecessary, and the girl was returned home after resting at the school. The call was received by the department about 10:30 a.m.

2000 Airmen To Get Release

WASHINGTON—(AP)—The Air Force announced Wednesday it will release before Christmas 2,000 airmen called to duty from the Volunteer (non-pay) Reserve.

These are the last enlisted men on active duty who were recalled from non-pay reserve status against their will.

The Air Force said discharge of the men is possible because of the success of its enlistment program, and follows Air Force policy of using volunteers as much as possible.

Godfrey Program To Be Aired Here

Arthur Godfrey, one of radio's top comedians, has started a daily appearance on KERG over the CBS network. The present air time for the show is 3:15 to 3:30 p.m. in Eugene.

KERG manager, L. W. Trommlitz, in making the announcement, said the station hoped to add other portions of the popular comedian's show soon. The Godfrey program is on the air five days a week, Monday through Friday.
