Bowl Games, Cage Tourneys Face Curtailment After '53

x-Point Plan rawn by NCAA r De-Emphasis

CAGO, Nov. 21 — (U.P.) — A plan to curtail bowl games basketball tournaments, fi- aid, practice sessions and ility will be presented to National Collegiate Athle- Association's Cincinnati con- Jan. 9-12.

The program was approved by policy making NCAA coun- after a two day-session. It for:

A resolution requesting mem- to make no commitments post season games after Jan. pending a report by the events committee on how to nate pressures such games

Two constitutional amend- on out of season football basketball practice, one limit- practice to the season of the the other restricting work- to 20 days. The convention be asked to approve one.

A constitutional amendment ing an athlete, to remain le, to enter in accordance published requirements, in academic standings, and satisfactory progress to- a degree.

A constitutional amendment ing ineligible any athlete who ves financial assistance not istered or approved by his tion.

A resolution to give the foot- rules committee survey re- showing the "majority" of "want something done" free football substitutions, the platoon system.

A resolution appointing a ttee to study scheduling es and recommend to the convention limits on the of games and the length for all sports, partic- football and basketball.

The council also approved a that college athletics' arise from undue pres- to win, particularly upon and the need for football receipts to finance athletic

The other agencies have "sig- an intention" to help seek for these, the council They were the American of Education, accrediting the National Student ation, the National Associa- of Governing Boards of State ities and Allied Institu- and the Football Writers ation.

The resolution covering bowl said that a "nation wide . . . found a strong sen- against continuance of season games."

Should the convention support resolution and later bar such only the Rose Bowl, has both the Pacific Coast Big Ten conferences com- to furnish teams, could in 1954 for the last time. all basketball tour- would cease in 1953.

★ Coach Tippy Dye's University of Washington basketball team is rated the favorite to repeat for the Pacific Coast Conference crown and is ranked fourth in the nation by basketball writers throughout the country. . . . Look magazine, in its current issue on "1951-52 Basketball Forecast," selects Kentucky as the No. 1 quintet, followed by Illinois, Oklahoma Aggies, Washington, St. John's, Kansas, St. Louis, North Carolina State, Wyoming and Holy Cross. . . . Behind Washington in the Northern Division, Look lists Idaho, OSC, Oregon and WSC. . . . In the Southern Division, it is UCLA, Stanford, USC, and California. . . . In the mountain states area, Wyoming is followed by Brigham Young, Utah, Colorado Aggies, Montana and New Mexico. . . .

Wyoming and Utah both play Washington and Oregon this season. The Utes open the season against the Huskies in Salt Lake November 30-December 1 and open the home season here December 7-8. . . . Wyoming plays here December 21-21, but does not play Washington at Laramie until February 22-23. . . .

Dean Parsons, the fine freshman prospect from Eugene, visited here last weekend after surviving a final "cut" at Washington, bringing the squad to ten men—which will be increased to 14 when the football season closes. . . . Doug McClary, a football end, is certain to gain a starting forward berth along with Frank Guisness. . . . Parsons reports that Letterman Duane Enochs of Portland is Guisness' running mate at the present time. . . . Parsons is understudy to Bob Houbregs, junior center. . . . Starting guards are presently Mike McCuthen and Joe Cipriano and the alternate guard is Larry Coons, a transfer from Olympic JC. . . .

Parsons says he enjoys being at Washington, but admits that he gets lonesome for Eugene at times. . . . Just for fun, we measured the ex-Eugene High center who played for the victorious North quintet in the North-South classic at Murray, Ky., last spring. . . . With his street shoes, he stands 6 feet, 8 inches and has boosted his weight to 230 pounds. . . .

★ Parsons was selected as a member of the five-man All-American high school squad named by Chuck Taylor, and he says that Tom Gola, 6-foot, 6-inch, 202-pound Philadelphia boy was the best player on the squad. . . . Dean believes Gola will be playing for St. John's this season. . . .

There was quite a controversy regarding what school Parsons would attend—Oregon, OSC or Washington. . . . Parsons admitted that the best "offer" was made by a college in Texas—room, board, books, laundry, tuition and $200 per month. . . . Asked about football, he said he still plans to devote his athletics to basketball and track (discus and shot). . . . Many critics believed he would be a better gridman than hoopster — which we have always doubted. . . .

Parsons says that Dye has spent much time with the freshmen on hook shots — one of Dye's specialties. . . . He also said he realized that he would "take a beating" from both Oregon and OSC fans whenever he played here or at Corvallis, but said he could "take it." . . .

Washington has lost six senior lettermen, but only Louie Soriano was a regular, with LaDon Henson and Russ Parthemer alternates. . . . The Huskies are "loaded" and it appears doubtful if the hoopsters will "fold" like the Washington football squad.

★ Two of Norm Van Brocklin's Oregon passing records might go by the boards this weekend, if Hal Dunham attempts five passes; if he completes six. . . . They would break Van's record of 168 passes attempted in 1947, his 76 completions in 1947 and tied in 1948. . . . Monte Brethauer hasn't much of a chance to better his reception record of 33 established last year (he has 21 to date this season), but every time he catches a pass he will better his all-time career record that now stands at 54. . . .

James C. Heartwell of Long Beach, Cal., one of Slats Gill's old basketball players, is compiling a history of Pacific Coast basketball, including college, AAU and YMCA. . . . He is also writing a 50-year history of Oregon State basketball.

SPORTS BRIEFS

Combined Wire Service

While college athletics have been undergoing numerous "commercialism charges," the following statements and steps have been taken:

1. Washington football coach HOWIE ODELL stated flatly that there's no "buying and selling" of athletes at his University. He insisted the Husky athletes earn their way.

2. Former football coach ROBERT C. ZUPPKE suggested limiting intercollegiate athletic competition to seniors as a solution for gambling and win-at-any-cost evils.

3. BILL McCOLL, Stanford's all-American end, is an A-minus students in medicine.

4. President JOHN A. HANNAH, Michigan State College, hinted that the Big-Ten PCC Rose Bowl pact may not be renewed in 1954. By then the Spartans will be a member of the Big Ten and Hannah indicated he would vote against it. The last Rose Bowl pack passed the Big Ten by only a 5-4 vote.

5. Maryland governor T. R. McKELDIN called for an investigation of how Maryland recruits athletes.

Stanford's NORM MANOOGIAN, guard, and tackle Bill Forester of SMU were named "Linemen of the Week" by AP. Washington's HUGH McELHENNY and Fred Bruney, Ohio State, were named "Backs of the Week" by AP. BIGGIE MUNN, Michigan State, was selected "Coach of the Week" by UP.

Unbeaten BUCKNELL university has been invited to play as the host team in the Tangerine Bowl at Orlando, Fla.

Nebraska's famed All-American back BOBBY REYNOLDS, out with a shoulder injury for six weeks, will miss the Oklahoma game Saturday because lime burns suffers by his eyes.

Veteran French driver JEAN TREVOUX was leading at the 329-mile mark in the 1933-mile Pan American auto race. One driver, Mexican Jose Estrada Menocal, was killed when his auto plunged into a canyon, while Hershel McGriff, defending winner from Portland, Ore., was eliminated by a wreck.

A young heavyweight boxer, LAVERNE COLE, was in a Duluth hospital Wednesday suffering from a brain hemorrhage after being knocked out Tuesday night.

The University of San Francisco was tendered a bid to play in the SALAD BOWL at Phoenix Ariz. The Dons are hoping for an Orange Bowl bid.

TULSA retained its offensive leadership in college football statistics with an average of 482.3 yards per game, 359.1 by rushing. Loyola tops passing with 210.5 yards per game.

Webfoots Hold Last Scrimmage

Merritt Barber Performs Well

Final scrimmage session of the season, a defensive drill against the unbeaten JV's using Oregon State's single-wing plays, was scheduled Wednesday. Tuesday's scrimmage on offense was extremely spotty and the only really bright spot was the running of Merritt Barber, freshman who made the varsity squad only last week—as a defensive back.

Barber worked at left half in place of the injured Ted Anderson, high-scoring sophomore who suffered a leg injury in Monday's dummy drill. Anderson is spending his time in the training room, and it appears doubtful if he will be ready for Saturday's finale—against OSC's Beavers.

The running of Fullback Tom Novikoff and Halfbacks Tommy Edwards and Bob Ashworth looked good. Despite a cold and wet rain, the passing of both Half Dunham and George Shaw was creditable.

Defensively, End Don Hedgepeth, Linebacker Bob Wilcox, and at times, Ron Lyman, defensive back, looked good.

Emerson Harvey, new place-kicking artist booted field goals from as far out as 45 yards from the goal posts. He hit better than 50 per cent from a slight angle.

Capacity crowd of 23,500 for the 60th annual Oregon-OSC game appeared unlikely, according to Business Manager Howard Lemons. In addition to 3000 reserved seats still remaining, Lemons announced that 1179 general admission seats, in the wings, at $3, and 588 seats for children and high school students, at $1.50, will be available. The tickets will go on sale at 11 a.m. at Hayward Field. Usually the entire stadium is reserved at $5 per seat.

College Heads Draw Up Plans

WASHINGTON, Nov. 21—(U.P.)—A special committee of college presidents, appointed to find ways of eliminating problems facing intercollegiate athletics, reported "definite progress" Tuesday as it adjourned its investigation until Dec. 12.

Chairman John A. Hannah, president of Michigan State College, said the eight committee members and one adviser who attended the third meeting agreed on four general points:

1—Presidents of colleges and universities must assume all responsibility for the conduct of athletics at their institutions.

2.—Something must be done as soon as possible to correct existing evils in college sports.

3—Athletes must take standard and approved courses while attending colleges; easy credit subjects as "tap-dancing and bait-casting" must be eliminated from the curricula.

4.—Once a "sound and sane program" has been adopted, the institutions of higher learning "must practice what they preach."

Hannah said the committee hopes to arrive at "definite decisions" at its next meeting here on Dec. 12 and 13 and decided that the situation was "not hopeless."

Eugene Recreation

The Mobilettes, led by Wanda Curtis' 206, beat the J. P. O'Neil Lumberettes 3-1 in the Ladies Classic bowling league at Eugene Recreation alleys Tuesday night. Hazel Gunderson fired a 519 for the losers. Melba Wendel hit 191 and 517 in leading the Wendel Woodworkers to a 4-0 win over Launderettes. Henzler Marines, led by Mary Lou Atterbury's 189 and Jerry Chauncey's 481, beat Oregon Outfitting 3-1. VFW beat Clingman's 3-1, Teddy Martin scoring 176 and 461 for the losers. Nudleman's, with Irene Stacel rolling 170, beat Parmenter Pontiacs 3-1, Annette Harvey scoring 463 for the losers.

Jorgensen Electric beat Jones Fine Foods 3-1 in the Women of Moose league, Helen Rozman rolling 168 and 492 for the losers. Groceteria blanked Art's Service Station 4-0, but Mona Alford of the losers was high with 170 and 463 scores. Wendel Woodworking, with Melba Wendel hitting 181 and 459, beat Williams Transfer 3-1. Hope's Oakway Golf, paced by Ruth Hoaks' 166 and 448 scores, beat Shisler's Food Market 3-1. Carl's Flowers, Geneva Reinche scoring 173, tied Al Richmond 2-2, Edie Kyllo scoring 432 for the latter team.

U-Bowl

Jim Tucker of Terminal Taxi, with a 244 single and 613 series, took honors in Super League bowling at the U-Bowl Tuesday night. His team topped Max Burris 3-1. Lou Bellisimo's 573 paced Pennywise to a 3-1 win over Burch's Shoes, while Bus Chenoweth had a 559 as Moorehouse Richfield blanked Burkhart's 4-0. R. Fetsch had a 558 and Ray Williams a 557 as Gurrier Lumber and Rubenstein's split 2-2.

Kemp, with a 512, paced Lookout Point Dam League bowling as his Hartwell's Store team lost 3-1 to Garrison's Cafe. Joe Willis' 495 paced Bill Lure's to a 4-0 victory over Lowell Recreation, and Haro had a 457 as Lowell Market and Nesbitt's Orange tied 2-2. Pat Leonti's 452 paced Brinkman's to a 3-1 win over Willamette Theatre.

Princeton's Kazmaier Top Gainer in Nation

NEW YORK, Nov. 21 — (AP) — Princeton's Dick Kazmaier, in line for a bushelful of honors, was virtually assured Wednesday of becoming the first Eastern football player to win the major-college total offense title.

Kazmaier, 29th in total offense a month ago, tops the field with a lofty 1707 yards gained by rushing and passing—118 more than runner-up Don Klosterman of Loyola of California.

The Tiger ace also leads in touchdown-responsibility with 22. He has scored nine and passed for 13 more. He also is tops in pass completion percentage with 64 per cent and average gain per offense play, 6.9 yards.

Miller Alums In Grid Game Thanksgiving

Eugene will have its own "Turkey Day" football game, Thursday afternoon at 1:30 when Springfield high school graduates will clash in the first annual Alumni Bowl game. The contest, between the Blues and Whites, will be held on the Willamalane Park field in Springfield.

Proceeds from the game will go towards the new high school football stadium.

The two teams have been practicing for the last 10 days and are expected to be in good shape for the contest. The White personnel is composed mainly of the 1943 championship Springfield eleven. Two Oregon gridders are on this squad including Bud Boqua and Jerry Lake.

The Blues, made up of other graduates, will be sparked by Bo Clingman, Rex McCready, Ken Blackman and Sid Peterson. Clingman is coach for his team while Art Strong is mentoring the Blues.

A variety of offensive formations will be used in the alumni clash which promises to be a wide open show. The Blues will use both the T formation and the double wing, while the Whites will run from a single wing.

Tickets for the game are available from team players or from members of Springfield's newly-formed Active Club. All equipment is being furnished by Springfield High School.

Matthews KO's Whitlock in 2

PORTLAND, Nov. 21—(AP)—Harry "Kid" Matthews chopped down Dave Whitlock of San Francisco in 1:16 of the second round of their scheduled 10-round boxing match here Tuesday night.

It was the 11th straight knockout for the Seattle light-weight leading contender for Joey Maxim's crown, and raised his string of consecutive victories to 64, including a win last August over Whitlock.

The second round was a minute old when Matthews unleashed a left to the stomach, followed it with a staggering right to the jaw and a right chop that sent Whitlock to the canvas.

Whitlock was up at the count of three, although Portland Boxing rules require a boxer to take a nine-count. Apparently out on his feet, Whitlock tumbled to the ringside seats when Referee Ralph Gruman tried to hold him against the ropes. He was brought back into the ring but toppled through the ropes again seconds later. That stopped the fight.

CCNY Admits False Records

NEW YORK, Nov. 21—(U.P.)—City College of New York, which returned basketball to its gymnasium when some of its players first became involved in the bribery scandal, took another long stride away from athletic glory Wednesday with the announcement of a de-emphasis program.

Lester M. Nichols, assistant to CCNY president Harry Wright, announced the college is adopting a plan which, he said "will result in the elimination of city as an athletic power in the future."

Nichols said the college will take steps to see that there is no recruiting of athletes and would carefully scrutinize high school transcripts of athletes.

He made the announcement after Wright had admitted that at least two of the basketball players convicted of "throwing" games had gained entrance to the college through falsified high school grades. This had been charged by Judge Saul Streit at the time he sentenced the players.

Wright said "no evidence" had been discovered as to who tampered with the records of the players, and added, "The situation is complicated because there are about 50 persons in the recording offices who had access to the files."

Creswell Faces Gervais Eleven

'B' 11-Man Semis Slated Thursday

Creswell's Bulldogs and the Gervais Cougars battle over a finals berth in the Oregon state B 11-man football championships this Thursday on the Cougar's home field. The game is scheduled to start at 12:30 p.m.

Coach Bill Patterson's Cougars, sporting an absolutely clean record for the year, entered the semi-finals bracket with a victory last weekend over Knappa, 13-7.

Coach Charles Moore's Bulldog's record reads four wins, three losses and a pair of ties. Two of those losses have been against fair-to-middlin' A-2 schools, Sutherlin and Junction City. Both losses were at the beginning of the present season and the Bulldogs have come a long way since the early part of the year.

The other loss was late in the season to Drain, 13-6, but the Bulldogs made amends for that one by turning around and white-washing Drain in the quarterfinal round of the championship play-off, 19-0.

Creswell's chief trouble is expected to come from Back John McCall, the boy who led Gervais in its upset victory over Knappa, by scoring both Cougar touchdowns. McCall isn't a one-shot player. He has led the Gervais offensive attack all year long.

To balance things with McCall in the Creswell backfield is Dale Bates, who, by high school standards, is an outstanding passer. Bates and Don Gray will change off at the quarterbacking post. For good measure the Bulldogs' offensive attack features Dean Workman, Mel Rogers, and Ed Graham. Workman at fullback and Graham and Rogers at halfbacks.

Van B. Retains Pass Leadership

PHILADELPHIA, Nov. 21—(AP)—The National Football League's individual statistical race is beginning to look like a personal service to keep the records of the Los Angels Rams.

A look at the latest weekly statistics released by NFL shows Rams leading in four individual departments — ground gaining, passing, pass receiving and scoring.

Deacon Dan Towler, the Rams' husky Negro fullback from Donora, in Western Pennsylvania, took over the ground gaining leadership in the National Football League.

The unheralded line smasher from Washington and Jefferson college went ahead of the New York Giants' Eddie Price with a spectacular performance Sunday when he gained 155 yards in 13 attempts against the New York Yanks. His season total is 602 yards and an average of 8.5 yards per play.

Los Angeles also has the best passer in the NFL in Norman Van Brocklin, former Oregon ace who won the loops' aerial title in 1950. Van Brocklin has an average gain of 9.5 yards per pass. He has thrown 139 times, completed 70 for 1321 yards and 12 touchdowns.

LIONS-PACKERS THURSDAY

Radio KERG will broadcast the Detroit Lions-Green Bay Packers National League football game Thursday, starting at 9 a.m.

McElhenny Top Scorer, Rusher in PCC Figures

LOS ANGELES, Nov. 21—Washington's Hugh McElhenny has forged into the lead in rushing in the Pacific Coast Conference, figures from the PCC Commissioner's office showed Wednesday and the charging husky fullback heads a host of top performers who might break season records this weekend.

McElhenny has netted 801 yards rushing, surpassing Southern California's Frank Gifford by 44 yards, but has only one game to play, to Gifford's two. McElhenny has scored 16 touchdowns and 22 conversions for 118 points in his nine games, and is within reach of the PCC record of 131 set in 1922 by Duke Morrison of California.

Gary Kerkorian apparently has the passing honors salted away with 89 completions (14 more than his nearest rival, Sam Mitchell), good for 1293 yards, but is far off a record-setting pace. Fourth-ranking Bob Burkhart, Washington State, however, has 12 touchdown passes with the record at 14.

BARKER SHAW TOPS

Paul Cameron, UCLA tailback, leads in total offense with 1354 yards to 1280 for Kergorian. Ed Barker, Washington State end, ran his pass receiving totals to 39 for 734 yards last weekend, breaking the 1-year old mark of 671 yards and tieing the record of 39, both set by Bill McColl, Stanford, who is running No. 2 to Barker.

George Shaw, Oregon freshman, has run his interception total to 12, equalling the national record set last year by Harry Rich of Arizona State (Tempe). The old PCC mark was 10.

Desk Koch, Southern California, is the leading punter with a 42.0 average while his teammate, Johnny Williams, leads in punt returns with 373 yards and kickoff returns, 325 yards. Williams is within reach of the PCC yardage records in both departments.

UO SECOND IN PASSING

In team statistics, Washington leads the conference in passing with 173.8 yards per game, followed by Oregon with a 163.8 average.

California heads the league on offense. The Bears have averaged 402.7 yards per game, 304.2 of them on the ground.
