

Democrat Wants Charges Culled

WASHINGTON (AP)—Sen. Stennis (D-Miss) said Saturday a committee set up to study censure charges against Sen. McCarthy should concentrate on a relatively few accusations, eliminating "fringe" charges against the Wisconsin Republican.

Stennis, a member of the six-man inquiry group, said the 46 charges—many of them overlapping—must be culled vigorously before an actual investigation begins.

"It is my belief that these charges must be reduced to a relative few that relate directly to McCarthy's conduct as a senator," Stennis said.

Sen. McCarthy Says Foes 'Lack Guts'

CHICAGO (AP)—Sen. Joseph McCarthy said Saturday the Senators supporting a censure move against him are "nice little boys" who "don't have the guts" to do the job he is doing in fighting Communists.

The Wisconsin Senator, addressing a convention session of the Illinois American Legion here, cited the case of Mrs. Annie Lee Moss, suspended Army employee, as evidence he is on the right track in his anti-Communism campaign.

McCarthy said the army had suspended Mrs. Moss a second time because she "had a Communist party card." The Army did not disclose the reason for the second suspension but Mrs. Moss' attorney said at Washington Friday she had been given Communist Party membership book No. 37269 for 1943, but he was convinced she was unaware her name was entered in it.

Sen. Ralph Flanders (R-Vt) in demanding censure of McCarthy, cited the Moss case as one piece of evidence of McCarthy's alleged victimizing of innocent persons.

Former POW In Jail Waiting Murder Trial

LEXINGTON, Tenn. (AP)—A former Korean prisoner of war, his dream of being sheriff shattered, sat quietly in a cell Saturday awaiting trial on a charge of murder.

James A. Cogburn, 33, a disappointed candidate who started shooting after the vote went against him, was trapped by a massive posse near here yesterday.

His brother, 31-year-old Roy, wounded by two state highway patrolmen during the manhunt, was in fair condition at a hospital in nearby Jackson, Tenn.

A third man, James Chadwick, 35, of Knoxville, Tenn., surrendered meekly. He caught a ride with Cogburn while hitchhiking some weeks ago and stayed on when promised a job as deputy sheriff.

The manhunt was ordered after a wild gunfight in which Lexington Patrolman Arthur Gurley, 50, was killed and Police Chief Clovis Stanfill critically wounded.

The early-morning battle occurred in front of the courthouse—where election officials were tallying the vote which showed James Cogburn running a poor third in the Henderson County sheriff's race.

Cogburn, after his capture, told officers the violence exploded over "dishonest politics."

Police officers said James Cogburn had been acting "peculiar" ever since he was released from a Korean prison camp to find that his wife, believing him dead, had remarried.

She later divorced Cogburn and remarried her "extra" husband.

Tunnel Owner Denies Charge

DODGEVILLE, Wis. (AP)—Kenneth Crook, 38, a Lone Rock, Wis., farmer, has denied that he was illegally trying to treat the sick who have flocked to his "uranium tunnel."

Crook told Deputy Attorney General Stewart Honeck at Dodgeville, that he did not try to diagnose the ailments of hundreds of persons who have come to his "tunnel." "I'm no doctor and I can't tell what they got," he said at a hearing Friday before Court Commissioner Frank Hamilton.

The state is seeking to close Crook's 16 foot, open ended enclosure near here. It is packed with what Crook says is low grade uranium ore in leatherette cushions.

Copter to Use New Device

OTTAWA (AP)—Canada's navy plans to form an anti-submarine helicopter squadron, using "dunking sonar" to track the undersea craft. Informants said the helicopters will hover close to the ocean surface and lower the sonar listening device beneath the waves. If they hear no subs, the sonar is wound up and the aircraft moves to another spot.

So far the navy hasn't been able to find the helicopter for the job. It needs one that can carry more equipment—depth charges as well as the sonar—and with greater endurance than the present models.

The Canadians expect U. S. manufacturers to come up with the answer.

POISON KILLS EIGHT DOGS FOR BLIND—Trainer John L. Sinykin, of Minneapolis, Minn., wipes tears from his eyes as he holds the head of Sir Lancelot, one of eight German shepherd dogs killed Saturday by poisoned wieners tossed over their kennel fence. Fifteen other dogs are being treated by veterinarians. Th dogs were trained to guide blind persons. "This is the most inhuman act I've ever seen," said Sinykin who has trained 800 dogs for blind persons since 1926.

Fake-Telegram Conviction Upset by Court of Appeals

SAN FRANCISCO (AP)—Ruling that "no burden of proof is on the accused regarding an alibi," the U. S. Ninth Circuit Court of Appeals Friday reversed a Seattle Federal Court conviction of Thomas E. Thomas of Seattle on charges he impersonated a U. S. Senator.

Thomas was convicted of sending a telegram to the warden of the Washington State Penitentiary at Walla Walla signed "Sen. Warren D. Magnuson" ordering a stay of execution for convicted slayers Utah and Turman Wilson Jan. 2, 1953.

INITIAL IN ERROR
Magnuson's middle initial is "G."

Thomas' appeal from the Seattle court decision was based on what he contended were errors in instructions to the jury which found him guilty.

The indictment charged that Thomas on Jan. 2, 1953, phoned

Pilot Borrows Friend's Name

Decorated Officer Cleared by Court

SAN DIEGO, Calif. (AP)—A decorated Navy officer was free by court-martial verdict here Saturday of any official misconduct in flying through two wars and putting in 14 years service under another man's name.

The mother of the man whose name he used said she was glad.

Lt. Cmdr. Edwin Stanley Conant, veteran of Gen. Chennault's Flying Tigers in China, of Navy service in World War II and of Korean combat, was acquitted at the end of a one-day trial Friday.

PLANS TO STAY IN

He said he planned to continue his Navy service under the name of Conant—borrowed from a former college friend—but that his two children probably would resume using the name of Perry.

They are living with their grandfather, William R. Perry, who testified his son was John Francis Perry, born in 1912 in San Francisco.

The son had used the identification of Edwin Stanley Conant, born in 1915 in San Diego County, in entering the Navy as an air cadet in 1940. He had been dropped from an Air Force flying school and needed new papers to enter the Navy training.

Mrs. Stanley F. Conant said at the family's Lakeside home that the two were very good friends while attending San Diego State College.

INTERESTED IN LAW

Perry borrowed her son's name and birth information, she said.

Both men are now interested in law, a fact which led to the court-martial when the California State Bar noted identical names and other information on applications for registration as students.

The Lakeside Conant is studying law at Loyola University, Los Angeles.

Officer Conant was planning a correspondence course in law.

The court-martial accepted legal opinion there was nothing wrong in using an assumed name with no intent to defraud.
