

Gasoline Alley

BILL PERRY 5-2

It's awfully cold out, Judy. I wish you wouldn't try to go out there today.

I'm the only one in the family who hasn't seen the cottage!

But those country roads are awful and you can't make it in that old lizzie of yours.

You mean my "Baby Doll"? I'll show you!

We haven't a heater, but with side curtains and a wool lap robe it's not bad, eh, Judy?

I'm comfy.

And "Baby Doll" is rolling along like Ol' Man River!

Of course, we still haven't hit those bad roads.

Two hours later

I knew it..... Okay, I'll be out to get you, Judy, and I'll bring some gas

You never can tell what's going to happen to that jalopy of Judy's, but something always does!

There they are and they're about frozen stiff.

Here's the gas, Judy. So where's the car?

Well, you see, like you said, the roads are bad and we couldn't make it up the hills—

But we could see the cottage right across the lake, which was frozen over, so —

We figured a straight line was the shortest distance between two points so —

Judy, I said where's your car?

There!
