

Review Refusal In Collazo Case Decision Practically Dooms Conspirator

WASHINGTON — (AP) — The Supreme Court Monday all but doomed Oscar Collazo to the electric chair for his part in trying to assassinate President Truman. The high tribunal refused to reverse Collazo's first degree murder conviction.

That means the fiery Puerto Rican Nationalist will be put to death here on a date yet to be set unless Truman himself commutes the sentence.

Truman has intervened in at least seven capital punishment cases since he became President in 1945 but has been bitter about the death of the White House policeman in the assassination plot.

Collazo, now 38, was convicted of the slaying of a White House police private, Leslie Coffelt, who was shot when Collazo and a companion Griselio Torresola, tried to storm their way into Blair House Nov. 1, 1950.

Truman was taking a nap in a second floor bedroom of the temporary presidential residence at the time.

Torresola was shot to death by the dying Coffelt. Collazo was wounded but recovered fully.

Although Torresola was the actual killer of Coffelt, Collazo was held to be a co-conspirator and therefore equally guilty under the law.

Winning Rose From Portland

Mrs. Nat Schoen of Portland won the Grand Sweepstakes at Eugene's seventh annual Rose Show Saturday and Sunday at the Garden Club. Her entry was the "Peace", a pink variety relatively rare in this area.

Runner-up for the grand prize was Curtis Mumford of Corvallis with a McGredy's yellow specimen.

Mrs. Earl Wells placed among the top winners with the best Astoria rose and N. A. Broeren was awarded the prize for the best Peace rose.

E. A. Danielson, general chairman for the event, reported that approximately 2,000 entries were exhibited at the show this year, which included 479 specimens and 18 arrangement entries.

More than 300 ribbons were awarded to divisional winners in addition to silver trophies and numerous prizes contributed by local nurserymen and merchants.

Corvallis Asks Rose Entries

Corvallis is inviting rose growers from Lane County and other parts of the Willamette Valley to compete in its free rose show this Saturday and Sunday.

Fourteen trophies beside ribbon awards are being offered in the annual event, sponsored by the Corvallis Men's Garden Club.

There are separate classes for experienced amateurs, for beginners and 4-H Club boys and girls.

Now schedules listing the various classes are available at the Corvallis Chamber of Commerce.

Entries must be brought to the Roosevelt School in Corvallis on Millomath Road and 13th St., between 7:30 a.m. and noon Saturday.

The show will be open to the public without charge from 2:30 p.m. to 10 p.m. on Saturday and from 10 a.m. to 6 p.m., Sunday.

Pinay's 'Get Tough' Policy Has French Reds On Run

By PHIL NEWSOM
United Press Foreign Analyst

The French Communists have been handed a bloody nose and there is reason to hope a few more solid punches will be landed in the next few days.

The Reds appear to have overplayed their hand in their demonstrations against the arrival of the new NATO commander, Gen. Matthew B. Ridgway, and to have given the French government precisely the opportunity it was awaiting.

France's poker-faced, right-wing Premier Antoine Pinay has signalled he is ready for the showdown.

IT IS A COURAGEOUS move on the part of the little tannery owner who has given France its strongest government since the end of the war.

He jailed Communist Party Boss Jacques Duclos, who has been described as the most powerful Red outside Russia, and his security forces swooped down on party headquarters throughout France to seize tons of secret party documents.

It was real cloak and dagger stuff.

First the swift arrest of the party boss as he sat in his darkened automobile with blackjack and pistol on the seat beside him.

Then the coordinated raids on the headquarters — the battle through barricaded steel doors, hand-to-hand fighting in the black corridors by the eerie light of flashlights, the seizure of forged military seals and the printing equipment for making false documents, and finally the tons of material which may prove a plot against the security of France.

BY THE RAIDS, the Pinay government hopes to uncover the hidden Reds who have been able to tip off the Kremlin to France's secrets.

It hopes also to remove the threat of internal upheaval which only about 500,000 Reds have been able to hold over the heads of 42,000,000 other Frenchmen.

The French Reds, once comprising the most powerful Communist Party outside the Soviet Union, will not give up without a fight. But it long has been apparent their strength in France is on the wane. Membership has fallen from around 1,000,000 to half that and French workers have shown increasing reluctance to obey political strike orders.

The last big Communist move was the "general" strike of Feb. 12, and it was a dismal flop. In France, the Reds have followed their usual "boring from within" tactics. They have been strong in the unions and there have been reports that they have infiltrated the civil aviation network which could be dangerous in time of war.

HOWEVER, they have failed in
