

Dairymen Plan Widen Area to Expand Insemination Service

Official insemination program dairy herds outside the area covered by the Lane County Breeders Assn. may participate.

Members of the board of directors of the D.B.A., meeting in Eugene, Ore., Monday night, discussed the plan which will allow service to areas where dairy cows are enrolled, but farmers in the area can not own part-time tech-

PRESENT, the local Dairy Association services within about a 15 mile radius.

Board indicated that the community has already shown interest in the program. Blachly is heading up the interest enough dairymen to get in touch with the County Extension Service in the Public Health Division.

OTHER ACTION, the board will set up a booth advertising the artificial insemination program at the annual meeting of the Eugene Farmers Association on Feb. 27.

Board also discussed the plan of organizing a Lane County Dairy Assn. which will coordinate the programs of other dairy organizations and cattle clubs in the county.

One of the program would be to have local dairymen involve Oregon Dairymen's Assn. and the statewide influence of the dairy industry, board members explained.

WARDEN RAPS
School System

WARDEN — (AP) — Oregon's warden said here that a high school diploma wasn't much and he suggested Oregon's wasn't much different from high school.

Virgil O'Malley, retired California, told a Kiwanis Club meeting Wednesday that on a sixth grade test when their records are checked it is discovered that they hadn't graduated.

He said that resulted from California's pushing students in to get them graduated.
He wasn't sure the same thing wouldn't be done in Oregon, O'Malley, made many changes in prison procedures in response, said the emphasis is on reformation because he has proved that punishment lessened crime.

THIS RED WAGON is a gift from the Junior Red Cross at Bethel's Clear Lake School to the children of Ersal Reed, whose family was burned out of their home in the district recently. The Junior Red Cross of the school, where several of the Reed children attended, voted to buy the wagon and to collect toys for all the family's youngsters. In the photo are members of the school's Junior Red Cross council, from left, Patricia Percell, Tommy Alldridge, Ronnie Johnson, Bobby Gardner, Larry Custer, Ellen Jeffries, Elenita McCormick, Nolen Bell, Jim Nadeau, Bill Holverstott, and Ronnie Schultz. Junior Red Cross enrollment for Lane County will be in March this year. Money is used for projects like this, but always for service of other children.
