

Labor Confab Opens Monday in Medford

Oregon State Federation of Labor's 53rd annual convention will open at the Craterion Theatre in Medford Monday, July 25, and will continue for five days. Sessions are open to the public.

The first two days will be devoted almost entirely to invited guest speakers, J. T. Marr, executive secretary, has announced.

The secretary's annual report will be in the hands of delegates when the convention opens. President J. D. McDonald will make his report on Monday following ceremonies of welcome by city officials.

SCHOLARSHIP PROGRAM

The Federation's scholarship program will occupy the Wednesday morning session. The three winners of $500 college scholarships for 1955 — Carol Allen, Portland; Gary Wheeler, Salem; and Stanley Culy, Medford — will receive their awards at that time.

Convention committees will meet Wednesday afternoon to consider resolutions introduced during the first two days.

The final two days will be devoted to convention business.

action on resolutions, and will conclude with nomination of officers.

Tuesday evening a panel of labor attorneys — Donald Richardson, James Landye, Paul Bailey and Herbert Galton — will discuss the situation facing Oregon workers under the anti-picketing statute.

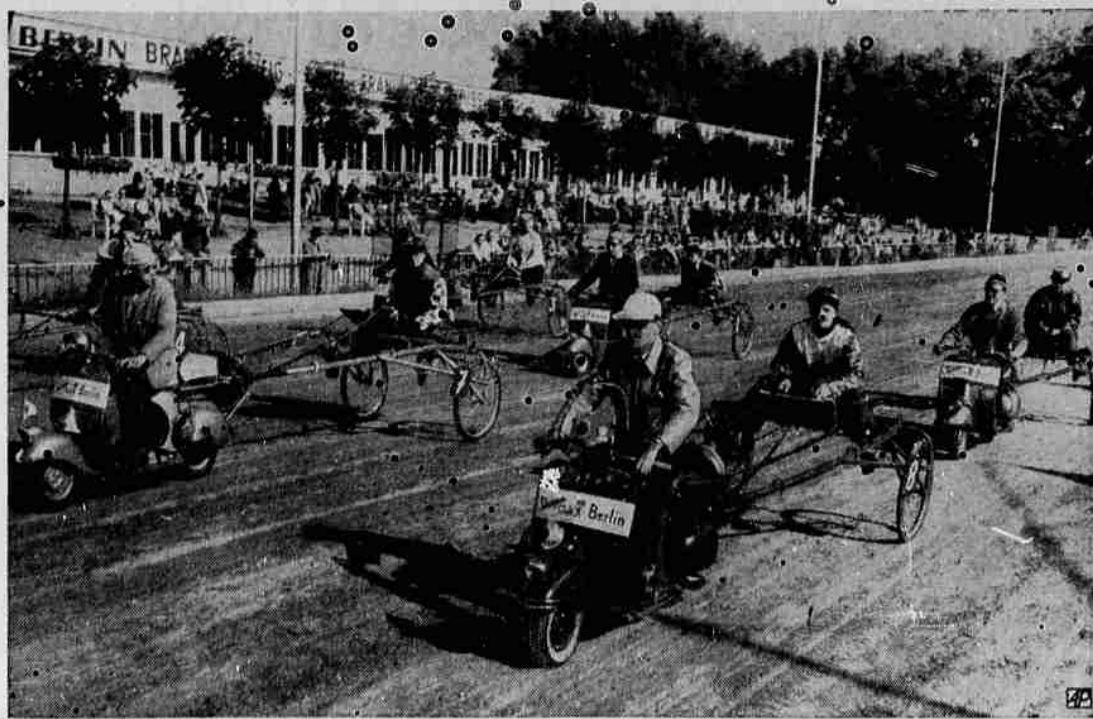

Thursday evening the Oregon Labor League for Political Education will hold its annual meeting. Delegates will hear LEPE Western Director C. Al Green.

Speakers scheduled for Monday include Samuel M. Bove, Grants Pass attorney representing the American Legion; George Brown, secretary-treasurer of the State Industrial Union Council (CIO); N. O. Nilson, state labor commissioner; James S. Umber, president, Montana State Federation of Labor; and Harry H. Lewis, regional director, Federal Mediation and Conciliation Service.

BANQUET, DANCE

A banquet and dance are scheduled Monday evening.

Tuesday's speaking schedule includes Harley Libby, president, Oregon State Farmers Union; William A. Callahan, chairman, State Industrial Accident Commission; Elmer McClure, master, Oregon State Grange; E. M. Weston, president, Washington State Federation of Labor; and J. A. Whitlock, labor adviser, British Consulate General, San Francisco.

DISPENSING WITH THE HORSE—The Germans have come up with a new twist to harness racing. At a Berlin sports show the sulkies are towed by drivers on scooters powered by 5-horsepower engines.

Television's Older Sister (Radio) Still Has a Host of Boy Friends

By CHARLES MERCER of the Associated Press

NEW YORK (AP) — Once upon a time there was a pretty girl who had a younger sister. The younger girl grew very beautiful and had her picture in newspapers and magazines until nearly every body romanced her. But the older girl who seldom had her picture in the paper, continued to be pursued by a host of boy friends every night of the week.

Call the older girl Radio and the younger Television and — commercially speaking — you ing in these two industries today. The authority for this is John Karol, vice president in charge of network sales for CBS radio.

MANY MORE SETS

Disregard for the moment the quality of radio programming today and look at it simply as an industry, a means of communication. A CBS study finds:

In the pre-TV year of 1946 there were 57,700,000 radio sets in the United States. Today there are 132,400,000 sets. Last year alone 10,500,000 radios were sold. Sales thus far this year are 41 per cent ahead of last.

Why? For one thing, the number of auto and portable radios has increased greatly. For another, there is a huge unshakable audience that enjoys doing something else while being entertained by ear.

"Perhaps the most interesting thing we've learned on CBS radio," says Karol, "is that Americans are creatures of habit in their entertainment interests. They like to know that a thing is available at a specific regular time."

REGULAR SHOWS

The new generation of listeners is just as dedicated as the old to regularity of listening, says Karol. Five weekday evenings a week over CBS stations, these listeners get a regularity of shows—Amos 'n' Andy Music Hall, Tennessee Ernie, Arthur Godfrey and many others—falling at set hours.

As a result of this philosophy of strip programming, the Amos 'n' Andy Music Hall—as an example—today reaches more than five million radio outlets, Karol says. But in the pre-TV year of 1948, says Karol, the average half-hour night-time radio program reached only 4,800,000 outlets. Furthermore, he says that in 1948 the sponsor cost for an average half-hour night program was $19,000 with three minutes of commercial advertising time. Today, he says, the sponsor cost is $10,000 with five minutes of commercial.

Springfield Police Promotions Made

Two advancements for members of the Springfield Police Department were announced Wednesday by Police Chief Harry Howard.

Traffic Officer Buford Howard has been promoted to sergeant of the department's late night shift.

Oddie Maddox, the department's investigator, has been given the rating of chief investigator which will be equal in grade and salary to that of a sergeant, Howard said.

To Be Displayed

CANNES, France (AP) — A life-sized bronze bust of the Aga Khan is going on display in an exhibition of sculpture, paintings and ceramics at nearby Cannes Friday.

The bust, recently finished, shows the spiritual leader of the Ismaili Moslems with his reading glasses. The sculptor is the Aga Khan's wife, the begum.

Stingless Bees Raised

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Smithsonian Institute reports it is raising a race of stingless bees in its biological station at Barro Colorado Island in the Panama Canal Zone.

The bees produce lots of honey, the institution says, but most people find it pretty nauseating.

Kilts Donated Local Band

Six complete scottish kilt outfits have been presented to the Eugene Highlanders Bagpipe Band by the Medicine Hat Canadian Legion Pipe Band at Medicine Hat, Alberta.

"This means that we will have nearly a fully uniformed band for functions this summer," said Hector Smith, pipe major of the local group.

He explained that cost of the complete outfit is quite high, more than most of the members can afford at this time. Some band members do have their uniforms or supplementary parts.

There are now 24 persons in the band which was established about the first of this year.

"These outfits are a real boost from a long-established band to a new one," said Smith, "and a good example of the good neighbor policy."
