Crucial Series May Decide Division Race

The Northern Division basketball leadership, and possibly the championship will be at stake at McArthur Court Friday and at Gill Coliseum Saturday when the OSC Beavers (4-0) and the Oregon Webfoots (5-1) meet in the opening of a four-game series. The two teams split last season when OSC won the title. Game time will be 8 p.m.

The Oregon Frosh and OSC Rooks play preliminaries both nights, starting at 5:45 p.m. here and at 6 p.m. Saturday. The two teams split the four-game series last season.

Some 1,500 general admission tickets were placed on sale at 5:30 p.m. Friday. There will be no knockout section.

There is considerable speculation regarding the status of Wade Halbrook, 7-foot, 3-inch OSC center, dismissed from the Beaver squad by Coach Slat Gill earlier in the week.

Coach Bill Borchers' plans for the series will differ greatly, depending on the appearance of Halbrook.

Borchers' starting lineup is certain to be Max Anderson at center, Jim Loscutt and Ray Bell, forwards; Howard Page and Phil McHugh, guards. Gill's lineup will likely be either Halbrook or 7-foot Phil Shadoin at center, Reggie Halligan and Jay Dean, forwards; Larry Paulus and Ron Robbins, guards.

Coach Paul Valenti's OSC Rooks are riding a five-game winning streak, while Don Kirsch's Oregon Ducklings have a 2-1 record. Kirsch's starters are expected to be Bob Faris and Dave Wanaka, forwards; Paul Tucharat, center; Wendy Rasor and Wimp Hastings, guards.

Oregon Mat Squad at WSC

Oregon's varsity and freshman wrestling teams travel to Washington State Saturday for their stiffest competition of the season and the Duck swimming team will be at home for a non-conference meet with the Multnomah Athletic Club as part of the heavy winter sports schedule.

Coach Bill Hammer's matmen will be underdogs in the match with the Cougars, despite their current undefeated status. The varsity has posted wins over Lewis and Clark College and Multnomah Athletic Club, while the Ducklings have defeated Vancouver, Roseburg and Klamath Falls high schools.

The varsity mermen will be going to the post for the second time this season, having finished third in the annual Oregon AAU meet at Portland last weekend. The MAC paddlers won that meet and should be favored to repeat here in the dual match, starting at 1:30 p.m.

Larson With Cards

CHICAGO (AP)—Officials of the Chicago Cardinals Friday were searching their mail for the signed contract of Quarterback Paul Larson. The University of California star revealed Thursday he had signed a $13,000 contract for the 1955 National Football League season, but Cardinal officials said it had not yet been received.

FISH TALES

—By DICK STRITE

28 Register-Guard, Eugene, Ore., Fri., Jan. 21, 1955

★ The annual merry-go-round on fishing regulations for the 1955 season—and the inevitable proposal of lifting the 14-inch size limit on trout taken on the McKenzie. . . . We have talked many times with Chris Jensen, resident biologist for the Oregon Game Commission, regarding the advantages of the size limit and the killing of brood trout. . . . The limit has been on for four seasons and the residents of the McKenzie feel that the regulation has resulted in little, if any increase in the trout population. . . .

Jensen, who is a professional in the fish business, still feels that the limit is advantageous—and his best argument is his conviction that 50 per cent or more trout taken originate from natural propagation. We must go along with Jensen and his ideas and at the same time sympathize with residents of the McKenzie, the guides and the resort owners. . . .

There is no question that fewer out-of-town vacationers are coming to the McKenzie, but their absence is more a matter of not being able to show-off a big fish rather than the actual catching of the fish. There is still nothing illegal about hooking, playing and catching a Redside of 14 inches or larger. The angler can still have the fun. Economically, it is best to keep the brood trout in the river in view of the fact that it costs about $1 or $1.50 to put a hatchery trout into the creek. . . .

Trout fishing on the McKenzie last season was poor, but not because the 14-inch limit has failed to produce the wanted results. . . . For the last two years, during the change in hatchery operation, only 16,000 or 17,000 pounds of fish have been planted. The previous year 30,000 pounds went into the river. . . . That makes quite a difference in the creek count. . . .

The decrease in angler population on the McKenzie may not be entirely the fault of the 14-inch limit. . . . Opening of the Detroit and Lookout Point reservoirs, where fishing has been excellent and will likely be again this season, has had its toll. Then again, there are many who have taken up salmon fishing. . . .

Maybe Howard Vandin, who lives on the McKenzie along the riffle just below Eagle Rock, has the answer: "Close the river to all fishing, except to me. I'll do experimental angling." Seriously, Howard feels that the big mistake is to transport McKenzie Hatchery fish to the Willamette and Willamette Hatchery fish to the McKenzie.

★ Fishing regulations will not be definitely set until the final meeting Jan. 28, but a bus-load of McKenzie residents will carry considerable weight when the final rules are drafted. . . . Almost certain to be approved will be the 20-20 limit on salmon or steelhead, making possible the catching of 40 steelhead in one season, but no more than 20 salmon in the 40-fish limit. . . . If the new limit is passed maybe there will be more honest reports from the punch cards. . . .

Steelhead fishing has been slow on the Siuslaw recently and most of the blame is placed on a herd of sealions at the mouth of the river. . . . Archie Barnes, veteran "Vinemapple Savage" guide, estimated that 75 per cent of fish taken in the Siuslaw are marked and damaged by the sealions. . . .

We know some of the boys who used to control this matter by using rifles, but it is illegal to shoot sealions. Off the Rogue and Umpqua, past the three-mile limit, the sealions can be killed. . . . If the sealions are actually threatening the run of steelhead in the Siuslaw, it seems likely the Oregon Game Commission could call an emergency to eliminate the pests through the federal government. . . .

The Game Commission did a study on the Rogue, finding that the sealions did considerable less damage to steelhead and salmon than at first believed. . . .

Art Gerlach of Newport, Game Commission man, said that he had received no reports on the Siuslaw sealions, which are protected by the Federal government. He believes, however, that usually most damage to steelhead and salmon is done by hair seal rather than sealions—which are not given as much protection. The hair seal is found far upstream, but usually not beyond tidewater.

Bethel Registers Win Over Westfir

WESTFIR—J. D. Dye poured through 38 points for the Westfir AAU hoop squad here Thursday night but it wasn't enough as the Jensen-Poissant Bethel team from Eugene came back strong to garner an 88-77 non-league victory.

Westfir led throughout the opening minutes but trailed 46-41 at the half. The score was knotted for the seventh time at 49-49 just after the second half opened and Bethel began to draw steadily in front from this point.

Barney Holland led the Bethel scoring with 20 points, followed by Chuck DeAutremont with 14.

Furman Cager Leads College Scoring List

NEW YORK (AP)—Major college basketball had a new scoring leader this week, Darrell Floyd of Furman, the school that produced the No. 1 point getter last season.

Floyd, a junior who took over the high scoring duties after Frank Selvy graduated, is collecting points at an average of 35.1 per game. A week ago Ohio State's Robin Freeman led with a 35.1 average, but he slipped this week to 34.9, the NCAA Service Bureau reported Friday. The figures are through games of Jan. 15.

Freeman had held the No. 1 spot since the start of the season, but Floyd began closing in two weeks ago. He has scored 228 points in his last six games, an average of 38 per contest. Last week in three games Floyd scored 109 points while Freeman had 33 in one game.

Floyd has helped make Furman the nation's No. 1 offensive team, with an average of 98.3 points a game. A year ago Furman ended the season with a record 91.7 a game.

In third place with a 32.0 average is Virginia's Buzz Wilkinson, who leads all scorers with 512 points in 16 games.

Swede's Saga: Almost Joins Buchan's Club

CORVALLIS (AP)—Swede Halbrook, the 7-foot, 3-inch basketball center, rejected an offer to go to an A.A.U. team Thursday, but still did not rejoin the Oregon State team.

He said he had decided to remain at Oregon State, but it appeared almost certain that he would not play in the crucial series against Oregon for the Coast Conference Northern Division lead this weekend.

A Seattle A.A.U. team made plane reservations for Halbrook to go to Seattle to talk over the possibility of joining the team there.

Just before the time to depart, Halbrook appeared at the basketball court and talked privately with Gill.

Gill said later that Halbrook had decided to remain in school, but did not ask for reinstatement on the team. Gill said Halbrook could not come back until he asks for reinstatement and gives assurance that he will meet the expected standards.

For his part Halbrook said he had attended classes Thursday, as he did Wednesday. About rejoining the team, he said only, "That's entirely up to Mr. Gill."

The Seattle A.A.U. team was identified as the Buchan Bakers.

Frank Fidler, the Baker coach, said before Halbrook decided to stay on the campus, "We certainly want him if he plans to leave school, but we have no intention of trying to induce him to leave Oregon State if he wants to continue his education."

DETROIT PAIR PACE BOWLERS

CHICAGO (AP)—Two Detroit, Mich., bowlers led the field Friday as the second day of finals play began in the All-Star Match Game Championships.

Tom Hennessy piled up a total of 80 Peterson points in the first four rounds on the Coliseum alleys. A fellow member of the world title holding Detroit Stros, El Lubanski, was in second place with 77.22 points at the end of the day.

The Peterson point system will be used throughout the rest of the national individual game bowling championship battle. One point is awarded for each 50 pins and another point for each game won.

Defending champion Don Carter, St. Louis, wound up in 10th place with a total of 71.49 points.

The big surprise in the women's championship play was the relatively poor showing of Marion Ladewig, the defending title holder from Grand Rapids, Mich.

She has been the absolute ruler of the women's class since its inception in 1949, but Thursday she finished in seventh place with 34.18 points.

Theresa Wirtzberger, Louisville, Ky., with 37.43 points, had a narrow margin for first place over Sylvania Fanta, Chicago, who had 37.38 points.

Beau Jack Wins First Return Bout

COLUMBIA, S. C. (AP)—Showing little of the whirlwind style of attack that brought him the world lightweight championship (New York version) 12 years ago, Beau Jack opened his comeback campaign here Thursday night with a 10-round unanimous decision over Eddie Green.

In contrast to his old swarming style, Jack, now 33, fought flat-footed most of the way. He won the nod from referee Ray Moore 97-95. Judge Ben Harper scored it 99-95 and Judge Dom Fucci 98-93.

The Beau weighed 147 to 159 for the 27-year-old Green.

Lewiston Names Layne as Manager

LEWISTON, Idaho (AP)—Veteran minor-leaguer Hillis Layne Thursday was named player-manager for Lewiston in the new Class B Northwest Baseball League.

Layne, 35, a third baseman with Seattle in the Pacific Coast League in the 40s, was manager at San Angelo in the Class C Longhorn League last season. He succeeds Larry Barton as Lewiston manager.

49ERS GET JUMPER

SAN FRANCISCO (AP)—Tom Stohlanske, all-America end from the University of Texas in 1952, has signed with the San Francisco 49ers for 1955, the club announced Thursday.

GW Posts Second Hoop Upset Triumph

The upset streak finally has been upset in college basketball. George Washington's ninth-ranked Colonials, who earlier this week had a hand in one of the numerous form reversals, took charge of Virginia Tech in fine style 96-60 Thursday night.

That closed out a string of upsets among the nation's top 10 teams that had knocked off four kinglys in three nights this week.

Illinois, No. 7 in this week's Associated Press poll, was jolted by Iowa Monday; second-ranked North Carolina State and sixth-ranked Maryland were dropped by North Carolina and George Washington, respectively, Tuesday, and Kansas State surprised eighth-ranked Missouri Wednesday.

George Washington was the only high-ranking team on the job last night. Even among the unranked teams things went as expected. Colgate defeated Cornell for the second time this season 63-57, Tulsa scored a 48-42 victory over Oklahoma City U. Wichita spilled Seattle 74-71 and Texas A&M beat Louisiana State 58-47.

George Washington smothered Virginia Tech with a field goal show that bettered 50 per cent. Joe Holup and Corky Devlin, holdovers from the Colonials' 1953-54 Southern Conference champs, each scored 28 points.

Colgate had to scramble against Cornell's Ivy League leaders, who led 16-0 at the start and 35-22 at the half. Colgate perked up in the second half and took the lead with 2½ minutes left.

Tulsa Coach Clarence Iba, who favors the possession style of his brother Hank at Oklahoma A&M, played it close to the vest against Oklahoma City in a game that marked up 37 fouls. Bob Patterson, Tulsa's scoring leader, was bottled up by a two and three-man defense and got only eight points.

Wichita had a 40-36 halftime lead then had to shafe off Seattle with a rally in the final two minutes.

Tampa Open Led By Mickey Wright

TAMPA, Fla. (AP)—Hard-working Mickey Wright, in her first year as a professional, showed the veterans the way by two strokes going into the second round of the $5,000 Tampa Women's Open Golf Tournament Friday.

The tall blonde from San Diego was the only one in the field of 149 to break par 75 for the tough Palma Ceia course Thursday, coming in with 35-39-74.

Four veterans were tied at 76—Babe Zaharias of Tampa, defending champion Betty Rawls, Spartanburg, S.C.; Jackie Pung, Honolulu; and Beverly Hanson, Indio, Calif.

Another group, bunched at 77, was composed of Louise Suggs, of Sea Island, Ga.; Fay Crocker, Whitestone, N.Y.; and Marlene Bauer, Sarasota, Fla.

Pat Lasser, Seattle, and Mary Lena Faulk, Thomasville, Ga., tied for low amateur honors at 78. The veteran pro Patty Berg also came in with 78.

Basilio, Mueller In TV Match

SYRACUSE, N. Y. (AP)—Crowd-pleasing Carmen Basilio risks both a 10-bout unbeaten string and a promised shot at the welterweight championship Friday night in a battle with mad-cap Peter Mueller, the German middleweight slugger who once kayoed a referee.

Odds-makers figure Basilio a 3-1 favorite for the nationally televised and broadcast 10-rounder at War Memorial Auditorium. It was sold out last Monday.

National Hockey Loop In Two Team Race

The Boston Bruins obviously aren't playing favorites in the National Hockey League pennant race.

Milt Schmidt's skaters knocked the Montreal Canadiens out of first place Sunday night and then walloped the Detroit Red Wings, 3-2, Thursday night.

Aided by the Bruins' latest upset victory, the Canadiens climbed back into a tie for the lead by whipping the Toronto Maple Leafs, 6-2, with the help of a three-goal burst by Maurice Richard.

Lakers Over Hawks

SHREVEPORT, La. (AP)—The Minneapolis Lakers staged a terrific third quarter rally to defeat the Milwaukee Hawks 97-90 in a National Basketball Assn. game Thursday night.

Bolt Captures Tourney Lead On 64 Score

SAN DIEGO, Calif. (AP)—Tempestuous Tommy Bolt of Texas led the way into the second round of the $15,000 San Diego Open Golf Tournament Friday on the heels of a remarkable round of 29-35-64 over the flat, windy Mission Valley Country Club course. Par is 36-36-72.

The journey toward the $2,400 top money remained hazardous, however, for the 34-year-old Houston professional, who banged out seven straight birdies from the opening green on Thursday.

One shot back was a stranger to headlines, Paul McGuire of Wichita, Kan. This 26-year-old pro could be tough, and his score of 31-34-65 was remarkable in view of his comparative inexperience in tournament play.

Four strokes back of Bolt were Art Wall, Doug Ford, Bud Holscher, Shelley Mayfield and Henry Williams.

The pre-tournament choice, Gene Littler, had a 36-33-69. He was grouped with eight others, notably National Open king Ed Furgol, Johnny Palmer and Canada's Stan Leonard.

Skowron to Rejoin New York Yankees

NEW YORK (AP)—Bill Skowron, who may be the New York Yankees' regular first baseman this season, has signed his 1955 contract.

As a rookie in 1954, Showron batted .340 in 87 games to lead all Yankee hitters. The 195-pound former Purdue football player mailed his contract from Austin, Minn.

The 24-year-old righthand batter is the 20th Yankee to sign.
