Top Golfer Tells Golf Widows to Learn the Game

By DOROTHY ROE
Of The Associated Press
NEW YORK (U.P.)—Advice to golf widows: Don't sit at home and think up cutting remarks to make to your par-happy husband. Instead, get a set of clubs and go out on the links yourself. This is the advice of Betty

Jameson, one of America's ranking women pros, twice winner of the National Amateur Golf Tournament and once winner of the National Open. Though she is not married, Betty has observed the eternal war waged between golfing husbands and nongolfing wives. She thinks the whole thing could be cleared up if the little women would discover for themselves the fascination of the fairways. She has, however, a word of warning:

"Never let your husband teach you to play golf, any more than you'd let him teach you to drive a car or play bridge. It just doesn't work. Sign up for lessons with a regular pro, and learn the game right."

More women are playing golf today than ever before, says Betty, and once they are exposed to the game they usually become more rabid on the subject than their husbands. She estimates a million of the country's four million golfers are women—and their number is growing every day. Betty is a natural-born golfer from San Antonio, Tex., who gained numerous amateur records before turning pro and hitting the tournament circuit. She was working as a reporter on the San Antonio Light when she was offered a pro job and has made all the women's pro tournaments for the last three years.

WASHINGTON LETTER

Rep. Green Sponsors Equal Pay Bill in House

By JANE EADS
Of The Associated Press

WASHINGTON (U.P.)—Rep. Edith Green (D-Ore.) has high hopes for the women's equal-pay-for-equal-work bill she has just introduced in the House.

The bill calls for men and women to be paid the same for work of comparable character, requiring comparable skills. Mrs. Green says it is designed to remove a "serious injustice to both men and women workers in our nation."

The Congresswoman, serving her first term in the House, says she intends to seek support for the bill on a bi-partisan basis and to ask for hearings before Congress adjourns.

"I believe that action by Congress on this matter of elementary justice is long overdue," she says, "and that my bill should have the support of all men and women of good will."

HELP FAMILY INCOME

Rep. Green explained that the more than 18½ million women currently employed, nearly one-third of our civilian labor force, are not working for pin money or as casual, temporary employees.

"In the large majority of cases, they either support themselves or they are indispensable supports to a family income," she said. "They are workers in their own right and are entitled to the same privileges and rights as male workers. I think it is high time that in all instances women workers are treated with full and equal employment rights."

Development of the bill, she explained, was carried out in consultation with the National Committee for Equal Pay, composed of a number of leading women's organizations, including the American Assn. of University Women and the National Assn. of Business and Professional Women, of which she is a member. Labor and religious groups are also represented in the committee.

SAME SALARY

Rep. Green commented that she herself is not involved in any such payroll problem on Capitol Hill.

"Women members of Congress get the same salary as do the men," she said. "Heaven help the man who'd introduce a bill that would give them less."

Mrs. Green is the only woman member of the Education and Labor Committee. She also serves on the House Interior and Insular Committee.
