Personals Hide Small Fortune

CHICAGO — (AP) — A fortune in cash and securities, all tied up in pink bloomers, stockings and a pillow case, was found Monday in a safe deposit box owned by an 85-year old widow who died five months ago.

Officials representing various public agencies found currency-in-$1 to $500 bills—totaling $12,712 in the bloomers and stockings.

The money in the pillow case will be counted Thursday.

The safe deposit box was rented to the late Mrs. Cora Drapier in 1915.

Before she died last Dec. 9 she executed a will, leaving virtually all her estate, estimated at $300,000, to her attorney, Pierre J. Pelouquin. The will is being contested by Mrs. Pearl Golab, who was left $1,000. She said she was promised $100,000. The will was admitted to probate last week over Mrs. Golab's protests.

The source of Mrs. Drapier's fortune was not definitely known.

Officials Make Million Errors

LOS ANGELES — (AP) — School Superintendent Alexander J. Stoddard has decided what should be done with 500,000 report cards that came back from the printer with misspellings.

He recommended to the Board of Education Monday that some be used as office duplicates in secondary schools and the rest, corrected by hand, be issued to elementary school students.

When the cards came out several weeks ago the "u" and "a" in "language" were transposed and the second "s" was missing from "semester." Seems the school system's proof reader hadn't noticed the errors.

Concluding his report to the school board, Stoddard said: "There are two words, 'language' and 'semester,' that we hope no one of our generation will ever misspell again."

Stoddard apparently didn't proofread his copy. It's "misspell," not "mispell."

Fatal Shot

with the state's opening statement. Luckey said the evidence will show that a shell jacket found near the girl's body was fired from a weapon later taken from the Belcher home. The state will also prove, he said, that the youth confessed the crime to police and that a second confession was wire recorded. The recording will be offered in evidence for the trial.

Luckey said testimony will show that powder burns on the girl's clothing will show the fatal shot was fired at close distance to the girl while she was picking wild flowers.

The district attorney also stated that the youth admitted to police two days after the fatal shooting that he had had relations with Mary Ellen Campbell and that he could have been responsible for her pregnancy.

ELMER ALSO told police, Luckey said, that he had planned the crime for two months.

One witness for the state was called shortly before the noon recess. He was Dana Campbell, father of the dead girl.

Under direct examination, Campbell told Luckey he was sitting in his car reading a detective magazine about 6 p.m. April 4, while his wife was nearby milking the family cow. While he was reading, he said he heard two shots, but thought nothing of them at the time.

HE RECALLED how later that evening he missed his daughter and that finally his wife went to the Belcher residence to ask Mrs. Belcher to call police.

Campbell testified his daughter had been in Fairview Home for a time and could speak only a few words and hear very little.

The father than told of the search for the girl and how the body was found in a wooded section about 200 yards from her home early on the morning on April 5.

Under cross-examination, Campbell said he did not know his girl was pregnant until after her death. He said a member of the family told him then.

CAMPBELL SAID when he and his wife first went to milk the cows, they saw Elmer working on a car in a neighbor's yard and that when they returned home about 20 minutes later, Elmer was still there.

Just as Campbell was called to the stand as the state's first witness, Attorney Frank Reid, associated with Lombard in the case, motioned that the indictment was faulty because it did not specify the words "by shooting" to explain in the charge how the defendant killed the dead girl.

Luckey told the court the words had been omitted by mistake. Judge G. F. Skipworth ruled the indictment was defective, but not "fatally defective." He overruled the defense's motion.

Numerous state witnesses were scheduled to testify in Tuesday's afternoon session.

Tornado Rips Alaskan Town

FAIRBANKS, Alaska — (AP) — A small tornado roared through the suburban community of Graehl near here Monday, tearing roofs, tossing automobiles and scattering debris throughout the area.

There were no reports of injuries, but witnesses reported the twister narrowly missed five-year-old Kathleen Carey who was playing in the yard of a home which lost its roof.

The little girl said she heard a loud roar "and then there was so much dust I couldn't see."

The tornado was the first reported in the territory to have caused damage.

At least half a dozen houses were damaged by the tornado, which struck shortly before noon.

Young Mother Jailed For Drink

PORTLAND — (AP) — Mrs. Florence Robinette, a 20-year-old mother of a baby boy, was sentenced to 30 days in the city jail Monday after she pleaded guilty to a charge of being a minor in possession of beer.

Officers said she told them she was separated from her husband and was arrested by a liquor commission agent while she was drinking beer in a tavern Friday night.

The sentence was handed down by Municipal Judge J. J. Quillin.

Two other under-age persons appeared before him on similar charges Monday. One drew a $25 fine and a suspended jail sentence. The case of the other was continued for sentence.

Mrs. Robinette's 3-year-old son is being cared for by her mother. "I know I broke the law and I should be punished, but I didn't expect to get so much jail time for it," Mrs. Robinette said.

Shortage of Potatoes May Last Till June

SEATTLE — (AP) — The existing potato shortage in the Pacific Northwest may last until the middle of June because expected shipments from southern states have been held up by a weather-hampered harvest.

Frank Bruhn, of the Seattle price stabilization office, said the southern crop normally is on the market before the preceding crop is consumed.

OPS intends to keep spuds under price ceilings until supplies are back to normal, Bruhn said.

Gas Barrage Ends Strike

ANGOLA, La. — (AP) — A gas attack on 1-3 convicts broke a four-day hunger strike at Camp H of the state penitentiary here Monday.

Supt. D. D. Bazer, who led some 25 prison foremen and convict guards into the camp dining room to seize 25 ringleaders, said, "the strike is broken."

Bazer, who had previously ignored the strike, said he led the march on the dining hall after he received appeals from some "innocent sufferers" in the camp, including some elderly men who were feeling the effects of meager food.

The white convicts in the camp which houses first offenders went on strike five days ago protesting long working hours in the prison's sugar cane field.

Last Polar Flight Opens Secrets

ANCHORAGE, Alaska — (AP) — The daring North Pole Air Force plane-landing party has uncovered more of the Arctic's secrets.

One, a cache left by the Rear Adm. Robert E. Peary expeditions in the early 1900s, had laid hidden nearly a half century.

Others, scientific secrets, are as old as the Arctic itself.

The Air Command told Monday of more of the work done by scientists and observers on the historic flight May 4 in which Lt. Col. William B. Benedict, of Paradise Cove, Calif., landed a C-47 and took off three hours and 10 minutes later from the geographic North Pole.

These were some of the results: The depth of the ocean below the ice was determined by a neis-mograph echo sounding at 14,150 feet.

Dr. Albert P. Cray and his assistant, Robert Cottell, of the Cambridge Research Center, Cambridge, Mass., bored a 10-foot hole in a thick ice floe and dropped two pounds of TNT and exploded it in the experiment.

The annual spring thaw was opening great cracks in the pack ice forming the polar ice cap.

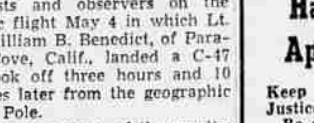

M-Sgt. Edison Blair, Los Angeles, said new leads varying from a few feet to several hundred feet in width were opening on every side of the ice flow upon which the C-47 sat.

It was only by sheer coincidence, Sgt. Blair reported, that such an area, roughly a half mile in size, was free from the pressure ridges at the geographical pole.

When you pay your telephone bill, about 28 cents of each dollar goes for excise, income, property and other taxes.

How much tax in your telephone bill?

When you pay your telephone bill each month, an important part of your money is set aside to be passed on in taxes to the Federal Government and to state, county and city governments. Naturally, we expect to contribute our fair share of the cost of government...but because taxes now account for such a large portion of the cost of service, we feel we should report about them to you who, as telephone customers, have to pay them.

To give you some idea of the size of Pacific Telephone's tax bill, it is estimated that the total excise and operating taxes on your telephone service in 1951 could have supported all the 131 schools of higher education in the State of California. For these taxes came to more than $152 million. To put it in terms of the average telephone, this is $35 per telephone per year...$2.92 per month. Twenty years ago the average was 53 cents a month.

Your telephone is one of today's best bargains

In spite of sharp increases in taxes, wages, materials and other costs of providing service, we've been able to hold down the prices you pay for service...hold them so low, in fact, that the telephone today is one of the best buys in any budget.

THE CAMERA CORNER

By LYMAN COBURN

Landscape shooting is the order of the day... whether you're off for a vacation... or just hanging around town.

This is the season when camera enthusiasts are hitting the by-ways in search of interesting pictorial material for the old family album. Here again... it doesn't pay to "shoot 'em wild."

You have to stop and think before you aim your camera and snap the shutter. Look into the ground glass. See what objects you can LEAVE OUT to make the picture complete and interesting. That's the first rule.

Be sure the picture isn't divided in half (half land and half horizon). Then watch your lighting. Shadows are important in landscapes... to bring out foliage, textures and to give your picture depth. When you put people into your landscape shots, be sure they emphasize the point of interest. Don't just stand 'em in front of a grand view and shoot. It's a sure way to kill your shot. Follow these simple rules and you'll get top results from your outdoor shooting this summer.

We take a personal interest in your camera problems... and by offering you the best in photographic supplies... the newest in equipment... we're able to guarantee the top service all the way.
