Jury Acquits Packing Heir
LOS ANGELES (AP)—Handsome George Hormel II, piano-playing scion of the millionaire meat-packing family, was acquitted by a jury Wednesday of a marijuana-possession charge.
A packed, partisan courtroom cheered the verdict clearing the 26-year-old Hormel, former husband of Leslie Caron, his mother, Mrs. J. C. Hormel of Austin, Minn., threw herself sobbing into her son's arms.
The jurors apparently believed young Hormel's story that he had been framed and tricked into a confession by narcotics officers. He was arrested last Sept. 19 after officers said they found a bundle of 13 marijuana cigarettes in his car.

Five Germans Held For Slaying Red
BERLIN (AP)—The arrest of five persons accused of murdering a local Communist union leader in Soviet-occupied East Germany was reported Thursday by Communist police.
The Weimar newspaper Das Volk quoted an announcement by the Erfurt police saying the killing was the latest in a series of attacks on Communist leaders in their area and added the murderers were influenced by the example of American gangsters.

Negro Blocked
WASHINGTON (AP)—The District of Columbia Bar Assn. has rejected a move to admit Negro and other non-white attorneys to membership. Officials announced a move to eliminate the word "white" from membership requirements had failed by 18 votes to obtain the needed two-thirds margin.

FAMOUS BROTHERS—Eddie Cole (seated), currently featured at Piluso's, and his brother, Nat "King" Cole, got together briefly last week when their trails crossed in Hawaii.

Cole Brothers Cross Trails; Eddie Appearing at Piluso's

Eddie Cole, currently appearing at Piluso's through next week.
"Three Loose Nuts and a Bolt," had one of his rare visits with his brother, Nat "King" Cole last week when their trails crossed in Hawaii.
Eddie was homeward bound after completing a tour of Japan and Honolulu and Nat was bound for a series of engagements in Australia.
Eddie is interrupting his U.S. vacation for his local appearance—the seventh he's made at Piluso's.
Son of a Baptist minister in Montgomery, Ala., Eddie is the oldest of four brothers and a sister. He was the first to get in the entertainment business after the family moved to Chicago, joining Noble Sissle's orchestra at the age of 16.
"After I paved the way, it wasn't too hard for dad to relent when Nat decided to join an orchestra, too," said Eddie. "Dad wanted at least one of us to become a preacher, but instead we all turned out to be musicians."

Abdullah to Have Car Auctioned Off

HOUSTON (AP)—It looks like Houston playboy Sheppard (Abdullah) King will be fresh out of a Cadillac Jan. 20.
The car of the former husband of Egyptian belly dancer Samia Gamal is to be auctioned on that date by court order.
The order followed a suit against King and his partner in an unsuccessful restaurant venture, Albert Geo.
Contractor Kenneth L. Pennick claims the partners failed to pay him for renovating the restaurant.

Expresses Concern
HIROSHIMA, Japan (AP)—Prime Minister Ichiro Hatoyama said Wednesday he has received a personal message from U. S. Secretary of State Dulles expressing concern over the future of Japan, Kyodo News Service reported. The Premier refused to disclose details of the communication.
