Employ a Child For Odd Jobs; Help Missions

Juveniles of the local Congregational Church have an annual observance of a nation-wide custom in their denomination: At this time of year, Nov. 28, Saturday, they have a "Christ Work Day," during which they do odd jobs for friends, neighbors, church members, or the public, and the householder, instead of paying the child, turns the money over to the Congregational Church mission funds.

Persons having jobs for this purpose may phone the church office, 5-8741, or Mrs. Sam Huston, 5-1863, not later than Friday, Nov. 27.

Locally Made Religious Movie Has Dr. C. C. Roberts, Others

A world premier showing of the movie "Where Do Ministers Come From?" will be at the First Christian Church, Eugene, 7:30 p.m., Sunday, Nov. 22.

This short 16 mm production in color with sound was recently filmed on the campus of Northwest Christian College and at the Springfield Christian Church. Producers and directors are Mr. and Mrs. E. L. Whisler who are graduates of this college and who now have two children enrolled at N. C. C.

Playing the leading role in the picture is Billy Weeda of Santa Ana, Califirnia, a senior at N. C. C. Playing opposite him in much of the picture is Jo Anne Flanders, N. C. C. sophomore from Ellensburg, Wash. Donnaclaire Dawson, a Freshman from Caldwell, Idaho, has an important role.

Dr. C. C. Roberts, pastor of the Eugene First Christian Church, is "the minister" in the picture. Other supporting roles are played by Mr. and Mrs. Victor Herhiser and Mr. and Mrs. E. M. Eldridge.

Various members of the Northwest Christian College Faculty present items of interest that enter into the training of a Christian minister. Dr. Ross J. Griffeth, President of N. C.C., through a chapel service, provides information relative to the significance of the Christian College.

The story of youthful romance is drawn directly from the life of the leading young man, concerning his commitment to the Christian ministry and his influence upon his parents.

The premier showing of the picture at the Eugene First Christian Church is to be carried out much after the fashion of a Hollywood premier. Leading players will be introduced and interviewed. A bit of glamour will be added to make this a gala event.

Northwest Christian College was chosen for this filming of the picture, which will be shown in churches throughout the United States and Canada, because this College has the largest enrollment of young people preparing for full time Christian service of any college maintained by the Disciples of Christ. While the story is to challenge young people to prepare themselves for church vocations, it calls attention to the total value of a Christian education. Some street scenes in Eugene and of the University of Oregon campus help to locate the place of production.

Nov. 29, one week after the Eugene premier, the picture will be shown in twenty other Christian churches through the nation. The advance requests for showing the picture indicate that the picture will be seen in several thousand churches during its lifetime. All parts are played by amateurs.
