

Italian Design
Conical shaping is seen in the stand-up collar of this ensemble styled for beach or boat by Italian designer Simonetta. Knitted of "Orlon" acrylic fiber in brilliant raspberry red, the side-buttoned tunic is banded with multi-color stripes. The same colors are repeated in the fringe trim, which barely covers red Jamaica shorts.

Show Offers Teen Styles

The new spring-into-summer "It's All Yours," McCall's Patterns wardrobe for teen-age girls, as featured in Seventeen, will be shown at The Broadway on Friday and Saturday. Local teen-agers will model these sewing fashions and commentator will be Barbara Faust of McCall's Patterns. Two shows are planned Friday—at 3:30 p.m. and at 7:30 p.m. The Saturday event is slated for 2:30 p.m. The public is invited.

Seventeen reports that "fashion accents the feminine" and one look at the new designs will prove it's so. Spotlights the trend towards a feminine, fluid silhouette, the new patterns feature the princess flare, the high bustline, boleros, ruffles and braid trims. Fabrics also accent femininity with lacy mohairs, spun-sugar organdies, fashionable stripes, prints and checks.

Coordinated fabrics shown with spring-into-summer patterns places the accent on clear soft, pastels that are whitened down from last year's bright shades. The "Americana" colors feature true red, white and blue. The "new neutrals" such as oyster, honey and string, flatter every skin tone.

without permanent waving solutions!

As casual as if you were born with it, your hair can be radiant with beautiful curls and waves, in the latest style without permanent waving solutions, without neutralizing, without sprays, lacquers or sticky, flaky gums. In the miracle of one simple application even difficult to curl hair develops entrancing, fascinating waves as natural-looking as naturally wavy hair. Most important, you don't have to put up your hair night after night, yet the wave stays in. Most up your hair as much as you like, sleep on it, let it blow in the wind... just comb and back into place fall those soft lovely curls and waves still as natural looking as if you were blessed with wavy hair all your life.

And, equally important, your hair gleams radiantly, is so soft, so smooth, so natural to touch. There's none of that "dried straw" feeling you get after permanents... none of the stickiness of messy lacquers... none of that old country "fixed set" look as you get from gummy wave sets. Most important of all, your casual curls and waves still look as glamorous the eighth day as they do the first, yet the cost is so fantastically low it's amazing!

JUST COMB IN

No matter how straight and hard to curl your hair is, just apply PERFORM HAIR WAVING LOTION then comb through hair and put up on regular curlers or pins. In the morning your hair will be lovely with casual waves and curls, as perfect as naturally wavy hair. No straggly ends, no "ticks," no need for pins. And, no matter how damp and dismal or hot and muggy the weather, your Perform should stay as neat and lovely the 8th day as the 1st. So try this amazing discovery. Ask for Perform today.

Perform is safe for all types and texture hair. Will not fade or strip color from dyed or bleached hair. Ask for...

'Dear Abby'

—Abigail Van Buren—

DEAR ABBY: Please print this in your column to wake up some women who take their children to business places and let them wreck the place. I own a beauty shop. Most of my customers bring along their darlings, who yell and scream and tear the place apart, and make other customers nervous while their mothers bury their noses in a magazine, never saying a word unless the child bothers THEM.

I have tried buying coloring books and toys to keep the kiddies amused, but the toys get broken or carried off and the coloring books get torn up. I love children, but not when they act like animals in my shop. What do you suggest?

END OF MY ROPE

DEAR END: You can't ask your customers to leave their "darlings" home. Nor can you discipline a customer's child or ask the mother to without risking losing her business. You can't win, but you can avert an ulcer by admitting that these are the necessary evils of making a living sudsing heads and winding wigs.

DEAR ABBY: I am in love with a man who is just about perfect in every way. The only thing that is holding up our marriage is his divorce. It is taking a long time to come through because his wife refuses to sign the divorce papers. I have told my family and friends that we are secretly married because I was so sure we would be last summer. Is there any way I can speed up his divorce?

ALONE AND IN LOVE

DEAR ALONE: You can't "speed up" a divorce which is not yet in the works. The man IS married, which is probably the way he wants it. P.S. You had better stop peddling tales before you are "alone and in trouble."

DEAR ABBY: My husband and I are just average people. We have three small children. The baby is four month old. My complaint is that for the last three Sundays we have been opening our front door to unexpected company. In all cases they were casual friends whose husbands work with mine. They are nice people, Abby, but on Sunday the house looks so messy. Naturally, my husband feels that he should show them the house and we are both nervous wrecks and very much embarrassed because of the clutter and the children crying for attention. Am I a poor manager or am I correct in preferring a phone call or warning before guests arrive?

ORDINARY PEOPLE

DEAR ORDINARY: NO ONE should "surprise" folks with a drop-in type visit in my opinion. I have been severely criticized for my point of view, but I still contend it is one of the most inconsiderate gestures one can make in the name of friendship.

Still worrying about the same old problem? Write to Abby for a personal reply. Enclose a stamped, self-addressed envelope.
