

Israeli Leader To Huddle With Frondizi

Eichmann Case To Be Discussed

BRUSSELS (UPI) — Israeli Premier David Ben-Gurion said Tuesday he would meet Argentine President Arturo Frondizi before the end of this week to discuss the Eichmann case.

Ben-Gurion, who is on an official visit to Belgium, told a news conference the meeting would take place either in Brussels or at The Hague.

He added that "the meeting will take place in three to five days' time."

Ben-Gurion leaves for The Hague Wednesday and President Frondizi is due in Belgium on Friday.

WON'T RELEASE HIM

Ben-Gurion indicated that Israel would not in any circumstance release Adolf Eichmann, former Nazi leader charged with the mass murder of six million Jews during World War II.

"We maintain friendly relations with Argentina," Ben-Gurion said. "We mean to keep them friendly as long as Eichmann remains in Israel."

He excluded any possibility of Israel handing Eichmann back to Argentina and then trying to secure a formal extradition.

At a news conference in Bern, Switzerland, Frondizi confirmed that he would agree to such a meeting with Ben-Gurion "if it were useful and necessary." But he stressed that he had "nothing fundamentally new" to add to his earlier statements on the case.

U.N. SESSION SET

Frondizi said Argentina still wants Eichmann returned.

"We are not interested in harboring criminals in our country," he said. "But our sovereignty must be respected."

Eichmann was tracked down by Israeli agents in Argentina and taken back to Israel last month. Argentina maintains he was kidnaped in violation of its national sovereignty. Israel said he was discovered by Israeli "volunteers" and returned to Israel "voluntarily" to stand trial.

Argentina demanded his return, but Israel refused. Argentina then put the issue before the United Nations Security Council.

The Security Council is due to consider the issue in New York Wednesday.

Morse, Lusk Split on Vote

WASHINGTON (AP) — Washington and Oregon senators were divided Monday when the Senate defeated by a vote of 54-30 a measure to repeal the federal tax on local telephone service and telegrams.

Sens. Henry M. Jackson (D-Wash.) and Hall Lusk (D-Ore.) voted against repeal while Sen. Wayne Morse (D-Ore.) voted for repeal. Sen. Warren G. Magnuson (D-Wash.) did not vote but was announced as favoring the proposal.

Jackson and Lusk joined forces in voting against an amendment, defeated 55-29, to allow the 10 per cent tax on train, plane and bus fares to expire June 30. Morse voted in favor and Magnuson was paired for the measure.

Magnuson also was announced in favor of an amendment to repeal the 4 per cent income tax credit allowed stockholders on their dividend income. It passed narrowly, 42-41. Jackson, Lusk and Morse all voted for it.

Jackson and Morse also voted on the prevailing side when the Senate adopted 45-39, a tax bill amendment to curtail the entertainment expenses which may be written off as business expenses for tax purposes.

Magnuson and Lusk were recorded as not voting.

Swedish Actress Won't Be Rehired

HOLLYWOOD (AP) — Swedish Actress Mai Britt's contract won't be renewed when the option falls due this summer, a spokesman for 20th Century-Fox said Tuesday.

He added that the decision has nothing to do with Miss Britt's engagement to Negro entertainer Sammy Davis Jr.

"It's no secret that her picture 'The Blue Angel' was unsuccessful at the box office," the spokesman said. "We don't believe we have any future work that would suit her."

The statuesque blonde and Davis recently announced in England that they plan to be married.

Metropolitan Areas Grow

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Pacific Northwest's four major cities had big population gains in their metropolitan areas in the past 10 years, the Census Bureau reported Monday.

All but Portland had more people within their city limits, but the greatest growth was in the suburbs.

Metropolitan Seattle had a 29.9 per cent increase, rising above the million mark to 1,096,778 from 844,572. Within the city the increase was 17.7 per cent from 487,591 to 569,252. Suburban area population went up 44.9 per cent from 376,981 to 546,253.

Figures for the three other cities with the population for 1960, 1950 and percentage increase or decrease, in that order:

Metropolitan Portland, 815,745 and 704,829, up 15.7 per cent; city, 370,339 and 373,628 down 0.9 per cent; suburbs, 445,406 and 331,201, up 34.5 per cent.

Metropolitan Spokane, 277,745 and 221,561, up 25.4 per cent; city 179,720 and 161,721 up 11.1 per cent; suburbs, 98,016 and 59,840, up 63.8 per cent.

The awards, presented in Hollywood Monday, were for the best dramatic performances. Miss Bergman won for her role in "Turn of the Screw," and Sir Laurence won for portrayal of a character in "The Moon and Sixpence."

Pauling Hesitates to Name Those Against Nuclear Tests

WASHINGTON (AP) — Linus Pauling expressed concern Tuesday over a request by the Senate Internal Security subcommittee that he name fellow scientists who helped him campaign against nuclear weapons tests.

The world-famed scientist said he feared they "would be subpoenaed before this committee and subjected to the treatment to which I have been subjected." He did not elaborate on what treatment he had in mind.

"I don't want to hide anybody," he said, and finally agreed to decide during a lunch recess whether to comply with a request for names.

Pauling said his decision would be reached in consultation with A. L. Wiran, Los Angeles attorney accompanying him.

The subcommittee is looking into propaganda campaigns against nuclear testing, particularly where Communists might be involved.

Pauling advocates a permanent ban on nuclear tests. He told the subcommittee he is proud his efforts may have played some part in this country's policy to suspend such testing and seek a world-wide ban.

Sen. Thomas J. Dodd (D-Conn.) acting subcommittee chairman, agreed to hear Pauling in public session when the scientist objected to a plan to question him first behind closed doors, the usual practice.

61,500 Visit Freedomland

NEW YORK (AP) — Freedomland, the Bronx cheerful entry in America's amusement park derby officially opened Sunday and 61,500 persons jammed inside to get a look.

The attendance far exceeded expectations and the park, built on 205 acres of reclaimed swampland, was forced to close three hours early.

Concessionaries complained they were running out of food.

The sprawling park, shaped roughly like the United States, boasts it has re-created 200 years of U.S. history. A visitor can see Chicago burn, watch San Francisco's earthquake, inspect Cape Canaveral rockets and hoot at a New York suffragette parade.

The park, designed by C. V. Wood Jr., the Texan who created Disneyland, is owned by the International Recreation Corp., headed by M. T. Ted Raynor, Chicago, and Peter De Met, Miami.

Freedomland, an investment of more than 33 million dollars, must attract two million visitors this season to break even, officials say.

Business College Closes in Portland

PORTLAND (UPI) — Behnke-Walker Business College, which has operated since 1902, closed Monday. President Kenneth Shumaker attributed the closure to financial difficulties.

The closure coincided with opening of summer school at nearby Multnomah College. John Griffin, president of Multnomah, said his school would admit Behnke-Walker students to its classes so they could complete whatever courses they are taking. Some 35 Behnke-Walker students were expected to take advantage of the arrangement.

Rousing Hawaiian Reception A Tonic for Weary President

By MARVIN L. ARROWSMITH
Of the Associated Press

HONOLULU (AP) — Balmly weather and a rousing reception proved a refreshing tonic Monday to President Eisenhower, who arrived here weary after his Far Eastern tour.

More than 100,000 Hawaiians, the men in short-sleeved sports shirts and the women in gay print dresses, welcomed the President as he stepped from his big jet airliner.

Eisenhower grinned as Mrs. William F. Quinn, wife of Hawaii's governor, placed a lei of bright red carnations around his shoulders.

Eisenhower was admittedly exhausted when he arrived from Korea at mid-day Monday. Nevertheless, he lost little time in turning to his favorite outdoor recreation.

The President took a brief nap and then played nine holes of golf on a sunny, breeze-cooled course at the edge of the blue Pacific. The temperature was in the mid-80s but there was none of the mugginess he had encountered almost everywhere on his tour to the Philippines, Nationalist China, Okinawa and Korea.

Tuesday, Eisenhower arranged a morning round of golf, starting about 8 a.m. over the same course at the Kaneohe Marine Corps Air Station where he plans to relax for perhaps the rest of the week before flying home to Washington.

Warmly applauding Hawaiians shouted the traditional welcome of the islands, "Aloha," as the President stepped smilingly from his big jet airliner. They kept it up all the way along the populated section of his 22-mile motorcade across this beautiful island to Kaneohe.

Thousands of women on streets lined with palm trees were in gay-colored traditional garb. Others were in shorts or bathing suits, and a great many of the men wore gaudy sports shirts.

Eisenhower came back to his own country with fresh memories of tumultuous welcomes everywhere he went in the Orient. There was only one marked touch of anti-Americanism in the countries he has visited. That came in Okinawa, under U.S. administrative control since World War II, where about 1,500 student demonstrators yelled "Yankee go home," and demanded that the islands be returned to Japan.

That happened Sunday, the day the President originally had been scheduled to arrive in Tokyo for a three-day visit. The Japan stop was cancelled when the Japanese government decided its police could not protect Eisenhower from rioters.
