Bisque Doll Among Wares, Antique Show

As the date nears for the annual Antique Show in Eugene, reports are coming in from dealers of what articles they will place on exhibit. One local dealer has informed the committee she will include several articles of antique furniture. There will be marble-topped tables, one having a top of pink marble; also a chest and commode with top of marble. There also will be a mahogany drop-leaf table, a small Victorian tufted chair, and several pieces made of maple and pine.

This dealer also has some interesting primitives and miscellaneous items, such as two old Paisley shawls; old linens, one of which is a banquet-size cloth, and others are red-and-white damask, fringed, with matching napkins. Such primitives as a brass boat bell, old English tea kettles and copper bellows, copper police lantern and a pair of old carriage lamps, are the sort of things modern builders seek. She also will display a French bisque doll, circa 1865, dressed in original attire.

Besides these items, the Eugene woman promises a display of old colored glassware, including Amberina in deep Fuchsia shade; some fine old milk glass; a pair of Bristol vases in turquoise, and much cut glass. China will include some old Staffordshire pieces.

The show will take place Wednesday and Thursday, March 31 and April 1, in the Masonic Temple, 10th and Olive Sts., sponsored by the Star Club of Evangelical Chapter, Order of Eastern Star, Luncheon, dinners and tea refreshments will be served.
