

VLT Rehearses Comedy Harvey

Mary Chase's popular comedy, "Harvey," has been cast by Very Little Theatre Director George Hebert, and is now in rehearsal for early showing.

As presently scheduled, "Harvey" will open at the Hilyard St. showhouse Wednesday, Oct. 15, for a ten-day run.

Box office opening date will be announced later by Mrs. A. B. Holeman, box-office chairman. However, Mrs. Holeman said the box office hours will be changed this year, with tickets to be sold at the theatre only between 1 and 5 p.m. on the days the box office is open.

The sets for "Harvey" are under construction and lighting details are being worked out.

Members of the cast now in rehearsal are Genevieve Tugman, Billie Harned, Mrs. A. B. Wilson, Phyllis Kirkpatrick, Beth Taylor, Charles Geary, Kenneth Griffith, Wayne Stone, Henry Korn, and Dwight Newman. Newman is also assistant to Director George Hebert.

Season ticket sales are also underway, and no season tickets will be sold after the close of the ten-day run of "Harvey."

gue, which opens Sunday at the Heilig Theatre.

A constant stream of shooting, killing and treachery runs throughout the film set in the west of the early mining days.

Natural outdoor settings are beautiful and serve as a welcome respite from the violence and brutality.

"Duel at Silver Creek" concerns the loyalty of a young discharged deputy who saves the life of the town marshal when he is betrayed by a young woman working with a band of claim jumpers.

"The Ten Commandments" is a classic, "The Ten Commandments," produced in 1923, the first feature picture to be filmed in Technicolor and the first of the biblical spectacles, was an outstanding popular success.

The screen story of the new picture will be based not only upon the account of the life of Moses as contained in the Bible, but also upon the accounts in the Torah, the Koran, the Books of Josephus and other ancient writings, as well as the modern best-seller, "Prince of Egypt," by Dorothy Clarke Wilson and authentic research, much of which has been unearthed since World War I.

I feel that the subject of Moses and the Ten Commandments is particularly timely today," Mr. DeMille said. "Not only does it provide all the ingredients for exciting and spectacular motion picture entertainment for mass audiences of all ages throughout the world, but it is in line with the spiritual re-awakening of all nations of the free world in these troubled times."

"The Juggler" is Stewart's second film for Kramer, his third with Douglas. He was also featured in the New York company of "Mr. Roberts" and directed "Twilight Walk" for the stage while starring in his own radio show, "Rogues Gallery."

Paul Stewart Joins Kirk Douglas Again HOLLYWOOD — The trio of names that contributed to making "Champion" a boxoffice smash four years ago—Stanley Kramer, Kirk Douglas and Paul Stewart—will be reunited in the Kramer film for Columbia, "The Juggler."

Stewart has been added to the cast to portray Karni, the sympathetic Israeli detective who pursues Douglas in his flight across the new State. In "Champion," Stewart played Douglas' fight manager and in the recently completed "The Bad and the Beautiful" he is Kirk's press agent.

"The Juggler" is Stewart's second film for Kramer, his third with Douglas. He was also featured in the New York company of "Mr. Roberts" and directed "Twilight Walk" for the stage while starring in his own radio show, "Rogues Gallery."

Joey Walsh Plays Boy in "Juggler"

Hollywood—Another junior star zooms his career skyward with the announcement from The Kramer Company that 14-year-old Joey Walsh will play the plum role of the Israeli boy, Yehoshua, in the Columbia picture, "The Juggler," to be filmed partially in Israel.

Joey, a top New York television performer, will play scenes throughout the picture with Kirk Douglas, whose flight across the new nation to evade police is aided by his young Israeli guide and friend.

"The Juggler" will mark a second stellar appearance on film for the young newcomer, whose work in "Hans Christian Andersen" is touted as "great" by no less an authority than Danny Kaye.

ROUGH SPORT HOLLYWOOD

The busted bone circuit — rodeos to the uninitiated — is up in arms over Wald and Krassa's "The Lusty Men" for RKA. Picture is the first one that doesn't glorify this so-called "sport" which, percentage-wise, injures more participants than any other sport—including boxing and football.

TYPICAL? HOLLYWOOD

Jean Simmons was asked by co-star Victor Mature on the set of RKO's "Break-Up" how she liked American Baseball. Jean's reply, "Oh, I think the hot dogs, peanuts and soda pop are wonderful but there is one thing I just can't understand. How can some of the fans eat so much popcorn!"

Film Chores Keep Mickey Off Stage

HOLLYWOOD—Mickey Rooney, who is currently co-starring with Dick Haymes in Columbia's Technicolor musical, "All Ashore," has been approached by Mel Ferrer to star in a West Coast stage production of the Lindsay-Crouse New York hit, "Remains to Be Seen."

Rooney had to turn down the deal because of his heavy schedule of film commitments.
