

Blankenship-Seibold

Wearing a wedding gown her mother had made, Miss Janice Seibold, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. E. V. Seibold, became the bride recently of Jack C. Blankenship, son of Mr. and Mrs. C. H. Blankenship of Springfield. The Rev. Clyde Thomas performed the ceremony at Mohawk Community Church.

The bride's dress was of organza and tulle, fashioned with chapel train and lace jacket. The elbow-length veil of net was attached to a crown of seed pearls. The bride carried orchids with roses and carnations and wore her grandmother's pearl necklace.

Miss Marilyn Jensen, maid of honor, wore a sheath dress of poudre blue satin with matching veil hat. She carried a bouquet of carnations and white iris with blue streamers. The bridesmaid, Miss Marilyn Seibold, the bride's sister, was dressed like the honor attendant and carried a similar bouquet.

Donald Cloutier was best man, and ushers were David Glenn and Fred Kirckhofer.

Servers at the reception were Mrs. Lyle Lewis, Mrs. John Olin and Mrs. Joseph Carlson.

The couple traveled to the Oregon Caves and is at home at Springfield. The bride attended University of Oregon last year, and the bridegroom went to Oregon Technical Institute.

Party Line

Mrs. Nebergall Travelling

Old friendships will be renewed by Mrs. Harry L. Nebergall when she flies abroad in August, leaving Portland Aug. 1 in polar flight to London. She will change there, for Copenhagen, and continue to Oslo, Norway, where she is to visit at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Torilief Sten (Ingeborg "Kitten" Videler). Mrs. Sten was formerly a student at University of Oregon.

After her stay in Oslo, Mrs. Nebergall will rejoin her tour group in London, and will continue a general travel route across Europe, visiting Belgium, Holland, Germany, Switzerland, Italy and France.

"Auf Wiedersehen" will be said Tuesday by Marilyn Potampa, Eugene girl studying in Germany in the past school year under American Field Service, as she takes leave of the family with whom she has lived, Dr. and Mrs. Eric Hauck of Leimen bei Heidelberg, Ulrike, the Haucks' daughter, hopes ultimately to come to this country, and possibly to University of Oregon, to study.

Marlyn will join a group of four or five other American students who have been in Germany this year, in a quick trip by plane to Berlin and back, before sailing from Rotterdam Saturday on the S.S. Seven Seas. This ship will bring home many who, like herself, have spent the entire year abroad; also, it will bring over numerous foreign students coming to study in this country under AFS.

They will dock in New York Aug. 7, after a 10-day crossing, and a tour of United Nations has been arranged for them before they separate. Following this, Marlyn will stay a few days with friends in New York, then go to Washington, D.C. She will be a guest there in the home of Mr. and Mrs. W. N. Parke, a brother and sister-in-law of Mrs. Ralph R. Huestis, a neighbor here of her family. Senator Morse has invited her to visit his office to discuss her trip, and has offered tickets to the Senate gallery and to arrange tours for her.

Returning to New York, she will leave Aug. 18 for Montreal, and after a side trip to Quebec she will start a long train ride across Canada. Her parents are to meet her in Portland Aug.

Their journey south will begin earlier than planned to "r." and Mrs. Frank Nombalais, who are leaving Tuesday, instead of a month from now, for California. They are to stay in the home of their son, Frank, at Atherton, while that family is on vacation in Oregon on the Metolius River. Mr. Nombalais' sister, Mrs. Kenneth Mather of Berkeley, is to arrive Tuesday, and will drive the car for Mr. Nombalais, while Mrs. Nombalais will travel by plane the same day.

After two weeks, the Eugene couple will be at their own new home in Carmel, at Hacienda Carmel.

Mrs. Nombalais says she intends to return to Eugene for a visit in November, when Nydia Temple, Daughters of the Nile, will present its first ceremonial.

Starting a vacation trip, Miss Ruth Norquest and Mrs. Geraldine Evatt Fehly left for Portland Saturday, where they are to meet Miss Norquest's parents, coming from Fredonia, Kans. The party of four will continue to Seattle to spend several days at the World's Fair, then plan to go on to Vancouver, B.C. Returning, they plan to cross "y" ferry to Port Angeles, Wash., and drive along the Hood Canal, possibly visiting Paradise Park and Mt. Rainier on their way south.

Buster Lee Meston is home on leave from Otis Air Force Base, Mass., to visit his mother and step-father, Mr. and Mrs. Miles Brown. Airman Meston will be home for another three weeks, and will return to duty for about two and one-half more years. Sunday the family went to Cottage Grove for a picnic with another son who is working with the Lane County Forestry Service for the summer.

Hints From Heloise

Dear Heloise: Knowing that many people travel in the summertime, and after reading your column, I am writing to tell you how I pack so that it might help others.

I pack all of my hair items in one make-up box, and all of my make-up items in another.

Then I lay out each dress on a portable rack, on its hanger. (By the way, when I do pack the dress, I put it in the suitcase right on its own hanger! Hotel rooms so seldom have enough hangers or the correct type.)

I never pack a dress in a suitcase until I have laid out the matching shoes, purse, gloves and hat that I will wear with it. Then I pack my gloves and kerchief inside the purse that I will be carrying.

A bed is an excellent place to put out all of the items. When I have the entire outfit together, then I pack it. I always see that the belt is attached to the dress hanger for each dress.

I have a special case for my hats. It is a tall hatbox style. I always stuff my hats carefully with tissue paper and I put a good deal of the tissue inside the hat box so they will not rattle around in traveling.

When I get to my destination I unpack all of my clothing, including the hats so they can "stretch out and breathe." I never let my hats stay in their case.

As I wear each dress, I put it in the bottom of the suitcase on its hanger so I don't have to unpack that one again.

I always wash my underwear each night. One thing I cannot stand is to pack soiled clothing with clean clothing. If possible, I also wash my dresses each night. They are then clean to repack. Even if I do not have time the next day to iron them . . . at least they are clean when I repack them.

Joan Crawford

Yep, it's the movie star! See who reads our column? She's just like we are girls, even washes her own clothing!

Heloise

Dear Heloise: I have found that if you rub the spots caused by milk stains on baby clothes with some lemon juice and then put soap on it, the ugly stains will be removed. Afterward wash as usual in soapsuds and hot water and let dry in the sun.

Jane

Dear Heloise: The other day I was vacuuming my bathroom with my tank type vacuum cleaner. I happened to look up and see our hairbrushes which were full of hair.

I removed the brush attachment from the tube of the vacuum cleaner and put the hairbrush on the end of the tube, thereby sucking all of the hairs up into the vacuum. If there is anything I hate to do it is clean hairbrushes.

Cheshire-Wheeler

Miss Carolee Wheeler, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Wheeler, recently became the bride of Wayne Cheshire, son of Mr. and Mrs. Albert Cheshire, at a ceremony in Thurston Christian Church at Springfield. The Rev. Warren Cornelius of McMinnville Assembly of God Church officiated.

The bride wore a floor-length gown with Rochelle lace bodice and pointed peplum over a tulle skirt. Her crown of miniature pearls and crystal drops held her veil of silk illusion. She carried yellow rosebuds and stephanotis, centered by a white orchid, on a white Bible.

Miss Delaine Wheeler was maid of honor for her sister. She and the other attendants, Miss Marilyn Cheshire, bridegroom's sister, and Mrs. Lute Bolken, wore waltz-length dresses of yellow tulle and carried nosegays of white carnations and yellow rosebuds. Lorie Lawson was flower girl.

Jerome Cheshire was his brother's best man and ushers were Fred Ahner and Bill Louvring.

At the reception Mrs. Fred Ahner and Mrs. Robert Louvring served the wedding cake. Mrs. Rodney Ray and Miss Cassie Brington poured punch and coffee.

After a wedding trip to Washington the couple is at home at Springfield.

Four-H Fair Opens Today, Fairgrounds

The Lane 4-H Fair will open to the public tonight with a lavish first-night production — the annual Lane 4-H Style Revue at 8 p.m. standard, 9 p.m. daylight, Auditorium Building, county fairgrounds. Admission is free.

In a garden setting as glamorous as its name—"The Fountain of Youth," 116 girls and boys in 4-H sewing and knitting projects will model their "made-it-ourselves" creations. This is the first year that 4-Hers in the knitting project will model their handfashioned sweaters and knit suits.

The show's staging—a garden complete with fountain—was designed and arranged by 4-Hers Barbara Patoinne, Frances Page, Barbara Pratt, and Penni Tork, Eugene; Marilyn Seibold, Mohawk; and Hellen Steinke, Springfield. Adult advisors are three 4-H club leaders—Mrs. Daniel Lane, Springfield; Mrs. H. W. Metcalf and Mrs. Paul Patoinne, Eugene.

Penn Tork and Marilyn Seibold will be joined by Barbara Tinker, Pleasant Hill, and Suzie Peterson, Springfield, in narrating the show. All four are in advanced 4-H sewing projects.

Miss Judy Conner, 4-H club member for 10 years from Lorane Route, Cottage Grove, and the 1961 winner of the earnings awarded each year to the oldest girl modeling in the Style Revue, will make the presentation this year.

Country Club Stagette Due

Women of Eugene Country Club will be entertained by seven dancers at their Hawaiian luau Wednesday at 6 p.m. standard, 7 p.m. daylight.

Dancers will be Mrs. James A. McIntyre, Mrs. John W. Hamson, Mrs. Ralph Leatham and Mrs. Elliot Jenkins. With them will be three girls, Judy Hamson, Debbie Laharty and Cynthia Kocher.

Program chairman is Mrs. Sylvanus Smith, and Mrs. Nicholas Sullivan is decorations chairman. Social chairman for the group is Mrs. David Williams.

Couple Married In Washington

TRENT — Miss Mildred Ann Winton of Springfield was married recently to John Franklin Johnston Jr., at Stevenson, Wash. The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Edward Z. Choate Jr., of Trent, and the groom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. J. Frank Johnston of Jasper.

Mrs. Johnston was graduated a year ago from Pleasant Hill High School and is employed in Springfield. The bridegroom also is a graduate of that school and now is with the U.S. Coast Guard at Alameda, Calif. Mrs. Johnston will remain here until her husband is permanently assigned.

Wedded Pair Travels East

Metuchen, N.J., will be the new home of Mr. and Mrs. James Blount Jordan IV, who were married recently at St. Mary's Episcopal Church.

The bride is the former Barbara Ann Brooks, daughter of Mrs. Ann Lane of Winston and Paul Brooks of Brookings. Mr. and Mrs. James B. Jordan III of Narberth, Pa., are the bridegroom's parents. The ceremony was performed by the Rev. Steen Whiteside.

The bride wore a street-length dress of white peau de soie and a fingertip veil. She carried white gardenias with her prayer book.

Mrs. Ronald D. Hahka of Longview, Wash., was matron of honor in a yellow dress of a style similar to the bride's gown. She carried yellow and white spider chrysanthemums.

James Albert Brooks was best man and Ronald H. Hahka served as usher.

The reception following the ceremony was in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Thomas E. Ragsdale, 165 Hackamore Way. Mrs. Kenneth Box served cake, and Mrs. Dennis Olsen and Mrs. Lynn Coons served coffee and punch.

The bride is a graduate of University of Oregon and is a member of Alpha Omicron Pi sorority. The bridegroom is a member of Delta Sigma Nu and was graduated from Philadelphia Museum College of Art. They will go to the East Coast on their wedding trip.

Moses Lake Pair's Home

Given in marriage by her uncle, Robert McCullough, Miss Annabel Margaret Hyde was married June 30 to James Glenn Beatty, son of James F. Beatty of Cloverdale, Calif. The bride's parents are Mr. and Mrs. Fred McWee of Junction City. Pastor W. W. LaMunyon read the service in United Lutheran Church in Eugene.

For her bridal gown, Miss Hyde chose a waltz-length dress of white Chantilly lace with rhinestone belt buckle and buttons on the sleeves. Her fingertip veil was of illusion with pale blue and white flowers in the head-dress. She carried an arrangement of syringa blossoms on a white Bible.

Miss Luella C. Hyde was her sister's only attendant, wearing a blue organza frock. Miss Mickelson, the bride's uncle, was best man. Roger Mickelson, and Geoffrey Hyde, the bride's brother, were ushers.

At the reception, in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Miner Mickelson, Mrs. Mickelson served the wedding cake she had baked, assisted by Mrs. Earl A. Sykes. Miss Lynn Fahnestalk and Mrs. Robert McCullough poured.

The couple is living at Moses Lake, Wash., where the bridegroom is stationed in the U.S. Air Force.

'Dear Abby'

—Abigail Van Buren—

DEAR ABBY: There is a girl who works where I work. She is very pretty, has a good figure and dresses well. There is only one thing the matter with her and nobody has the courage to tell her. Her neck is dirty.

You can see the line where she has washed her face but not her neck. The other employees laugh behind her back. I like her a lot and the best friend she has here but, Abby, how can you walk up to a person and tell her her neck is dirty? Would an anonymous note be okay?

HATES TO TELL HER
DEAR HATES: An anonymous note would be cruel. Stick your neck out (in the spirit of friendship) and tell her to wash hers. She'll probably thank you. And if she doesn't—well, it's HER neck.

DEAR ABBY: I am 15 and hate my parents more and more every day. You see, I have an air-conditioner in my bedroom, which means my 12-year-old sister sleeps in my room all summer. I have no privacy at all and it is very crowded. My father slapped my face tonight for complaining about it. I want to run away and stay at one of my friends' houses, but everyone I know has a dog and I'm allergic to dog hair, among other things. Can you help me?

CROWDED AND ALLERGIC
DEAR C AND A: If your parents insist on "forcing" the luxury of an air-conditioned room on you, don't argue. Relax and enjoy it. And you can't blame them for putting your sister's comfort before your "privacy." Your parents are doing the best they can. Stay home.

DEAR ABBY: Do you think it is necessary for a hostess to recite the guest list when extending an invitation? I have a sister-in-law who isn't on speaking terms with a lot of people. When I invite her to a party, she always asks, "Who else will be there?"

I got mad last time and told her to come and find out. She slammed the receiver down on my ear and I haven't heard from her since. (She didn't come to the party). My husband (her brother) said I was wrong. I say SHE was wrong. What do you and your readers say?

NO SIGNATURE
DEAR NO: I say YOU were wrong. Knowing that your sister-in-law is not on speaking terms with many people, you should have told her who was coming. The poor woman appears to have her problems. Why compound them?

CONFIDENTIAL TO LIBBY: When a man tells you he isn't good enough for you, believe him. He knows more about himself than you do.

How's the world treating you? For a personal, unpublished reply, send a self-addressed, stamped envelope to ABBY, care of this paper.
