

Hard-Hitting Campaign Urged by Ike

Party Statement Subject of Meeting

GETTYSBURG, Pa. (AP)—Former President Dwight D. Eisenhower called on Republicans Monday to take a "positive approach" to national issues in a hard-hitting campaign for control of the House in the November election.

Eisenhower breakfasted with 10 GOP members of the Senate and House at his Gettysburg office for discussion of a forthcoming statement of Republican principles to be used in the campaign.

The former president told a news conference afterwards he was interested in giving the statement more impact and in trimming the 3,200-words of a preliminary draft prepared by the Senate House Committee.

Answering questions, Eisenhower replied vigorously to President Kennedy's charge Saturday that the Republican party doesn't stand for anything.

"All you have to do is look at the record of the eight years when I was in the White House," he said. "There was a lot of constructive work done in that period."

Health Care Plan

In response to other questions Eisenhower opposed Kennedy's health care plan for the elderly financed through Social Security taxes. Kennedy campaigned vigorously for this plan in New York Sunday, declaring it "basically sound."

Eisenhower said during his administration he proposed legislation which became the present Kerr-Mills law. Under this legislation the federal government matches state funds to provide health assistance for the needy.

Eisenhower said he was disappointed the measure did not include provision for federal assistance in cases of catastrophic illness. He said if this were added needs of most of the elderly could be met.

"I believe the proper approach is the voluntary not the compulsory approach under the Social Security system," the former president said.

Rep. Melvin R. Laird, R-Wis., spokesman for the Senate and House members, said Eisenhower's advice would bring some changes in the party statement. Laird said the document will be ready for submission to Senate and House Republicans at separate meetings June 7.

Seattle Meeting

It will be submitted to the Republican National Committee at a June Seattle, Wash., meeting for ratification.

Laird declined to enumerate the issues but others said the preliminary draft bears down hard on demands for fiscal responsibility in government, a field in which Republicans have chalked up President Kennedy's efforts as a failure.

The Republicans are expected to agree on a strong statement supporting civil rights. They are relatively united in opposition to the administration's farm program, which Eisenhower specifically has criticized.

In the international field, the Republicans are expected to call for firm resistance to Communist encroachments in Berlin and Southeast Asia. They are likely to blame Kennedy for the loss of Cuba. They are certain to leave the door open for future criticism of the President's foreign policy actions.

More Home Owners

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Census Bureau has reported that more Americans are living in their own homes than in rented dwellings. The bureau said Sunday the 1960 census showed that of 53 million occupied dwelling units, 32 million were inhabited by persons who owned them or were buying them. The remaining units were occupied by renters.

Funds Raised By Kennedy Negroes En Route To Hyannis, Mass.

NEW YORK (AP)—President Kennedy filled Madison Square Garden twice in a weekend visit that was worth a million dollars to the Democratic party and a still undetermined amount of support for his medical care for the aged plan.

He also dedicated a $40-million-dollar housing project, and visited five times with his father, Joseph P. Kennedy, who is recovering from a stroke at the Institute of Physical Medicine and Rehabilitation.

Heat waves from the city's hottest day of the year — the mercury reached 90 degrees — were still rising when Marilyn Monroe gave her sultry rendition "Happy Birthday" at a "birthday salute" for the President in the Garden Saturday night. He becomes 45 on May 29.

Miss Monroe was among the array of talent that participated in the 2½-hour show for the celebration.

Kennedy threw away most of a prepared speech to join in the birthday party spirit. He stayed until 2 a.m. at a private reception attended by many of the performers.

Persons attending the Garden celebration paid from $10 to $1,000 a seat, with the proceeds going to the Democratic party.

Kennedy attended a private mass on Sunday morning with his 73-year-old father and his oldest sister, Mrs. Sargent Shriver. The mass was said in the living room of "Horizon House," a cottage on the grounds of the institute.

A cheering crowd estimated at 20,000 attended the dedication Saturday of the West Side housing project, which was sponsored chiefly by the International Ladies Garment Workers Union.

Paper Cups Used

SAIGON (AP)—U.S. servicemen have used up 1.25 million paper drinking cups since the buildup of American forces began in this tropical Southeast Asian country last December.

By ASSOCIATED PRESS
Two Negro mothers and their 20 children were aboard buses Monday on the way from Little Rock, Ark., to Hyannis, Mass., where a selectman termed such "reverse freedom rides" a cruel hoax on trusting people.

The Rev. Kenneth R. Warren, minister of the Barnstable, Mass. Unitarian church, said, "The people who saw the group arrive Saturday were shocked. They are being used in a heartless way and this word has got to get back to the people of the South so they won't allow themselves to be used in this way."

The minister said the couples had been led to believe housing and jobs were waiting for them because "of the lies told by the White Citizens Council. It was an awful blow to them to find Hyannis is just a small resort town without manufacturing or facilities to provide for them."

Mrs. Victoria Bell, 36, and her 11 youngsters were put aboard a bus Sunday by Amis Guthridge, president of the sponsoring Citizens Council. In addition to providing tickets costing $307, he gave her $60 for spending money.

Mrs. Bell said she was separated from her husband and unable to find steady work in Little Rock. She hoped to obtain a job as a presser for a commercial laundry in Massachusetts. The children with her ranged in age from 2 to 14 and included 3-year-old twins.

About five hours later Lela Mae Williams of Huttig, Ark., and her nine children were escorted to a bus. Guthridge paid the $206 fare and also presented her with $60 for expenses.

Mrs. Williams said she applied for the free passage because she was out of work as a domestic helper and wanted to find a full-time job.

At Hyannis, Selectman E. Thomas Murphy said, "We'll do our best to care for them. But if this keeps up and we have to put people on welfare, the state will have to take some sort of action. We just can't keep on this way."

Three Negro men reached Hyannis earlier from Little Rock. Two Negro couples and their five small children arrived Saturday on one-way tickets provided by the White Citizens Council at Shreveport, La.

Murphy said the White Citizens Council program which sent Negroes to Hyannis was "a cruel hoax on these trusting people."

Accident Victim In 'Fair' Condition

William H. Harvey, 44, of Veneta, who was injured in a one-car accident near Noti Saturday evening, was reported in "fair" condition in Sacred Heart hospital Monday.

Harvey was originally listed as "critical." He suffered possible internal and head injuries when his car veered off Knight Road and hit a tree about 6:45 p.m., daylight, Saturday.

'Didn't Explain . . . Meaning of Bill'

Eugene Doctor Criticizes Speech

President Kennedy's national television speech Sunday urging public support for his "medicare" plan was criticized Monday by Dr. George C. McCallum of Eugene, public relations chairman for the Lane County Medical Society.

McCallum, giving his personal reactions to the president's address at Madison Square Garden in New York City, said Kennedy "did not explain clearly the exact meaning of the bill he is promoting."

McCallum said Monday Kennedy's talk "did not generate the wild-eyed enthusiasm that I thought would be demonstrated at the so-called rally."

The Eugene physician, taking exception to Kennedy's comments that doctors aren't familiar with his medicare plan, said, "The bill has been well read and digested by the legal counsel of the American Medical Assn. I don't believe doctors are misinformed."

McCallum said he was surprised that the president "was as kind as he was" to doctors during his television address.

"He didn't jump on us as much as I thought he would."

McCallum said he and many doctors feel passage of the King-Anderson bill would be "just the first wedge toward socialized medicine."

Washington County Judge Loses Election

HILLSBORO (AP)—Washington County voters decided in Friday's primary not to re-nominate Washington County Judge Joseph E. Jaross, Hillsboro.

He was beaten by Donald C. Willey, Beaverton, 6,352 to 3,898.

Voters approved a $290,000 annual levy for five years, but rejected a $75,000 levy which would have run two years, for construction of a county museum at Hillsboro.

plan mainly for these reasons, McCallum said: (1) The plan doesn't cover everyone, (2) There will be too many governmental controls exerted by the Dept. of Health, Education and Welfare, and (3) The legislation has certain "broad, sweeping language" that leaves too many unanswered questions.

McCallum said he and many doctors favor the already-enacted Kerr-Mills Bill—a federal-state program providing care for public assistance.

Another doctor, George Hemphill, president of the Lane County Medical Society, said Monday the organization has not taken a formal stand on Kennedy's medicare plan, but that the individual doctors, for the most part, oppose the program.

Hemphill said the president's medicare program "covers many people who don't need coverage" and that the cost for the plan would be "fantastic."

Views of the American Medical Assn. will be expanded tonight on a nationwide television show. In Eugene, the program will be shown on channels 13 and 8 at 7 o'clock standard, 8 daylight.

Architectural Critic To Speak at UO

Allen Temko, architectural journalist from the University of California, will speak at the University of Oregon Wednesday.

Temko, whose earlier scheduled talk had been cancelled, will appear in 123 Science at 7:00 p.m. standard, 8 p.m. daylight. The public is invited.

A graduate of Columbia University, who also studied at the Sorbonne, France, Temko is the West Coast editor of Architectural Forum and architectural and urban critic of the San Francisco Chronicle and Washington Post.

Technical Talk

Why is the Ultra-Tone concept of drapery care years ahead of other methods?

HERE ARE THREE, NOT SO SIMPLE REASONS

First, Scientific Induction CS4 and Hexachlorophene, together with other bacteriostats and fungicides, insure that draperies are germaceptically clean.

Second, Moth repellents and other insect repellents are applied together with a non-toxic invisible coating of supple hydroscopic waxes. These serve to repel both dirt and deterioration.

Third, during all processing, draperies are treated in their natural hanging state to further preserve their form and beauty. This is accomplished on the exclusive and very wonderful NEW ULTRA FORM MARK IV lending complete controlled humidity forming and finishing with precise size control. The technicians of ULTRA TONE know their field. Metropolitan areas of Eugene and Springfield are the first exclusively franchised establishments on the coast. The ULTRA TONE franchise is available only to qualified firms with fine reputations in their service fields.

These people are aware that a fine drapery can remain no better than the care given it. Through concern for your investment they recommend and offer the distinctive ULTRA TONE process . . . the FINEST DRAPERY CARE SCIENCE CAN PROVIDE.
