Delinquency First Mission School Topic

Wesley Methodist Church, Eugene, will open its annual School of Missions Sunday with a program on juvenile delinquency.

For the program, scheduled to begin with a "light meal" at 5:30 p.m., followed by the study program at 6:30 p.m., the church has scheduled Russell Tompkins, principal of Willamette Elementary School, as speaker.

General theme for this year's School of Missions will be "Arm of Compassion," and the study will be based on the home missions study guide, "Who Cares," which deals with the possibilities of church service and the responsibility of churches to "persons of special need."

In line with this theme, the church has scheduled future programs on Sunday evenings throughout January on juvenile delinquency and "psychology for juveniles."

Wage Hearing Set in Salem

SALEM (AP) — A public hearing on employment standards for hospitals and nursing homes will be held in Portland Tuesday by the State Wage and Hour Commission.

The hearing will open at 10 a.m. at the State Office Bldg. The standards cover employment of women and minors.

The minimum wages, as proposed by a Hospital Conference Board, are 90 cents an hour for experienced workers in hospitals and nursing homes, 85 cents for experienced persons in homes for the aged and child care agencies, 70 cents for inexperienced workers.

The present minimums are 65 cents for experienced workers, and 40 to 50 cents for the inexperienced.

Television Previews

March of Dimes Telethon Tonight

A 21-hour March of Dimes telethon is scheduled to begin tonight at 9 o'clock on Portland's Channel 2.

The telecast will be carried live from Lloyd Center Auditorium with Jim Backus as emcee.

Eugenean to Leave On Missionary Tour

LINDA SCOTT
'61 North Eugene Graduate

A young Eugene woman will leave this weekend to begin a tour of duty as a missionary aide in the Hawaiian Islands.

The future missionary, Linda Scott, will work in an interdenominational missionary program, United Faith Mission, with headquarters in Honolulu. Later, she may be transferred to other work in the Islands.

Miss Scott, a 1961 graduate of North Eugene High School, is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Glen Scott of 218 Hardy Ave., Eugene. She is a member of First Baptist Church, Eugene, which honored her New Year's Eve at a reception.

Following graduation from high school, Miss Scott attended Judson Baptist College in Portland for one year, and then went to night school at Multnomah Bible College, also in Portland.

She said in an interview this week that she first became interested in the mission through her grandmother, Mrs. Glenn Harnden, who had become acquainted with its work while in Hawaii.

Three years ago, Miss Scott said, she met the mission's directors, Mr. and Mrs. Leslie Blomerly, when the missionaries visited Eugene.

Her duties with the mission will be varied.

At first, she said, she expects to be working with Christian Crusaders, a youth program for girls, and also with Hawaiians of Samoan nationality.

"I've got so many things I can do," she said, explaining that only a small proportion of the residents of Hawaii are Christians, making the Islands a good mission field.

Methodists Slate Special Meeting

First Methodist Church, Eugene, has called a special quarterly conference meeting and congregational meeting Friday at 7:30 p.m. at the church.

The Rev. Norman Conard, pastor, said the meetings were called in order to satisfy Methodist procedures for property acquisition.

At present, the church is in the process of starting a relocation program, involving the sale of the present church site at 1185 Willamette St., and construction of a new church, church school facilities and fellowship facilities on the west side of Oak Street, between 12th and 13th Avenues.

Sale of the present church site will not be on the agenda Friday night, the Rev. Conard said. He said that business before the two meetings will include "technicalities" arising from proposed purchase of land on Oak Street.
