

BUGGY DAZE—The past met the present in LaPorte, Ind., recently when a horse and buggy driven by Frank Hitesman, 75, of nearby Pinola, Ind., came to town on a visit. Both Hitesman, bewhiskered but spry, and the stallion, Golden Dawn, seem puzzled by a parking meter which hardly resembles the old hitching rack. Hitesman used it anyway when told how the contraption worked. He admitted it has been some time since his last visit. (NEA).

Foreign Aid Tagged As No 'Giveaway'

WASHINGTON — Adm. Arthur W. Radford said Monday American military aid to other free nations is an act of self-interest, recognizing that this country alone can not "match the Communist bloc in manpower."

Radford testified before the House "Foreign Affairs Committee" in support of President Eisenhower's request for $2.5 billion dollars in foreign aid next year, including $1,400,000,000 in military assistance.

The 59-year-old Radford, recently appointed to a second two-year term as chairman of the Joint Chiefs of Staff, said the foreign aid program is not a "giveaway" but "on the contrary is essential and realistic from our standpoint."

"One basic fact which cannot be disregarded is that the United States alone does not have available, nor could we maintain on active duty for an indefinite period, the forces necessary to match the Communist bloc in manpower at every possible point of aggression around the globe," he said.

The admiral appeared briefly in open hearing to read a prepared statement. The Foreign Affairs Committee then went into closed session to question him in secret.

Some committee members had indicated in advance they would question the unspecified portion of the military funds, plus 40½ million dollars in economic aid, earmarked for Yugoslavia in the year beginning July 1. The congressmen were critical of this aid in light of Tito's recent meeting with Kremlin leaders.

Also likely for stiff questioning was the $5 million dollars earmarked as economic aid for India and some aspects of assistance for the Near East.

Some senators said Sunday they regarded testimony which Radford gave to the Senate Armed Services Committee last week as discounting the theory that recent "peace" moves by Russia and Red China might indicate internal weaknesses or domestic difficulties.

Radford said he did not foresee any deterioration in Russia's stability nor in its hold on the satellites, and he added that "Communist China is likely to continue vigorous and cohesive, with ever increasing strength."

Dad Might Appreciate A Household Present

By SAM DAWSON
Of The Associated Press

NEW YORK — Father has been having an exciting and heady year. And now they're giving him a day Sunday.

Newspapers are full of store ads urging a material expression of admiration and affection for the nation's dads. And this year the variety of items is wide and wilder than ever.

But maybe some merchants are missing a bet. Dad has changed in more ways than just in the color of his plumage.

Some time back women discovered that the way to solve the problem of the disappearing servants class was to initiate husbands into the mysteries of house-keeping rites. So it's as likely to be the man of the house who dreams of an electric dishwasher as it is to be the wife.

Washing machine salesmen might do well too to watch a trend that could develop fast. This summer various textile firms are bombarding the market with fabrics for wash-'n-wear clothing. They assure Dad he can dunk one of these suits with ease and after it's dry wear it with aplomb.

The next short step is for the husband who never before has given thought to the family wash to be led firmly into the utility room of his ranch house for instructions about washing his own suit. And then, of course, he might as well do the family wash while he's about it.

When he isn't in the kitchen, today's father is likely to be in the garage or the basement trying to turn out the book shelves or patio furniture desired by the little woman—almost invariably a great believer in the do-it-yourself movement for husbands.

The market for tools, paints, lumber and maybe Geiger counters should offer a gold mine for Father's Day promoters.

If it's the standard items of apparel you want to give father Sunday, the stores are full of them this year, both in variety and depth. But you may find that father's appearance is changing these days.

Executives of a leading suit and accessories chain report that in the last year or so the shift in men's notions of how they should look has shaved two inches off the shoulders of business suits, trimmed lapels down to 3½ inches, and tightened trousers at the knee by one-half inch.

Even greater changes have come in the weekend appearance of the American male—walking shorts, fancier sport shirts and, this year, flamboyantly colored slacks.
