

Tribal Chief Fired Upon In Morocco

Violence Continues In North Africa

MARRAKECH, French Morocco (AP)—Demonstrators blocked the car of the powerful old pro-French pasha of Marrakech, Fham el Glaoui, Thursday and fired a shot at him.

Unhurt, the fiery Berber chief—in his 80's—climbed out and tried to shoot back with his carbine but French police prevented him.

Moroccan police opened fire on the crowd and injured several persons. Finally the way was cleared and the pasha was driven away.

El Glaoui had just left France's new resident general in Morocco, Gilbert Grandval, who was making his first official visit to this city of 200,000 at the foot of the Atlas Mountains.

Grandval's arrival aroused widespread excitement throughout the city. Demonstrators shouted "Ben Youssef! Ben Youssef!" at him, referring to the former sultan, Sidi Mohammed Ben Youssef, whom the French deposed in 1953 because of his nationalist leanings.

Earlier Thursday, Moroccan police killed two demonstrators in a crowd which set fire to a tobacco shop.

El Glaoui is the leader of the warlike Berber tribesmen who live in Morocco's Atlas Mountains, behind Marrakech.

Over 70 persons have been killed in Moroccan rioting during the past week.

Burglars Ransack 9 Firms in County

Burglars broke into nine business establishments in Lane County Wednesday night, escaping with more than $1,000 from one firm and smaller amounts from two of the others.

The largest theft was at the Springfield Boats and Motors Co., 244 N. 39th St., where an office safe was ransacked. Other burglaries being investigated Thursday included three in the Eugene area, three in Creswell and two in Cottage Grove.

State police said the safe in the Springfield establishment had apparently been opened by someone who knew the combination. Missing from the safe was currency totaling $1,182. Checks which had been stored with the money were left on the floor.

The burglars pried open a rear door to get into the building. Police said there were no marks on the safe door, indicating that it had been opened by the combination.

Harry McGee, owner of the boat company, discovered the burglary about 6 a.m. after noticing the rear door had been left open. He lives in a trailer house next to the building. McGee told police he had not noticed any unusual noises during the night.

McGee said he had bought the safe second-hand last spring and had not changed its combination. Near Eugene, burglars attempted to steal a safe at the Fletcher Oil Co., 2574 Roosevelt Blvd., but left the safe behind after moving it out of an office.

Sheriff's officers said the burglars may have been frightened away. The safe had been rolled to a door leading to a loading platform behind the oil company.

The burglars also failed in an attempt to pry the door off the safe, sheriff's officers reported. The burglary was discovered about 8 a.m. by owner John Skillern.

Four Corners Feed and Seed Co., located at 2800 Roosevelt Blvd. across the street from the oil company, also was entered by burglars during the night.

TWO IN COTTAGE GROVE Harry Hensley, an employee of the firm, discovered the break-in a few minutes after the Fletcher Oil Co. burglary was reported. He said desk drawers had been emptied on the floor in an unsuccessful attempt to find money.

An office door was pried open Wednesday night at the Spear and Jackson Co. saw shop, 581 Garfield St., Eugene. City police said nothing had been disturbed in the building. Burton G. Heitz, an employee, reported the burglary at 7:55 a.m.

Cottage Grove Police Chief Ed Jones said Thursday that two establishments had been entered there during the night. The burglars took $11 from an unlocked safe at the Cecil Beck Motor Co. and a cash box containing $9 from the Hansen Thrift Service Station.

BOX RECOVERED Cottage Grove police recovered the cash box Thursday morning from a vacant lot, where it had been thrown after the thieves pried it open.

In Creswell, burglars pried open the doors to a Union 76 station and a Chevron station and scattered papers around the floor. Nothing was missing from either station. A similar break-in had been reported at the Union 76 station last week.

A third burglary in Creswell was reported at the Clyde Hollemon bulk oil plant. Hollemon, who is also the owner of the Union station, said nothing was taken.

Bartlett Quits County Post, Reports Say

L. B. Bartlett, Lane County road administrator, has resigned his post effective not later than Aug. 31, according to reports circulating Thursday.

Bartlett would not comment on the reports Thursday. He said he might have a statement to make next week.

Bartlett, who came to Springfield as city manager Jan. 2, 1951, resigned that position in March to fill the newly-created position of county road administrator created by the county commissioners "to improve coordination" of the road, bridge, shop, engineering and weighmaster departments.

The former city manager has indicated he would consider returning to the Springfield position if it is offered to him.

Meanwhile, A. M. (Doc) Williams, Springfield realtor, said Thursday more than 300 persons have signed petitions urging that Bartlett be rehired.

Williams said "many more names" will be obtained by next Tuesday, when the Springfield city council is scheduled to interview three West Coast applicants for the city manager position.

Lane County Commissioners were unavailable for comment on Bartlett's reported resignation Thursday.

Bomb Rocks Peron School In Argentina

Rumors Rampant In Buenos Aires

BUENOS AIRES (AP)—A bomb exploded early Thursday in front of a Peronista political school in downtown Buenos Aires, shattering windows in the vicinity and damaging a nearby automobile slightly.

There was no immediate report of any persons injured.

Police put a cordon around the area of the school, which gives courses in the principles and political practices of President Juan Peron's dominant Peronista party.

The postmidnight blast caused widespread alarm. It came after a day and night of all sorts of rumors sparked by the announcement Wednesday that the Argentine fleet had sailed on its first maneuvers since the June 16 revolt by navy and Marine Corps fliers.

Two government communiques broadcast Wednesday night by the nation-wide government radio network denounced rumor mongers and asserted, "The nation is tranquil."

Until the bomb blast, generally normal conditions had prevailed on the streets of Buenos Aires. The only unusual activity was the posting of extra guards at federal police headquarters and a few other strategic points for a few hours before dawn Wednesday.

Announcement that the fleet had to put to sea immediately recalled reports just after the June 16 revolt that dissident naval units had fled aboard two of the navy's largest ships. These reports later proved untrue. The government said recently that the navy is completely loyal, following a reshuffling of the top naval command and the arrest of three admirals charged with masterminding the revolt.

Naval authorities said the maneuvers had been planned for two months, long before the revolt. Such exercises are customary at this time of year.

Rumors circulated in Rio de Janeiro Wednesday that President Peron had resigned and that a bomb had been found in the Argentine War Ministry. A check with Buenos Aires disclosed no substantiation.

Drain's Chief, In Need, Finds Friends Indeed

MINNEAPOLIS (AP)—The police chief of Drain, Ore., found plenty of friends on the Minneapolis police force just when he needed them.

The Oregon man and his wife, Mr. and Mrs. Elmer Winslow, brought their 13-year-old son here for a heart operation. Physicians at the Variety Club Heart Hospital at the University of Minnesota said 18 pints of fresh blood would be needed for the operation next Wednesday.

Winslow knew no one here, but went to police headquarters and told his story to Inspector Pat Walling.

Word went out to the force and shortly 13 policemen had volunteered blood. Walling said he was sure the other five donors also would be found on the force.

Santa Clarans Okay District, Elect Board

Santa Clara had a new water district Thursday after residents of the area Wednesday voted nearly 5 to 1 for the proposal. There were 192 Yes votes and 41 No votes cast in the election.

Five directors were elected from 10 candidates. They are: Emil Solberg Jr., 171 votes; Carlyle Craig, 130 votes; A. R. Brooks, 125 votes; R. H. Ruff, 114 votes, and Julius Hult, 112 votes.

Although the proposal for establishing the district was approved Wednesday by voters, the district won't be officially in existence until the vote is canvassed by Lane County Commissioners.

The commissioners must also issue an order stating the district is duly formed.

Donald Husband, attorney for the district, said the necessary legal papers will be ready next week for the county commissioners to sign.

After the order establishing the district is issued, the five new directors must meet and elect a chairman.

The directors will draw lots to determine the length of terms they will serve on the original board. Terms will be on a staggered basis from one to five years.

Carlyle Craig, new board member, said Thursday the district hopes to receive its water from Eugene. He added, however, that water supply problems can't be tackled until after the new board meets and elects a chairman.

Lane Scheduled To Get Vaccine

Lane County will share in the next shipment of Salk vaccine, according to the National Polio Foundation and the State Board of Health.

The United Press said Thursday that the foundation has designated Oregon, Iowa, Montana and Michigan as the states most in need of the serum. The State Board of Health in turn has listed Lane, Marion and Multnomah counties as priority areas.

There was no indication when the serum will arrive, but the foundation has ordered 226,275 cubic centimeters to provide second shots for the primary grade students given first shots in May.

Japanese Doctors Protest New Laws

TOKYO (AP)—Japan's doctors Thursday took their turn at staging a mass demonstration over a law designed to separate the medical and pharmaceutical professions. Four thousand doctors, braving sweltering heat, packed a Tokyo auditorium and angrily demanded repeal of a law that would forbid them selling medicine to their patients.

The number of claims filed here stood Wednesday at 42. Since the first finds last week, there have been many prospectors in the hills.

Uranium Rock 'Looks Good'

LAKEVIEW (AP)—At least two of the uranium claims in this area have rock that "looks good" a mining engineer said here Wednesday but whether it is in commercial quantity still is undetermined.

E. A. Magill, engineer from the Seattle office of the Bureau of Mines, said the question is whether the quantity is great enough to make development worthwhile while, and considerable preliminary effort is needed to answer that.

Other Big 4 Chiefs Hail Dramatic Bid

By MAX HARRELSON

GENEVA (AP)—President Eisenhower, in a dramatic bid for coexistence, proposed Thursday that the United States and Russia give each other "a complete blueprint of our military establishments."

Each of the two major powers then would inspect by air the establishments of the other, the President told the Big Four conference. His proposal was hailed by Premier Faure of France and Prime Minister Eden of Britain. Soviet Premier Bulganin said, "We have all been deeply moved by the very sincere declaration," a French spokesman who was present reported later.

The President did not say specifically whether his proposal included atomic installations, but he did not rule them out. The presidential press secretary, James C. Hagerly, said details would be worked out.

The President's dramatic move was made at the fifth session of the summit conference.

He said Russia and the United States by this step would "convince the world that we are providing between ourselves against the possibility of a surprise attack."

This, he said, would lessen danger and help relax world tension.

Premier Faure remarked he wished all the people of the world could have been in the chamber to hear Eisenhower. If that were possible, Faure added, maybe they would realize that on July 21, 1955—Thursday—something changed in the world and the first victory over skepticism was scored at the conference.

Hagerly reported that Eden made some disarmament inspection proposals on Britain's behalf and Faure talked about budgetary controls over disarmament.

These developments came as the Big Four turned to the issue of disarmament and postponed until Friday a foreign ministers' report on their study of European security and German unification. The foreign ministers were reported in substantial agreement on arrangements to resume the talks on Germany at a Big Four foreign ministers' meeting in October.

In discussing disarmament, one of the major topics on the conference agenda, the President said he would like to address his remarks particularly to the Soviet delegation. He added he wanted to do that because both the
