

War on Insects Increased in U. S.

By FRANK CAREY
 Information and distribute it nationally. A few have already gone out.
 The idea of a weekly national report is that state still free of a pest occurring in a neighboring state will be promptly alerted against it and that manufacturers and suppliers of insecticides will know the location of danger zones where insecticides will be needed.
 Dr. Avery S. Hoyt, chief of the Bureau of Entomology and Plant Quarantine, says: "We believe that timely reports of insect development could save millions of dollars in crops and livestock damage each year."

HE SAYS HE believes the set-up offers an opportunity to detect "new species" of insects before they gain sufficient foothold to become an economic hazard.
 Kelvin Dorward, who is in charge of the new federal division, says while it is designed primarily as a peacetime measure, it "makes it possible to have the wheels geared up in case biological warfare defense is ever necessary."
 Dr. M. R. Clarkson, who coordinates all defense activities of the agricultural research administration, including defense against possible biological warfare, says that "so far, fortunately, there has been no evidence of any intentional introduction of insects or germs affecting plants or animals" although "we've run down thousands of suspected cases."

Quits Laxatives - finds amazing relief

"Had tried method after method to relieve constipation, until I lost faith," admits New Jersey woman. "Then I started to eat Kellogg's ALL-BRAN daily and was amazed at the fine results!" Delicious ALL-BRAN may bring back your youthful regularity if suffering has been due to lack of bulk in diet. It's the only type ready-to-eat cereal that supplies all the bulk you may need. ALL-BRAN is rich in iron, high in cereal protein, provides essential B and D vitamins. Not habit-forming. Eat 1/2 cupful of Kellogg's ALL-BRAN daily; drink plenty of liquids. If not satisfied after 10 days, send empty carton to Kellogg's, Battle Creek, Mich., and get DOUBLE YOUR MONEY BACK!

Food Eases in Columbia

PORTLAND — (AP)—The rising Columbia River eased off Monday after climbing past flood stage in the Vancouver, Wash., area.
 The river inched above the 15-foot flood level there Saturday and it was up to 16 1/2 feet Monday, but little rise was expected the next two days.
 Time Fisher, river forecaster, says a slow rise would begin after reaching 17.7 feet by Saturday.
 Only low pasture lands are flooded at that level in the Vancouver area. Flood stage in the Grand harbor is 18 feet.
 There was no flooding elsewhere.
