

Ike Expected to Rip Demos At $100-a-Plate Dinner

By JACK BELL
Of the Associated Press

WASHINGTON — Republicans expect former President Dwight D. Eisenhower to rip into the Kennedy administration's domestic program Friday night at a $300,000 fund-raising dinner.

Aides of Rep. Bob Wilson of California, chairman of the Republican Congressional Campaign Committee, reported an advance sell-out of 3,000 seats for the $100-a-plate dinner to be held on two floors of a local hotel. Of the funds raised, 75 per cent will go to House and 25 per cent to Senate candidates.

Eisenhower, who seems to be enjoying a political role more than he ever did while in the White House, has emerged as the single national figure around whom all Republicans seem able to rally in their efforts to regain control of the House in the November elections. Senate and House campaigners ruled out any other speaker for Friday night's affair.

The former president is getting the kind of national attention with his attacks on the Kennedy administration that Wilson, GOP National Chairman William E. Miller and Sen. Barry Goldwater, R-Ariz., with his large conservative following, have failed to command.

Others Busy

With Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller busily engaged in efforts to get re-elected in New York and former Vice President Richard M. Nixon fighting for the governorship in California, Eisenhower remains one of the few leaders not engaged in what he might like to call "parochial" pursuits.

Beyond this, the former president has displayed a knack of dramatizing his opposition to some of Kennedy's proposals.

In one such instance he was quoted recently by Rep. Catherine May, R-Wash., as saying he would be darned if he wouldn't rather go to jail than buckle to the controls contained in the administration's farm bill.

In another, he offered to be nailed to a cross if it could be shown that his former Secretary of the Treasury, George M. Humphrey, had done anything wrong in connection with defense stockpiling.

Party With Him

Eisenhower has been in tune with most Republicans in declaring himself "deeply concerned about the direction our economy seems to be going" under the Kennedy administration.

He had his party with him in attacking the President's "heavy spending on all fronts" and in criticizing what he called moves to increase presidential authority.

Most, but not all, GOP congressional members supported his position that medical care for the elderly should not be financed by the compulsory collection of Social Security taxes.

Friday night's meeting will be the prelude to a June 30 gathering of party leaders at Eisenhower's Gettysburg, Pa., farm to form an all-Republican conference. Chairman Miller is supporting the project with the idea of establishing a permanent consultative body to give the party a larger forum for advising on party programs.

Portlander Picked

MEDFORD — David Kuhns, Portland, will succeed James Pullman as Jackson County welfare administrator next Monday.

The county Welfare Commission picked Kuhns, a former welfare administrator for Lake and Hood River counties.

Pullman is taking a job on the state welfare staff at Salem.

What could the English possibly mean by "Gordon's and splash?"

"Splash" is the English way of saying "soda water." Mixing it with Gordon's Gin is a popular pastime on the other side of the Atlantic. Most Americans prefer "tonic and ice" as a mixer. But on the choice of gin—complete accord. Gordon's. Its distinctive dryness and flavour seem to tip the balance. You'll find these qualities wherever you call for Gordon's by name; for every bottle is still based on Alexander Gordon's original 1769 formula. Could this be why Gordon's is the biggest-selling gin in England, America, the world?
