

Importance of UN Charter Emphasized in Talk for Quota

The Nations charter and importance of this year in the U.N. was the subject of a talk by Dr. Edna ... assistant professor of Foreign Relations, is holding hearings in cities all through the midwest and is heading west, Dr. Landros noted. From these hearings, Sen. Wiley will make a definite statement to be presented to the General Assembly in 1955.

The General Assembly will decide whether the U. N. will continue to operate outside the charter or to make the charter conform, according to Dr. Landros. "If we continue as we are, getting farther from the charter, there soon will be no restraints," she said.

Dr. Landros emphasized that the question before the General Assembly in 1955 will not be the six points, which she enumerated, but consideration is to be given to the divergence between what the charter provides and what we are doing.

Music Teachers Learn About Public Schools

Eugene-Springfield Chapter of the National Guild of Piano Teachers met for its first fall session at the home of Mrs. F. O. Stronach Monday at 8:15 p.m.

Mrs. Cecelia Nelson, elementary music consultant for Eugene School District, was guest speaker. Purpose of her talk was to give the private music teacher a better understanding of the music instruction being given now in the Eugene public schools in order that the public and private teachers might better coordinate their teaching.

Mrs. Opal Thorpe was introduced as a guest.

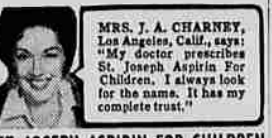

Following the brief business meeting, Mrs. L. J. Black assisted Mrs. Stronach in serving refreshments with a Halloween motif.

Next meeting will be during the week of Nov. 15 to which interested piano teachers will be welcome. Anyone wishing to attend this meeting may contact Mrs. A. A. York, general chairman. The exact date and place will be announced later.

Other members present were Mrs. Betty Peterson, Mrs. Warren Price and Mrs. Kenneth Stiggins.
