

'Baby Lift' Back in Operation

Harry Holt's "baby lift" is back in business. Ray Cates, of Salem, chairman of the Child Welfare subcommittee of the Oregon Welfare Commission, said Thursday the subcommittee has approved Holt's application for a license to operate a child placement agency in Oregon.

Holt's office at Creswell said Friday this means the processing of adoptions of Korean orphans for Oregon families will be stepped up considerably.

Mrs. V. A. Nelson, office manager, said adoptions next year will probably be "at least double" the 200 the Holt agency handled this year.

Holt, former Creswell farmer and logger who is now in Korea, has brought more than 2,500 Korean children to this country for adoption. His program was drastically restricted a year ago when the federal government changed its immigration laws concerning "proxy" adoptions.

The new law required prospective parents either to travel to Korea, at considerable expense, to personally adopt the child in that country, or else to work through the immigration procedures of their state.

Mrs. Nelson said the state's action means the Holt's new child placement agency will be able to carry out all the arrangements for adoptions as far as Oregon families are concerned.

It will also be able to handle adoptions for families living in states that do not have their own adoption laws.

Mrs. Nelson said a qualified social worker has been hired to head up the child placement agency and will be here shortly.

UO Teachers To Attend Ohio Meeting

Several members of the University of Oregon faculty will participate in the joint meeting of the Speech Assn. of America and the Committee on Discussion and Debate of the National University Extension Assn. in Cleveland, Ohio, Dec. 27 to 30.

The meeting of the latter organization will be the responsibility of Bower Aly, professor of speech and director of the new national office of the Committee on Discussion and Debate which opened on the University of Oregon campus last July, and Charley A. Leitner, associate professor of speech and associate director of the office.

Aly Chairman

Aly will be chairman of the meeting of the group's advisory council and of several other sessions. Both professors will participate in a panel discussion of high school debate assemblies.

The committee promotes and assists debate activities in high schools.

Participating in the discussion of problems to be chosen for 1963-64 will be Arthur B. Miller, formerly of North Central High School in Spokane and now an assistant professor of speech at the University.

To Deliver Paper

Miller will also deliver a paper before the rhetoric and public address interest group of the Speech Assn. of America.

Herman Cohen, associate professor of speech, will attend as a member of the legislative assembly of the Speech Association.

Robert D. Clark, dean of faculties and professor of speech, will be chairman of an association session dealing with the writing of biography.

John R. Shepherd, associate professor of speech and production director of the University radio studios, will take part in an association panel discussion on radio-television research and confer with Thomas Scheidel of Cornell University and others on a joint research project on educational television production techniques being supported by the National Defense Education Act.

City Realtors Elect Richard W. Reed

Richard W. Reed, 62, broker and partner in the Eugene firm of Reed & May Realtors, Thursday was elected 1963 president of the Eugene Real Estate Board. He will succeed Don E. Taylor.

Reed received 34 votes, winning by a five-vote margin over the only other nominee for the job, David F. Knox. During the past year, Reed has served as program chairman for the board.

Others elected Thursday include:

Floyd F. Angelo, vice president; Rose Lamour, secretary; John L. Brandt, treasurer; Chester L. "Chet" Thompson, broker-director; and Fred R. Herbst, salesman-director. Retiring president Taylor automatically becomes the second broker-director to serve on the board.

The new slate of officers will be installed Jan. 3.

The president-elect has been a partner since September with Norville May in Reed & May Realtors.

Reed has been in the real estate business in Eugene for the past 15 years. Before that he was in charge of production in a Coburg dairy, operated by his father, the late Walter F. Reed.

Reed played varsity football at the University of Oregon from 1920-24, and later played professional football and served as a part-time coach for several California college teams.

Reed currently is president of the Eugene Multiple Listing Service. He served as the first president of the Eugene Traders Club, and is a past director of the Eugene Chamber of Commerce. He is a charter member and past president of the Oregon Club.

Reed and his wife, Anna Boyd, live at 1395 Harlow Rd. They have two grown sons.

Four Eugeneans In Road Mishap Near Oakridge

OAKRIDGE — Four Eugeneans escaped serious injury Friday morning when their car skidded off Highway 58 and overturned 16 miles east of Oakridge.

The four, who were enroute to San Jose, Calif., to spend the holidays with relatives, were Clifford K. Stalsberg, 58, his wife Hazel, 55, of 932 E. 20th Ave., Eugene, and their son and daughter-in-law, Charles Stalsberg and his wife Diana, both 21, of 750 E. 14th Ave., Eugene.

Charles, who was driving, said the accident happened after the car hit an icy spot on the highway.

"One minute we were on one side of the road, and the next thing we were on the other," the driver said. After leaving the highway the car overturned.

All four were taken to Oakridge Clinic where they were examined and released. The elder Stalsberg is a self-employed Eugene accountant, while the younger Stalsbergs are University of Oregon students.

John, a salesman in his father's firm, and Richard Jr., an Army paratrooper, stationed at Ft. Campbell, Ky.

Giant Barge Loads Cargo At Mapleton

MAPLETON — A huge ocean going barge, 220 feet long and 55 feet at the beam, docked at the U.S. Plywood mill here Thursday to take on a load of lumber.

It is believed to be one of the largest vessels ever to travel this far up the Siuslaw river.

The barge, owned by Sause Brothers of Coos Bay, will take on 2.3 million board feet of lumber (equivalent to 70 railroad boxcars) for a four-day journey to Wilmington, Calif.

Only rivals to the sea-borne behemoth were the flat bottomed lumber schooners that plied the river until the early 1920's. They were put out of action by the railroad.

The barge displaces 3,300 tons and can be loaded at a rate of 100,000 board feet per hour, according to Jack Robertson, area manager for Sause Brothers. The hull design, worked out by the Michigan Institute of Technology, adds up to a knot and a half of speed to the vessel over the conventional barge.

Another unusual feature, according to Robertson, is that everything is loaded above deck. The barge has no hold.

One 1,200 horsepower tug is needed to tow the carrier fully loaded.

The barge was moored at a new dock constructed by the firm. Fork lifts brought the lumber to the dock in relays where a big crane hoisted it onto the carrier's deck. It is scheduled to make the two-and-one-half hour voyage to the mouth of the Siuslaw Sunday.

Illinois Man Found Guilty

A 37-year-old Illinois man was convicted of larceny Thursday. The defendant, Eugene Cribley, of Pekin, Ill., was found guilty in a non-jury trial of larceny by bailie involving property valued at less than $75. The trial was held in Lane County Circuit Court.

Judge William Fort issued the verdict. A pre-sentence investigation was ordered.

Cribley was accused of failing to keep the terms of a conditional sale agreement under which he was purchasing a chain saw from Carlson Builders Supply Co.
