

Pictorial Review of the News

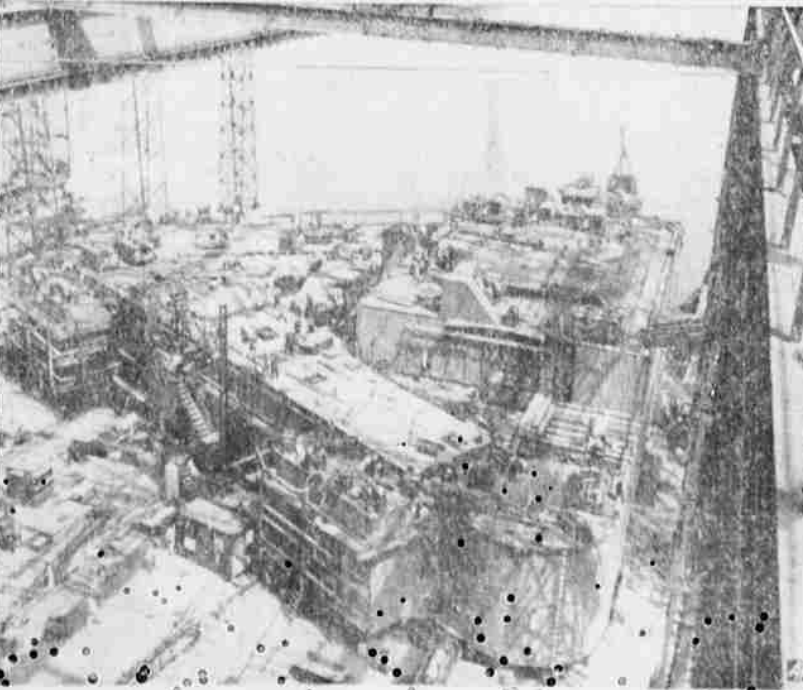

BOYS: REMAIN 'SINGLE'—It happened in Indianapolis—but it could happen anywhere, even here in Eugene. It's the old story of three boys riding one bike at the same time and an oncoming truck. The boys were critically injured, lucky not to be killed outright. Patrolman Lloyd Imel examines the smashed bike, Indianapolis Traffic Capt. Audry Jacobs promptly announced police would seize the bikes of any youngsters caught riding double or triple. "It's deadly," he said.

FATHER'S CAR KILLS BOY—A stunned father, Herbert Hankemeir (left) whose car had just backed over his little boy, shields eyes with his hands as ambulance attendants prepare to rush the son, Daniel, 2, to St. Elizabeth's Hospital at Appleton, Wis. Hankemeir was backing out of the driveway when the accident occurred. The child was dead of a skull fracture on arrival at the hospital.

IT MIGHT HAVE BEEN DIFFERENT—Joanne Wilson, a polio victim for whom development of the Salk vaccine came to late, watches her friend, Roslyn Feigenbaum, get an anti-polio shot, at New York City. Approximately 22,000 school children, roughly 71 per cent of those scheduled for their initial inoculations, showed up to get their shots.

SEA RADAR TOWER NEARS COMPLETION—The first of the offshore radar, plane-detecting towers is nearing completion at the Ford River shipyard at Quincy, Mass., and will be launched soon. The huge, glauco-brown steel platform, weighing 2,000 tons will be towed to sea and placed in position on a barge in the ocean on Georges Bank, about 110 miles east of Cape Cod. The towers will take the form of a gear chain, strung along the Atlantic coast from Norfolk, Va., to New Brunswick, distance of 1,000 miles.
