Television Previews

Bernstein, Huntley Offer Best Viewing Bets Tonight

Two programs, one entertaining and another very informative, will be presented for television viewers tonight.

Leonard Bernstein gives a raft of gifted young performers, ages 13 to 32, a chance to shine on Young People's Concert on Channel 6 at 7:30 p.m. Watch the three assistant conductors separately lead the orchestra, a double-bass soloist and duopians in music by Mozart, Bloch and Rossini. Especially entertaining is the second half of the program when all the soloists ring in for "Carnival of the Animals."

Chet Huntley will present an informative half-hour program titled "Spring Comes to the Wall," at 8:30 p.m. on Channel 13. On-the-spot films cover the 32-mile length of the wall in Berlin, showing the signs "KZ," which mean concentration camp to the West Germans who painted them there.

Other Friday previews: 8:30 p.m. Hockey (8)—Portland and Spokane vie in the final game of the Western Hockey League Southern Division playoff at Seattle.

9:30 p.m. Age of Kings (7)—"The Rabbie From Kent." The last three acts of Shakespeare's "Henry VI, Part Two," will be shown.

9:30 p.m., Bell Telephone Hour (13-8)—"Springtime in the Park" features sweet songs, love songs, lonely-sad and college songs to spell out the moods of a Sunday in the park. It is a light hour of music with Lanny Ross, Tommy Sands, Sandy Stewart, Jo Stafford and the Whiffenpoofs in charge. The only change of pace comes from the pianist Jose Iturbi, who plays his own composition, "Fantasy for Piano and Orchestra," and Al-legra Kent and Gene Nelson, who join forces for a lovers' ballet.

10 p.m., Twilight Zone (6)—There's humor in this program as big, friendly Andy Devine plays a small town liar who can't believe his eyes when spacemen show up and want to take him back to their planet.

10 p.m., Target Corruptors (9-12)—Excellent episode titled "Journey Into Mourning." A disturbingly believable, yet too melodramatic, look at the plight of the migrant farm worker. Keenan Wynn is perfect as the "cruel boss" who virtually shanghai ignorant farm workers with false promises, and treats them like animals thereafter. There is violence on the program but it's the justifiable kind, not just for the thrill to live up the proceedings.

10:30 p.m., Eyewitness (6)—A look at Algiers since the referendum vote of last Sunday, including films, comment and interviews with Algerians.

Titan Plant In Operation

HILL AIR FORCE BASE, Utah (AP)—The start of mass production of America's Minuteman missile was signaled Thursday when the first of the sleek 6,300-mile weapons rolled from a new assembly plant at this northern Utah Air Force base.

Eventually some 800 are expected to be turned out here for shipment to launching bases throughout the west. The solid fueled ballistic weapons system is scheduled to become operational this summer.

Maj. Gen. T. P. Gerrity, chief of the Air Force's ballistic missile program, spoke at brief ceremonies marking the rollout of the first big bird.

The $11 million Minuteman assembly plant here is known as Air Force Plant 77. The first 150 missiles will go to the site near Malmstrom AFB in Montana.

Elder G. W. Liscombe

Speaks Saturday

Elder G. W. Liscombe, home missionary, temperance, and radio-TV secretary of the North Pacific Union Conference of Seventh-Day Adventists, will speak at the 11 a.m. worship service Saturday at the Springfield Seventh-Day Adventist Church.

The church's adult choir, under the direction of J. A. McHan, will present its spring concert at 4 p.m., Saturday. The church is located at 1630 12th St. in Springfield.

3:30 p.m. (8)—"I Dood It." Red Skelton, Eleanor Powell. Red's many fans may like this zany slapstick but it's not one of his best. Romance of a pants presser and a movie star is loaded with trite situations and forced humor. (1943—fair).

4:30 p.m. (2)—"Man-Eater of Kumau." Sabu, Wendell Corey. Hunter wounds a tiger, then trails him when the beast terrorizes the community. Interesting jungle melodrama. (1948—fair).

Others interviewed included Keith Funkston, president of the New York Stock Exchange, who felt ordinary citizens would be hurt by pending legislation that would extend the withholding tax to dividends and interest; and Vincent Sardi, owner of the famous New York restaurant, Sardi's, who felt most of the expense-account users who frequent his place would really rather eat at home.

TV Polishing Its Summer Vocabulary

By CYNTHIA LOWRY
Of the Associated Press

NEW YORK — Now comes the period when television stores its winter vocabulary in plastic bags and moth crystals and pulls out its collection of summer words.

As the days grow longer and screens replace storm windows, television gives a three-month vacation to such descriptive words and phrases as dynamic, original script, fresh approach, novel and, of course, live broadcast.

It is quite beside the point that these descriptions often prove quite inaccurate and misleading.

In their place come words which the viewer must with equal suspicion if not downright cynicism. These include re-runs of selected episodes, and repeated by popular demand.

Television is on the threshold of its annual season of repeats, and one of the most closely held secrets of the big industry is the technique used in selecting, out of 26 or 39 programs in a series, 13 or more for re-running.

Last season, a method in selection was readily discernible in action, adventure, western and private eye series. The industry was beginning to be uncomfortable about mounting complaints of unnecessary and excessive displays of brutality and violence. It appeared the shows were picked on the basis of the number and longevity of the fights and the number of corpses sighted in a half hour or 60 minutes.

This year they are probably going back to picking numbers out of a hat.

The feminine half of the old "I Love Lucy" quartet—Lucille Ball and Vivian Vance—will be reunited in Lucy's new fall series, William Frawley, who played Vivian's husband, is unavailable, being tied up with an important part in Fred MacMurray's "My Three Sons," a comedy hit renewed for a third season on ABC. And, of course, Desi Arnaz would hardly be a casting director's choice for the love interest. The new show has no name yet but it is set in CBS' Monday night schedule.

Education Station Postpones Opening

PORTLAND (AP)—Station KOAP-FM, Oregon's new educational radio station, is setting its opening back two weeks to April 30.

Ralph Steelt, director of educational broadcasting for the state, said the studio, being built at the Hegley Heights transmitter site, is not yet completed.

The station formerly was KEX-FM. It was given to the state by Westinghouse Broadcasting Co.

Loopholes Next Week

'Taxed American' Humorous Primer

By RICK DU BROW
Of the United Press International

HOLLYWOOD — Television's "CBS Reports" Thursday night presented one of the most daring taxpayers of the year:

A flight engineer who tried to deduct a $1 bar bill for beer as a foreign travel expense because he couldn't drink the water in the country where he bought it.

This heroic soul was one of a number of assorted citizens and officials who appeared on an informative and humorous program, "The Taxed American," which CBS appropriately offered on the eve of Friday the 13th.

The second part of this program—about tax loopholes—will be shown next Thursday. As a public service, CBS might have presented that stuff about loopholes this week instead, before April 15, when it could do some good.

This week's show, hosted by Reporter Harry Reasoner, was a brief primer on the U.S. Internal Revenue Service, including a preview of a giant data processing system centered in Martinsburg, W.Va., which some day will record on electronic tape every detail about taxpayers and their filed returns.

The program noted that American wage earners are the biggest source of income in history. And there was an interview with Internal Revenue Commissioner Mortimer Caplin, in which it was revealed he was a former college boxing champion, a useful background for a tax collector.

Mortimer said happily that most persons just don't have the chance to cheat on taxes. You're right, Mort. It costs too much. There were good shots of tax agents auditing returns for citizens who apparently did not know they were being photographed, and of a federal man telling a phone caller: "Your wife is always an exemption, never a dependent." I guess it all depends on how you look at it.

Others interviewed included Keith Funkston, president of the New York Stock Exchange, who felt ordinary citizens would be hurt by pending legislation that would extend the withholding tax to dividends and interest; and Vincent Sardi, owner of the famous New York restaurant, Sardi's, who felt most of the expense-account users who frequent his place would really rather eat at home.

Not me, Vince. Your place any day.
