French, Rebels Hurl Barrages

HANOI, Indochina (U)—The Vietminh and the French kept up their violent artillery duel at Dien Bien Phu Friday but there still was no resumption of massed rebel infantry charges trying to overwhelm the French Union's northwest Indochina fortress.

Under a full moon and a star-studded sky and on the morning the shelling and heavy French air strikes on the rebel positions kept up around the clock.

Some ground contacts Thursday were reported but they were only clashes between advanced French forces and small rebel units on the south and southwest fringes of the French-held plain. Some of these came within 250 yards of French command posts.

The defenders still anticipated another major Vietminh effort on the northern entrance to the heart of the fortress. The Vietminh hold hill positions in the northern perimeter they captured from the French early this week in the battle which began last Saturday.

Some French sources speculated Thursday that the continuing artillery barrage might be covering a Vietminh withdrawal, that Vietminh Gen. Vo Nguyen Giap might have had enough after losing an estimated 12,000 dead or wounded—one fourth of the force he is believed to have in the area.

But a French army spokesman said Friday night the Vietminh still were rushing supplies by coolie train and truck up to the area, indicating another mass assault was in the offing. The rebels broke off the desperate charges Wednesday night.

As the artillery duel raged, French fighters and bombers strafed, rocketed and fire-bombed the bulk of the rebel forces concentrated just north and northeast of the 6-by-4 mile oval plain. They knocked out a string of rebel gun emplacements and showered fire bombs on a convoy of trucks moving up to the northern part of the plain, presumably carrying fresh war equipment to bolster the next charge.

APPEALS IGNORED
Throughout the day the French parachuted fresh troops, ammunition and war supplies to the besieged defenders. They were still confident they could continue to mow down any further mass assaults and wreck what has become the biggest Vietminh effort of the stalemate, seven-year Indochina war.

During Thursday the Vietminh ignored French radio appeals to permit empty transport planes to land on the Dien Bien Phu airstrip and evacuate wounded. They shelled and damaged one transport as it landed, wounding a French medical officer.

West German Army Okayed

BONN, Germany (U)—West Germany took the final German parliamentary step Friday to legalize the raising of a 500,000-man army for Western defense. But not a man probably will get into uniform until France approves.

The Bundesrat, parliament's upper house, approved amendments to the constitution specifically saying it is legal for West Germany to join the six-nation European Defense Community and to raise armed forces by drafting men over 18.

NEED ALLIED OKAY
Six of the nine states whose ministers compose the Bundesrat approved the amendments, giving the necessary two-thirds majority.

The amendments already had been approved by the lower house, the Bundestag. Before becoming law they need the signature of President Theodor Heuss and approval of the three occupying Western Allies.

The important foreign affairs committee of the French National Assembly already has voiced its disapproval of the constitutional changes, urging the French high commissioner in Germany to veto them.

FORMULA DRAFTED
The Allies presently are working out a formula to give assurances they will not approve such amendments permitting the re-arming of this former enemy country unless France and the other countries which still have not done so ratify the EDC.

Belgium completed ratification of the EDC last week and The Netherlands did so in January. France, Italy and Luxembourg still have taken no action.

France's main stumbling bloc to ratification is the powerful opposition on the left and right spurred by inherent French fear of the rebirth of German militarism.

Fist Fights Erupt Along Waterfront

NEW YORK (U)—Hundreds of extra police patrolled New York's vast waterfront amid crackling tension Friday as Mayor Robert F. Wagner sought to halt strike violence.

Fist fights broke out again at a pier on the Brooklyn dockfront, scene of previous clashes between striking and non-striking longshoremen.

However, no one was hurt and there were no arrests. Despite the mayor's pledge to protect all dock men who want to work, there was activity at only a handful of the big port's piers. Strike costs in two weeks already total millions.

Wagner called out extra police chiefly to combat what he called "goon squads" of strikers roving the waterfront and causing trouble. He declared this was going to be halted.

Wagner says he will call for state and federal assistance if necessary, but feels confident that city authorities can restore law and order.

Leaders of the trucking industry have asked Atty. Gen. Brownell for federal action to revive operations in the port—"if necessary, through the use of United States troops."

The New York Shipping Assn., representing 170 shipping and stevedoring companies, appealed to President Eisenhower for "emergency congressional action to end the strike which has crippled the port."

OUTLAW STRIKE
The outlaw strike by members of the International Longshoremen's Assn., now in its 15th day, has shut down a major part of the docks on the New York and New Jersey waterfront. Numerous injuries and arrests have occurred in recent days in clashes between ILA pickets and members of the rival AFL-ILA who went to work.

Members of the ILA, who struck March 5, say they will stay off the job until their union is certified by the National Labor Relations Board as bargaining agent for the harbor's 24,000 longshoremen. The AFL-ILA also is seeking certification.

IS IT ENOUGH?

Are you sure your Automobile Personal Injury insurance is adequate? It may be—but is it? Some time this year you may be motorist in some of the 32 states (including California and Washington) that have no statutory death limits. If you were sued for more than your policy protection, would you blame your agent?—Maybe you would! High limits cost so little more you should give it serious consideration.
