LWV Plans For Finance Annual Drive

Mrs. Thomas F. Nugent, finance chairman of Eugene League of Women Voters today announced the names of six Eugene women who will serve on her steering committee for the 1963 finance drive scheduled to begin Feb. 5.

They are Mrs. John Cockrell, Mrs. Richard Hayward, Mrs. Julius Hessel, Mrs. Robert Leeper, Mrs. Martin Schmitt and Mrs. Donald Watson.

In announcing the finance drive, Mrs. Nugent explained that local Leagues, in addition to financing their own programs, support completely the state and national organizations of the League of Women Voters of the United States.

To meet its budget, the League of Women Voters seeks annually to supplement its income from dues and contributions from its own members with contributions from friends of the League in the community; many of them supporters of the League for many years.

The League of Women Voters is a non-partisan organization open to women of voting age. Its purpose is the promotion of political responsibility through informed and active participation of citizens in government.

Lutheran Women Meet

Lutheran church women of the Willamette area will gather Friday in Eugene for their first district assembly since the merger of four Lutheran bodies into the Lutheran Church of America.

Meeting is scheduled for 8:30 a.m. at United Lutheran Church, 22nd and Washington Sts., with registration at 9 a.m. All Lutheran church women are invited to attend. The assembly is part of the Pacific Northwest Synodical unit of the Lutheran Church of America.

Special guest will be Mrs. Walter J. Knutson of Portland, president of the Pacific Northwest Synodical unit. Mrs. Knutson will open the assembly. Presentation of LCW work will be led by Mrs. Emil Swanson of Seattle and Mrs. George Krueck of Longview, Wash. Speaker will be Miss Della Brown, former missionary to Tanganyika.

Officers will be elected and will be installed by the host pastor, the Rev. W. W. Lamunyon.

Around the Town

UNIVERSITY of Oregon Dames Club will meet Thursday at 8 p.m. in Gerlinger Hall, with Mrs. Leslie House as chairman of the business meeting. Speakers will be Mr. and Mrs. Russell Minton, beauticians, who will discuss techniques of makeup, hair styling and hair care.

EUGENE GARDEN Club will meet Friday at 1:30 p.m. with Mrs. John Carr, 294 Bushnell Lane. Mrs. Fred Flock will be the co-hostess.

SWEET ADELINES will meet Wednesday at 7:15 p.m. at 1259 W. 4th to "warm up" for an appearance later that evening at Bev's Steak House for the Zonta-Quota-Altrusa-Soroptimist banquet.

Party Peaches

There's a party flair to a dessert of warm peaches with brandy sauce. Simply heat canned cling peach halves in saucepan or oven. Top with a sauce made by whipping 1/2 cup powdered sugar into 1/2 cup heavy cream. Fold in 2 tablespoons brandy and serve over hot peaches.

Pair Feted

Friends are invited to a reception Sunday honoring Mr. and Mrs. Walter L. Ingwersen on their golden wedding day. The Ingwersens were married in Ainsworth, Neb., and moved to Oregon in 1946.

Ingwersens Note Date

Mr. and Mrs. Walter L. Ingwersen will be honored Sunday at a reception in observance of their 50th wedding anniversary. Friends are invited to call between 2 and 5 p.m. at the home of the couple's son-in-law and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. Arnie V. (Lucille) Peter, 1497 W. Fifth Ave., in Eugene.

Assisting with plans for the reception are the Ingwersens' three other children and their families: Mr. and Mrs. Erwood

(Irene) Skeen, Woodriver, Neb.; Mr. and Mrs. Clifford (Luzena) Thompson, Erie, Pa.; Mr. and Mrs. Richard W. Ingwersen, Springfield. Mrs. Skeen was to arrive today and Mrs. Thompson, Thursday, for the golden date.

The Ingwersens were married in Ainsworth, Neb., on Feb. 3, 1913. They moved to Oregon in 1946 and came to Eugene from Bandon six years ago.

HINTS FROM HELOISE

Dear Heloise:

Our tank style vacuum would not pick up lint at all. I tried to drop a piece of silverware into the hose, but it did no good. The hose was plugged up for sure.

I ran outside and put the garden hose at one end and out came the plug of threads, etc. Now our vacuum has all of the suction of a new one.

READER

Now ladies, she must have a plastic type hose on her tank vacuum. Personally, I would not use this method on a cloth hose. It would take it too long to dry and might cause mildew or rust. Besides if you used it before it was thoroughly dry, the dust would stick to the hose itself and probably clog it further.

For those who do not have plastic type hoses, here's what I do:

I remove the hose from the suction end and place it on the exhaust end of the vacuum cleaner. This way the dust blows itself out.

If something has clogged it, hold your hand over the end of the hose for a minute and then let go! This builds up a vacuum inside the hose and usually blows out anything that is in it.

Now gals, don't try to do this in your dining room or living room. It is best done on the back porch. When that wad of stuff does come out, it might be followed by a blast of dust. And if you can get your tank out on the back steps, it's even better. Be sure to hold the hose away from you when blowing and before removing your hand.

Heloise

Dear Heloise:

When my husband or guests are late for dinner and my mashed potatoes are ready to be served, I just drain the water off of them (mash if you desire) then place a cotton or linen napkin over them and put the cover back on top of the pot.

This way they will remain hot for at least another one-half hour or more. I know this works.

Mrs. G.

Dear Heloise:

For the girls and boys who have worn out tennis shoes I have found an attractive way to patch them.

Where the holes are . . . try sewing on a button or embroidering a button hole with a colored thread. Then apply the button!

Also, it has become a fad in my town to sew patches of different shapes out of heavy material to cover the holes. It looks real neat.

Jeannet

My daughter just tried it. She sewed big fancy buttons on each toe. Darling idea.

SERVICE SAVES THE NERVOUS

You know that your professional cut-and-shaping means carefree combing ahead. Well, that's just as true for your daughter! We have tricks that put behavior into cowlicks, smooth away the angry "wisps" that seem to pop up everywhere, and actually put "line" into fine young baby-type hair. We seldom recommend anything fancy, for Nancy or Sue. Little faces don't need that type of fluff. We're experts in the simple, no-fuss cut that keeps both you and the youngster happy thereafter.

FROM UNDER THE DRYER:

No, you mustn't attempt to lighten a little girl's darkening hair! But why not see how beautifully we can lighten your own?

NO FOOLIN'!

There are herein a few facts that may have had you guessing: It's true what they say about "alopecia," that angry word that means an opportunity for baldness. If you constantly keep a tight rein on the little girl's hair (via hairband or tightback ponytail) you may regret it before you're a grandma! . . . Permanents do no permanent damage to the young; the hair grows, is cut and replaced. But you and she may save agony by insisting on a salon wave. (Our staff and our formulas are both so gentle!) . . . She'll get the same "lift" from her salon trip that you do. Bring her in and see.
