

Gasoline Alley

Bill Perry 1-6
Reg. U. S. Pat. Off.
Copyright, 1932, by
The Chicago Tribune

We'll get this job finished before Uncle Walt gets out to help us, Corky.

That's the idea, Skee-zix.

I hate to see a man his age do heavy work.

And this is really rugged!

Especially when he has two young sons.

I don't feel so doggone young at the moment, Whew!

We'd better get that big drift away from the garage door.

So he can get the car out!

Well that's it—and I'm bushed!

Me, too!

I never knew the old boy to sleep so late!

He's getting lazy in his old age!

Hey, look!

It's Uncle Walt!

Hi!

Where the dickens have you been?

Down at Avery's.

The poor old geezer is laid up with a bum back, you know.

Oh!

I figured you boys would take care of our walks—

So I got up early and did his!

William's BREAD

Wrapped in Gingham