ly Emerges om Po Flood

ROME—(U.P.)—An area of 284,000 acres in northern Italy is slowly re-emerging from the waters that swept over it months ago. The reconstruction is complete, however. The consequences of the torrents that inundated the agriculturally rich Po Valley are now being placed into statistics as the area slowly reveals the extent of a once-prosperous region.

DATE. 123,000 acres have been washed away, along with 10,000 of 50,000 tons of sugar, 7,000 of 25,000 tons of grain and 1,000 of 1,000 tons of tobacco. Cultural damage alone is estimated to $59,400,000.

THAT, add $20,800,000 damage to industry, of which more than $11,000,000 was suffered by the sugar industry that supplied most of Europe. The destruction of public works, including roads and communication lines, is incalculable. Forty-three separate communities were destroyed during those bleak days started on Nov. 14, 1951. Seven persons were destroyed and of 100 persons left homeless, 50 still are living in barracks.

ood Suits o to Judge

PORTLAND—(U.P.)—The federal government's liability for damages in the 1948 Vanport flood was under advisement Tuesday as oral arguments in 20 suits filed against the government concluded.

Federal Judge James Alger Fee has testimony from two of trial last summer, oral arguments and several hundred pages of briefs filed before announcing his decision. The present legal action has concerned with only 20 of 112 suits brought by 2933 persons asking a total of $6,500,000 from the government as the result of damages suffered at the federal housing project in the Memorial flood. From these, the judge will determine the government's liability.

arbados Isle as No Weeds

WASHINGTON—(U.P.)—Any American weed-puller with an itchy back would envy the pullers on Barbados.

The place is a paradise for weed-pullers. There are no weeds to speak of. Barbados is a tiny sugar-producing British possession, easternmost of the Caribbean islands.

It took about 300 years to do it during that time the cultivation of nearly every arable square of Barbados has eliminated weeds and weedseed. At least, that is the conclusion of Charles Allmon, who writes about it in the National Geographic magazine.

There has been intensive cultivation. Even so, the thin soil of the island has not been depleted. People have used fertilizers, irrigation, and have taken advantage of the lack of erosion.

Even in that area, falls mostly on the heavy side from June to November. It doesn't run off. It seeps into the bedrock and "percolates" slowly. Then it comes out bubbling springs near the shore.

ool Gets New Lawn

More than three acres of lawn have been seeded at Waltherville School, E. H. Silke, superintendent of School District 19, announced Tuesday. Silke also reported that shrubs have been planted at Waltherville, Thurston Maple schools.
