TIFFANY'S Beauty News

In preparing for your vacation, you look over your wardrobe, make sure your hair appointments are in order, see to your accessories and the like. But what about your skin?

Get your mirror out and take a look. Are there tiny lines beginning to form around your eyes and mouth? An aging skin can spoil the effect of an entire costume. Right now is the time to correct this aging skin problem.

Let me tell you about a brand new beauty cream which is just out. Made by Colonial Dames, it's called Ultra Clasique and is designed to help maintain the moisture-fresh softness and firm, unlined smoothness of the youthful complexion.

It works in 12 ways to guard, protect and maintain your natural beauty. Its formulation embraces powerful and proven beauty-building elements which actually help reactivate nature's beauty-building functions.

Among the ingredients are vitamins A, B-6 and E; activated Vitamin D; moisture-retaining polysaturates, humectants, both essential fractions of the feminine hormone, Estrogen; Lanolin and four other super-emollients, plus Lecithin, the catalyst which insures maximum effectiveness of all the properties in the formulation.

Most important is the ingredient Allantoin, a new discovery which is found in all living matter. It makes Ultra Clasique highly hypocalcemic, in addition to helping your skin to help itself.

A prime feature of this new beauty cream is the fact that it disappears instantly into your skin upon application, leaving it soft, supple and smooth. There's no sticky or greasy residue. Even without tanning off, you may apply your makeup right over it. And it's wonderful used as a night cream.

Use this cream very sparingly, for a little goes a long way. Just a dot on each cheek, the chin and the forehead covers the face and neck.

For a limited time, you may test Ultra Clasique for yourself at the nominal price of $1.75 for a regular one-ounce.
