2 Men Fined Total of $400

Two men fined a total of $400 in Springfield Municipal Court Tuesday after pleading guilty to three counts of hit and run and a single count of destruction of private property.
Springfield city police said James D. Cogburn, 21, of Rt. 2 Box 449A, Springfield, and James Cox, 20, of Coburg, had left the scene after driving a car into two cars parked at the Spring Drive-In and a car parked at the Mitchell Motel. They later went to the Spring Drive-In and were "tearing up" a rest room when apprehended, police said.
The events all took place early Tuesday morning. Cogburn, the driver, was fined a total of $250 and Cox $150.

Man Arraigned In District Court

A 47-year-old Eugene man was arraigned in Lane County District Court Tuesday charged with maliciously ramming his car into the rear of a sheriff's office patrol car.
James A. Carey, 435 Day Island Rd., asked that an attorney be appointed to represent him. According to the sheriff's office, deputies went to Carey's home Monday evening to respond to a complaint. While they were investigating, Carey allegedly rammed his car into the rear of the parked patrol vehicle.
Carey also was charged with driving under the influence of liquor.

Mont Blanc Tunnel Almost Completed

COURMAYEUR, Italy — The Mont Blanc Tunnel through the heart of Europe's highest peak is almost holed through.

Engineers expect to blast the final strata of granite by mid-August and start on the tunnel roadway. By late 1963 some 400 vehicles an hour will be able to whiz between France and Italy, which are sharing the cost of the $50 million project.

Each nation took on the digging of half the 7.2-mile tunnel.

The Grand St. Bernard Tunnel, 12 miles east of here, is half as long as the Mont Blanc Tunnel. It was holed through in April and will be ready for traffic by the end of next year. Vehicles will travel the Grand St. Bernard between Italy and Switzerland.

The tunnels will speed trade shipments among the six nations of the European Common Market.

There are 16 passes over the Alps. All but the Brenner Pass between Bolzano, Italy, and Innsbruck, Austria, are closed by ice and snow almost half the year.

Winter road traffic has had to rely on low-altitude passes near the French-Italian Riviera, a long and circuitous route, or the lofty Brenner Pass far to the east.

The only other routes for motorists have been four railway tunnels through which cars and trucks are carried piggy-back on railroad flatcars.

The new tunnel through 15,781-foot Mont Blanc will reduce the driving distance between Turin, Italy and Geneva, Switzerland, to 167 miles, from 196 miles in summer and 490 in winter.

A 23-foot road will stretch through the mountain peak under an 18-foot roof vault. Alternating from side to side every fifth of a mile will be repair garages, emergency refueling stations, telephones and turn-arounds.
