Prince Shocked by Death of Pilot Who Flew Him

PORT WORTH, Tex. (AP)—Prince Bernhard of the Netherlands, under criticism in his homeland for flights in jets, said Thursday he was "shocked and grieved" to learn the test pilot who flew him through the sonic barrier had been killed in a crash.

The prince, apparently irked by criticism in the Dutch press, had said there was little danger flying faster than sound. The crash which killed the test pilot a few hours after his command noted, however, that pilot Joseph A. Lynch Jr., of Canada, Calif., was reported "doing a slow roll close to ground" when the TF86 jet crashed near Las Vegas, Wednesday.

"When I flew with him we did acrobatics only at a very high altitude," said the prince.

Opry to Play At McArthur

A troupe of entertainers from the Grand Ole Opry show will be in Eugene Tuesday for an 8 p.m. concert in McArthur Court.

Among them will be Minnie Pearl, Roy Acuff, T. Texas Tyler, Dot and Smoky, the Smoky Mountain Boys and other top entertainers who have entranced music lovers in all parts of the nation.

Minnie Pearl, the inimitable story teller, has been billed as the top attraction. She will tell of people she knew as a girl in Centerville, Tenn. A 14-year veteran of Grand Ole Opry, Minnie Pearl twice has toured Europe entertaining members of the armed forces.

Perhaps as well known as Minnie Pearl is Roy Acuff, who is not only a talented musician but also a gifted writer of several plaintive hit tunes. Acuff, a native of Tennessee, grew up determined to play pro ball for the Yankees. But he got a sunstroke, and learned to play the fiddle instead. Thus armed, he ran for governor of Tennessee on the Republican ticket. He lost.

Acuff is widely acclaimed for his "Great Speckled Bird," "Precious Jewel," "Wabash Cannon Ball," and "Sweeter Than Flowers." He is also the author of "Crash on the Highway," a tune that has not been heard so much lately.

Comic relief will be provided by Lonnie Wilson, better known as "Pap," who heads up the jug band. Pete Kirby will also provide laughs as "Bashful Brother Oswald."

The serious side will be presented by T. Texas Tyler, whose songs, such as "Remember Me," "Beautiful Life," "I Love You Because," and "Beautiful Morning Glory" have become smash hits. He is also the author of the very sad "Dad Gave My Dog Away," and the deeply religious "Deck of Cards."

GASTONIA, N.C. (AP)—M/Sgt. C. E. Strickland, Army and Air Force recruiting officer here, thinks he made some sort of record when he enlisted Benjamin F. Green of Lowell, N.C., in the Army. PICTURE PREVIEWS

"Saskatchewan," Universal-International's Technicolor film about a Royal Mounted inspector who defies an order of his superior officer in order to prevent an Indian massacre, will play at the Heilig Theater through Monday.

It is an intensely absorbing Western, laid in the Canadian Rockies in the 70's and boasts fine scenic photography and a story of rugged action.

Alan Ladd plays the Mounted Police inspector, Shelley Winters is the female lead, the innocent victim of a murder charge. There is real J. Fenimore Cooper quality in a sequence in which the Canadians and the girl escape down the lake in canoes, hotly pursued by the wild Sioux Indians.

Starting later in the week at the Heilig will be the U-I Western in Technicolor, "Ride Clear of Diablo." It stars Audie Murphy, Abbe Lane, Susan Cabot, and Dan Duryea, and is the tale of a young railroad surveyor who returns to his home to avenge the killings of his father and brother.

"Red Snow" will accompany this film. Guy Madison, Ray Mala, and Carole Mathews co-star. Mala plays the part of Sgt. Kooovuk of the Alaskan Air Command and who is sent to investigate mysterious lights from an Eskimo island. During the venture, an enemy plane crashes and mysteriously explodes.

Kooovuk learns the identity of the strange cargo and is promoted. At the McDonald Theater, the Cinema Scope screen will continue to carry the Technicolor film, "Beneath the 12-Mile Reef," through March 27.

This is the spectacular underwater film about sponge harvesting, and includes many beautiful scenes of the country off the coast of Florida.

Co-stars are Terry Moore, Gilbert Roland, Robert Wagner. There is rivalry between the harvesting ship crews, who are striving to outdo the others in their harvest. Roland portrays Mike, the captain of the "Aegli," and Wagner is his son, Tony. They go to the 12-mile reef to gather valuable sponges, where
