JUNIOR CHAMBER HOSPITALITY bonds are now on sale—200 of them at $25 each, for the purpose of helping finance the National junior golf championships at the Eugene Country Club Aug. 11-16. Each of the bondholders will sponsor one of the 200 or more golfers who will come here from all over the nation, Alaska, Hawaii and Canada. Governor Douglas McKay purchased the first bond, with Doug Walwyn the Junior Chamber salesman. Watching is Jack Danby, general chairman for the tourney. Those wishing to purchase bonds can do so by calling 4-6227.

Featherweight champion SANDY SADDLER passed his pre-induction examinations Wednesday and will be subject to the call of his local draft board, the Army said.

JOHNNY BRATTON, former NEA welterweight champion, gained a split decision Wednesday night over rugged Vic Cardell in a 10-round bout.

For the first time since Philadelphia landed an American League franchise in 1901, CONNIE MACK wasn't around for the initial workout. The grand old man of baseball sent word to manager Jimmy Dykes that he'll be along when the infielders and outfielders start workouts Feb. 29.

COLLEGE FOOTBALL should have policemen to enforce the new athletic code of the American Council of Education, coach Blair Gullion of Washington University of St. Louis said. "What is needed is a man from each accrediting association to police things. It would take some money. Perhaps the 500 colleges engaged in football could be asked to put up their share so that the four or five accrediting agencies in the country could set up a field man to do the job," he added.

AL KIRCHER, new Washington State football coach, endorsed the Rose Bowl game but said his team had little prospect of getting there next year. He listed the tough schedule as the Cougars' main hazard in 1952.

U-Bowl

Swede Dorsey, with a 219, 201, 200 for a 620 series took the honors in City League bowling at the U-Bowl Wednesday night. He paced H. S. Smith to a 4-0 triumph over Dad's Root Beer. Ted Haley rolled a 561 as College Ice Cream won 3-1 from Willamette Ski Patrol, and Jim Tucker had a 552 as Bud's Shell Service split with Davidson's Bakery 2-2. Bill Randle rolled a 518 as Carmelcorn Shop divided 2-2 with El Pronto.

Ruby Callison rolled high series, 532, in Ladies Major League as Marley Sport Shop toppled U-Bowl 3-1. Lois Field, with a 506 series, paced Foster Saw Shop to a 4-0 blanking of Henzler Marine. Flo McCullough and Kelen Kirkpatrick rolled duplicate 497s as Double A Lumber tripped U. S. National Bank 4-0. Miss McCullough had high single for the night, 217. Ava Smith's 473 helped Nichol's Real Estate gain a 2-2 split with Grace and Viola's.

Everybody's, Jensen's Vie for AAU Tonight

Eugene's representative to the state AAU basketball tournament will be decided tonight at Colin Kelly when Everybody's Drug meets Ed Jensen's. The game will start at 8 p. m., with admission 50 cents for adults and 25 cents for children.

In regular season's play, the two clubs broke even. Everybody's won the first meeting 83-67, while Jensen's copped a 67-55 decision in the return go. The Druggists are the defending Oregon state AAU champions.

Rugged Road Trip Ruins Iba's Hopes

STILLWATER, Okla. — (U.P.) — The "iron duke" of college basketball, Coach Henry P. Iba of Oklahoma A & M, was back within the friendly walls of Gallagher hall Thursday after five smarting defeats on a six-game road trip.

The 47-year-old coach, who has one of the best career records in the business, had plenty of cause for worry. A sparkling 12-3 record was shattered on the murderous trip when the five winners were archrivals of Iba.

THE FORMIDABLE five who "point" for the duke, every year include, Dr. F. C. Phog Allen of Kansas, Ray Meyer of DePaul, Bruce Drake of Oklahoma, Fordy Anderson of Bradley and Hank's brother, Clarence Iba of Tulsa.

Another of Iba's heated rivals is peppery little Eddie Hickey of the St. Louis Billikens. Hickey, after a 48-40 victory over the Aggies last month, lashed out at the Aggies' ball-control tactics and under-the-basket "rough stuff."

A Missourian by birth, Iba was one of the first successful advocates of ball control and tedious defensive play. During his 22 years at A&M, he has tutored a number of youths who are now major coaches in their own right. And they generally teach Iba's slow, deliberate game.

AMONG THEM are Herman Millikan of Maryland, Doyle Parrack of Oklahoma City University, Floyd Burdette of Alabama, Wilbur Sparky Stalcup of Missouri and his brother, Clarence. Another of his pupils, Gene Smelser, is now his assistant.

Basketball has come a long way at A&M since Iba appeared here for the 1934-35 season, and it's still his show.

Double Bill on Wrestling Card

COMPLETE PROGRAM
Main Event—Kurt Von Poppenheim vs. Georges Dusette.
Second Main—Yorg Cretorian vs. Cowboy Carlson.
Semi Final—Dr. Gallagher vs. Prince Omar.
Opener—Galloping Ghost vs. Marcel Oulmet.
Referee—Harry Elliott.

A pair of villainous teammates who have charged discrimination because they were not permitted to meet Ivan and Soldat Gorky in a "world championship" team tilt, will vie in a double wrestling main-event at the Armory arena Saturday night. The mat meanies in question are Kurt Von Poppenheim, the "Proud Prussian," and Yorg Cretorian, the burly Romanian. They came here as a team with an enviable record, including a victory over the Parks and were "in line" for a shot at the Gorkys.

Popular demand by local fans, however, gave the Parks the nod —and the Canadians are now mythical world titleholders. Now, the foreigners want to take it out on someone, and Matchmaker Don Owen is giving them a change— in Saturday's double-barreled headliner.

Von Poppenheim will tangle with Georges Dusette', the rugged French-Canadian with the bulging shoulder and arm muscles. Cretorian will clash with Cowboy Carlson, one of the most talented grapplers in the business. It could be a rough night for the erstwhile teammates.

Owen has also arranged a sparkling supporting program, featuring the debut of Dr. Gallagher, an Ohio expert in nerve holds. He will test his talent in the semi-final against Prince Omar, a former Olympic games participant.

The show opens at 8:30 p.m. with a one-fall skirmish between the "Galloping Ghost of Hudson Bay" and Marcel Oulmet, the poker-faced Frenchman.

Who Says Football Is More Rugged Than Basketball?

MORGANTOWN, W. Va. — (U.P.) — A specially designed face mask, reminiscent of the football season, will protect the handsome profile of Mark Workman if the West Virginia University basketball star is able to take the floor against Clemson here Friday night.

The six-foot, nine-inch center, West Virginia's all-time high scorer, suffered two fractures of the sinus bone, a black eye, a badly bruised cheek and a chipped tooth last Friday in WVU's victory over Washington and Lee.

Oregon NAIB Tourney Scheduled for Portland

PORTLAND—(AP)—The annual Oregon small-college basketball tournament will be a four-team affair at the Central Catholic High School court here March 3-4, Chairman Jim "Mush" Torson anonunced Wednesday.

It is the Oregon district tournament for the National Association of Intercollegiate Basketball. The winner qualifies for the N.A.I.B. tourney at Kansas City.

Torson, whose Portland University team will be favored to win the Oregon playoff for the fourth straight year, said his team has not been selected for the tourney. A committee of coaches will make the selections later.

Willamette is the only team assured entry so far. Willamette is a cinch to finish first or second in the Northwest Conference. Another Northwest Conference team will be named, plus two at-large teams.
