Elmira UHS Board Looks Over Plans

ELMIRA—At a recent special meeting of the board of directors of Elmira Union High School plans for three new class rooms were discussed and Robert Wilmsen and Charles Endicott were hired by the board to be the architects for the addition.

They have developed a master plan of future construction with the possibility in mind that the present building may be used as a junior high school or as a junior high for grades seven, eight, and nine if it is possible to build a senior high school building later. The new report cards which are the combined efforts of the teachers and the high school Parent-Teacher Association were given out last week. Students whose names appear on the honor roll are:

Seniors: Grant Gardner, Harold Wilmsen, and Norman Hockley; Juniors: Myrtle Hansen, Emily Hornbeck; Sophomores: Barbara Copple, Leslie Hughes, Phyllis Knight, Doris Brown, Dean Perkins, Donna Ruby Stogdill; Freshmen: Joe Angus, Gary Christian, Jerry Christian, Virginia Conn, Ardis Martin, Hazel Matthews, and Anne Nystedt.

At the recent meeting of the board of directors of Elmira Union High School, Mae Sommerville was appointed director to fill the vacancy left by his resignation of Robert W. Glenn. All teachers and employees were re-elected.

The board gave its approval to the sponsoring of the State Western District "C" Music Contest for orchestra, orchestra and choruses April 18. There will be approximately 16 schools entered in the contest and about 800 students participating.
