Army Reserves Face Training

Biggest Program In Nation's History

WASHINGTON — (AP) — The Army announced Wednesday it will conduct this year the biggest summer-camp training program for its reserves in the nation's history.

The department said in a news release that 160,000 reserve officers and enlisted men will be called for 15 days of active duty, for training on a "mandatory" basis. Volunteers and other categories will bring the training total up to about 180,000.

IN ADDITION to the 160,000 mandatory trainees—44,000 officers and 105,000 enlisted men plus 11,000 officers holding individual mobilization designations—the summertime total will include: 15,000 officers of the Volunteer Reserve assigned to 15-day tours of summer field training, other active duty or school attendance, 2,000 recruits in the Organized Reserve Corps who are without prior military service. They are authorized to serve a 30-day tour with an active Army training division.

2,677 OFFICERS and 2,805 enlisted men who are students at service schools. There will be an average of 60 days of summer schooling for the officers and 30 days for the enlisted men. 6,774 officers and 19,544 enlisted men who are students at Army area schools. They will be selected on the basis of training for future advancement, and their summer courses will average 17 days. 300 officers and 324 enlisted men on the staff and faculty of the Army area schools; 60 days for officers, 30 days for enlisted men.

11th Term Sought
KLAMATH FALLS — (AP) — Rep. Henry Semon, who has represented Klamath County in the State House of Representatives since 1932, said Monday that he would file again for re-election. He will be seeking his 11th term. Semon is a Democrat.

Stassen Outlines Platform in Utah

By C. J. HANSEN
United Press Staff Writer
SALT LAKE CITY — (UP) — Harold E. Stassen, one of the leading contenders for the Republican presidential nomination, presented his platform to Utah Republicans Tuesday night at the annual Lincoln Day dinner.

He said the GOP should regain its reputation as the party of the "full dinner pail."

His attack on the Truman administration brought cheers from the 600 Utah Republicans who attended the dinner. He described Mr. Truman's years in the White House as a "scandalous administration... the seven worst years for waste, corruption, loose spending, foreign policy failures, treasonable conduct and unnecessary loss of American lives."

THE NAME of Gov. J. Bracken Lee brought applause when mentioned by George T. Hansen, GOP national committeeman. Hansen introduced Stassen and officially represented the governor who was making a Lincoln Day speech in Phoenix, Ariz.

Lee has been mentioned as a possible candidate for the Republican vice-presidential nomination. He may be Utah's "favorite son" candidate at the GOP national convention.

After criticizing the Democratic administration, Stassen launched into the platform he says he will follow if elected. He said he would seek the establishment of a modern gold standard; the development of better harmony between various groups in America; a long-range reclamation program; a thorough cleansing of the government, and a foreign policy that is dynamic and "eagle-like."

The former Minnesota governor drew strong applause when he referred to Gen. Douglas MacArthur. He called the general a "superb patriot and a soldier," and said the ousted military leader "is everlastingly right in his emphasis that world communism is our opponent, and a clear-cut consistent objective must be lifted before America."

Stassen's foreign policy proposals had an internationalist tone. He said America should not abdicate its world leadership and warned that "pulling back within our gates would be a very sad mistake."

FOLLOWING HIS arrival at Salt Lake City's airport in the midst of a snowstorm, Stassen told newsmen he was "much encouraged" with the progress of his campaign.

The husky GOP leader predicted that neither Sen. Robert A. Taft (R-Ohio) nor Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower will be able to gather enough strength to get the Republican nomination.

"In that case," he said, "the convention must turn elsewhere. We hope they turn to us."

Statesmen See British Queen

LONDON — (AP) — Queen Elizabeth II conducted her first official ceremony at Buckingham Palace Wednesday, receiving Prime Minister Winston Churchill in a state audience.

Accompanied by 20 members of the House of Commons, Churchill presented an address to the Queen and received a formal reply, court attaches said. The texts of their remarks were not announced.

Among others from Parliament who participated in the brief ceremony were Opposition Leader Clement Attlee, the former prime minister, and Foreign Secretary Anthony Eden.
