Disabled Vet, Lost 9 Days, Found Unhurt

NORTH BEND, Wash. (AP)—A Seattle fisherman, lost for nine days in the primitive Cascade Mountains 13 miles southeast of here, was found alive Monday, weary and hungry but otherwise unharmed.

Bearded James Stolberg, 31, a Navy veteran who has a 70 per cent disability rating because of arthritis, said he wandered some 30 miles over brush-covered mountains with nothing but berries and small fish to eat.

He left his Seattle home July 4 on a fishing trip. When his car was found parked on the Sunset Highway near an old fire trail July 5, a massive search began.

Stolberg said he had followed the fire trail to its end and had started through dense brush toward the trail leading to Mason Lake. He lost his bearings and when found was some 16 miles from the lake.

His wife Ann had the final word: "He's not going fishing again—except in the bathtub at home. That is, not unless he takes me along."

LOS ANGELES (AP)—Salesman J. N. Gikin, 49, was booked on suspicion of forgery Monday after giving a $5 check for two tickets to the police show. Police said the check bounced.

Kites, Bikes In Park Plans

This is Flight and Cycle Week at Willamalane Park in Springfield.

But unlike most other Weeks, it has nothing to do with mayor's proclamations and speeches.

It has to do with kids flying kites and balloons and pumping bikes.

All week long things will be up in the air with kite contests and exhibitions. The largest kite scheduled for a trip aloft is a 7-foot boxkite.

Hydrogen-filled balloons will be released bearing notes with names and addresses of participants. There will be a prize for the one whose note is returned first.

Main event on the cycle end of the week will be a bike hike Friday to Armitage Park. Lunches will be taken and eaten at the park. There will be a nature walk and games. Participants must be at least 10 years old and have permission of parents, according to Clayton Anderson, park director.

Assault Case Opens

COQUILLE (AP)—Trial of Frank Stanziano of Coos Bay on a charge of assault with intent to kill got under way in circuit court here Tuesday. He is accused of shooting his wife last May at her apartment. She recovered but one of her legs had to be amputated.

School, Park Meeting Set

Members of Springfield's school board and park and recreation board will dine together Tuesday evening and then discuss several disagreements.

Willamalane Park directors say that the school district's summer music program is in part a duplication of the park's activities. They also object to the school district's attitude toward summer use of school athletic facilities.

The meeting was suggested by Willamalane directors, an invitation accepted by the school board men, who believe misunderstandings of factors involved are responsible.

The meeting will be in Willamalane's Memorial Building at 7 p.m.
