Holidays in Hawaii

Three Junction City couples who leave Tuesday for two weeks in Hawaii will have a leisurely journey to Honolulu, but will return by plane so fast that their leis won't be wilted when they get home. Mr. and Mrs. Dean McKay, Mr. and Mrs. Frank Knox, and Mr. and Mrs. William Robins are sailing Tuesday from San Francisco on the S.S. Matsonia. Their return will be by jet.

It is a first trip to the Islands for the three couples. Offering sight-seeing trips will be a brother of Mrs. Knox, Cmdr. Robert Gibson, who is serving there with the U.S. Navy. His family resides in Honolulu.

Going without a vacation for the U.S. Navy is paying off for Mr. and Mrs. Robert Bower, who left yesterday by plane for a month's "loafing" in Hawaii. They have taken an apartment on Waikiki Beach, and will vacation from those headquarters.

It is a second trip for the young couple. Two years ago they spent two weeks in the Islands, and decided then to save their vacation time for a longer stay.

Sunny skies and sparkling waters await Mrs. Charles G. Irons and her granddaughter, Sandra Lee Nelson, who leave Monday for a month in Hawaii. They will sail Tuesday on the Matsonia from San Francisco.

The Eugeneans will stay at the Halekulama in Honolulu and plan to "just relax and enjoy the sun." And this is one vacation when Mrs. Irons won't have to worry about whether Dr. Irons is taking proper care of her African violet plants — she's taken them all over to the home of her daughter, Mrs. Virginia Hayes.

Temporary residents of Eugene and Yoncalla are Mrs. A. C. Stockstad and three sons, who are dividing their time with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Alton Stock of Yoncalla, and Capt. Stockstad's parents, Mr. and Mrs. A. C. Stockstad of Eugene.

The younger Stockstads are awaiting quarters at Larson Air Force Base at Moses Lake, Wash. Capt. Stockstad recently completed advanced training at Castle Air Force Base, Merced, Calif. He makes frequent visits to Eugene to be with his family, and is to be here this weekend, accompanied by several young air force officers who also will be guests at the senior Stockstad home.

Virginia Ann Blenkinsop, the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Blenkinsop of Eugene, is among the eight students who will represent Mount Holyoke College this winter in the ski meets sponsored by the newly organized Women's Intercollegiate Ski Conference.

The members of the Association, which will organize ski meets for representatives of these and other colleges, are the University of Massachusetts, Jackson College of Tufts University, Boston University, Northeastern University, and Mount Holyoke College.

Bad weather postponed the first meet which had been scheduled Jan. 6. Miss Blenkinsop is a freshman at Mount Holyoke, South Hadley, Mass.

Miss Mary Freeman of Junction City, fiancée of Don Fisher, has been honored at two bridal showers in the past week. Mrs. Ralph Witcher, Mrs. James McMullen, and Mrs. Cyril Schooling were joint hostesses at the Witcher home. Guests were 24 women, members of Junction City Grange.

Mrs. Raymond Smith, Mrs. Ella Forcht, and Mrs. Glenn Lee were hostesses Wednesday in the Smith home to 29 of Miss Freeman's neighbors in the Noration district.

The couple will be married Feb. 3 at 2 p.m. in St. Helen Catholic Church at Junction City, and all friends are invited.

Rose Society Plans Dinner

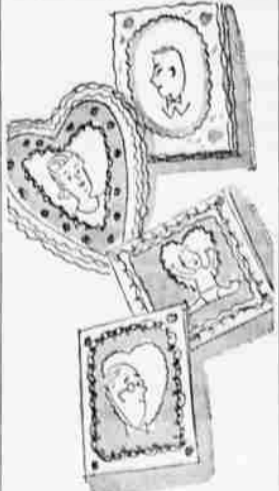

Annual fun night "Dress-as-a-Rose" potluck dinner and installation of officers of Eugene Rose Society will take place at the Garden Club meeting Tuesday at 6:30 p.m. in the clubhouse. An invitation is extended to all persons interested in "knowing roses, growing roses and showing roses" to attend.

Mrs. Elizabeth Romane, Mrs. S. H. Chamberlain, Mrs. Otto Becker and Mr. and Mrs. Delmore Osborne have charge of the dinner. Members will take their own table service and either a hot dish, salad or dessert. Coffee, tea and rolls will be furnished.

Mrs. R. C. Healy has charge of the program. Costuming to represent a rose is optional.

Mrs. Charles Anderson, Consulting Rosarian for the American Rose Society, will install the following elected officers for 1962: Mrs. Glenn W. Casady, president; Mrs. S. H. Chamberlain, vice president; Mrs. W. C. Carnes, recording secretary; Mrs. Carl R. Pfeiffer, corresponding secretary; Mrs. Alan J. Ewing, treasurer; Mrs. Robert G. Beal and W. C. Carnes, directors for three-year term. Hold-over directors are W. W. Porter, Carl R. Pfeiffer, J. W. McCracken and Irwin Betzel.

The lending library will be open for members to return or borrow books on the culture and romance of the rose. For additional information, members may contact Mrs. Casady, DI 5-3717.

Hat Fashion Story for Spring 'Brimful' of Delightful Surprises

By GAY PAULEY
Of the United Press International
NEW YORK (UPI)—Big brimmed hats make a comeback for spring, but you're going to need a dictionary to determine the type of brim you're wearing.

The brimmed numbers have pushed into the back of the closet that hat "uniform" of last spring and summer—the pillbox which Mrs. John F. Kennedy popularized.

Brim widths range from the narrow Buster Brown roller to skimmer numbers wide as the hula hoop. The brims dip over the eyes, set level on the head or roll away from the forehead in breton style. The only major exception to the brimmed look is the high, draped turban, this year called the "twist" after the you-know-what dance craze.

These were the trends which dominated the Millinery Institute of America showing for visiting fashion reporters.

Now for an explanation of brims:

- The boater is a small hat with symmetrical brim, either straight or rolled.

- The bonnet comes with a curved brim, shorter at the back and sides than in front.

- The Breton has a brim rolled away from the face all the way around.

- The cuff brim folds against the crown.

- The cushion is a double-brim with a layer of air between.

- The cutaway is a brim with irregularly curved edges, usually cut back at the center front to frame the face.

- The kettle has a brim with the edge turned sharply up or down.

- The lattice is of wide-mesh veiling, edged with ribbon covered wire.

- A mushroom has a round, down curving brim.

- The petticoat is a ruffled brim, often in two or three tiers.

- The portrait, or capeline, has a large gently curved or rippled brim.

- The profile is an irregular brim, long at the right side to highlight the woman's profile.

- The sailor is a straight, flat brim ranging from tiny to cartwheel size.

- The scoop is curved forward, like an outside scoop for sugar.

- The sombrero is a copy of the large sunshade brim from sunny climates.

- The visor brim extends only across the front of the hat, worn straight or folded back.

- The Watteau is a brim folded up at the back, often secured in place with a bow.

Some of the brims for spring act as trellises for flowers; others are shirred, veiled, ruffled, or outlined with contrasting fabrics.

Spring Straw High toque of bronze textured paillasson with back manipulation is by Christian Dior Millinery. Large buttons of the same straw ornament sides of hat.

Electrifying Results

WASHINGTON (UPI)—Urban household electric rates have remained practically unchanged during the last year, but many consumers have higher bills.

Department of Agriculture analysts say this is because many families are using more electric appliances.

Guide Dogs Available on 4-H Project

Puppies from Guide Dogs for the Blind, Inc. in San Rafael, Calif., again will be available for one of Oregon's most delightful 4-H Club projects, reports J. R. Gurton, Lane extension agent in 4-H Club work.

This is the program in which the 4-H Club member serves as the foster owner of the puppy for nine months, "giving it the security of a warm family life, S. H. Chamberlain, Mrs. Otto Becker and Mr. and Mrs. Delmore Osborne have charge of the dinner. Members will take their own table service and either a hot dish, salad or dessert. Coffee, tea and rolls will be furnished.

Mrs. John E. Stafford, Eugene, leader of the first Lane County 4-H'ers in the project, again will serve as leader — meeting with the 4-H'ers each week for a half-hour obedience training class.

But in order to "adopt" a guide dog puppy, both the 4-H'er and his family must meet certain qualifications set up by the Guide Dogs for the Blind, Inc., the agent explained.

For instance, the 4-H'er and his parent must read the manual, "How to Raise Your Guide Dog Puppy," and understand exactly what is expected of them. The yard for the puppy must meet certain specifications. The puppy must be allowed to sleep in the house since his duty always will be at the side of his blind master when he's grown.

The foster owner also defrays all the cost of food and veterinarian expense. But the hardest blow of all, Gurton said, is parting with the dog at the end of nine months.

"On the other hand, it's a most satisfying experience for the 4-H'er and one that builds confidence," he said. "Prior 4-H Club membership is not necessary."

Raising Guide Dogs for the Blind was approved as an Oregon 4-H Club project in the fall of 1959. The first Lane 4-H'ers to carry the project were Linda Hoffman, then a sophomore at South Eugene High School, and Mike Batori, an eighth grader in Thomas Jefferson High School.

Boys and girls wishing to enroll in the project or to learn more about it are advised to call J. R. Gurton, Lane Extension Service, Room 160, Court-
