Party Line

Seeking Spring Sunshine

Spring came to the Willamette Valley while many Eugene residents were in far places seeking the sun (and not always finding it). In Hawaii for two weeks were Mr. and Mrs. Charles Strong, who returned the past week to welcome home their son John, who attends Shattuck School at Faribault, Minn.

John and fellow-student Bill Hemphill, son of Dr. and Mrs. William Hemphill, flew in from Minnesota in time to watch the final rounds of the State Basketball Tournament.

While in Hawaii the Strong's visited Capt. and Mrs. John Hitchcock and two sons, at Pearl Harbor. Capt. Hitchcock, U.S. Navy, is a cousin of Mr. Strong and is the son of George Hitchcock of Eugene. They reported cool, windy weather in the islands.

Other Eugeneans had to put chains on their cars to get out of Reno where they had stopped overnight en route to Death Valley. Mr. and Mrs. Stuart DeVry and daughters Pam and Janet and Mr. and Mrs. Hilding Norberg and daughter Julie were on their annual trek to the Furnace Creek resort.

The two couples, who travel with house trailers, had no trouble with snow in Oregon's mountains but woke up in Reno to several inches of the cold stuff. They reported weather at Death Valley improved as the week went on.

They were joined at Furnace Creek by Mr. and Mrs. John Bosse and daughter Jane of Eugene and Mr. and Mrs. Tom Meador of Junction City, who were guests at Furnace Creek Inn.

Mr. and Mrs. Alyn Price returned the past week from a six-weeks sunny and warm holiday in Mexico, most of the time being spent in Mexico City. While there they were joined for two weeks by a couple from Marion, Ind., where the Prices formerly lived.

En route home Mr. and Mrs. Price visited at La Jolla, Calif., with the Rev. H. R. White, former pastor of St. Mary's Episcopal Church in Eugene, who is a brother-in-law of Mr. Price.

Speaker Listed By Eugene BPW

Eugene Business and Professional Women's Club will have as guest speaker Mrs. Edward Fadeley at a dessert meeting Thursday at 7:30 p.m. in Eugene Hotel. Her topic will be "A Secretary Looks at the Last Legislative Session."

Veola Wilmot and Jane Gearhart of the legislative committee are in charge.

Display Lists Eyerly Paintings

Water color paintings and pen and ink drawings by Ray Eyerly, Salem artist, are on display this month in the lounge of Osburn Hotel.

Mr. Eyerly previously has exhibited his work at the Oregon Society of Artists Gallery in Portland and at the Artists Showcase in Eugene. He describes himself as a self-made artist who has taken a few lessons from T. M. Russell, the western artist.
