

This Week City, County, Other Agendas

Eugene City Council

Priorities for sewer service installations in the Willakenzie area this summer will be assigned by the Eugene City Council Monday night.

The council gave tentative approval at its committee meeting last Thursday to a program authorizing construction of lateral sewer lines in six areas of the Willakenzie section this summer. Public Works Director Don Allen said the whole Willakenzie area cannot be served this year because construction of all the major trunk lines won't be completed in time.

Areas proposed for service this summer include the new Wildish subdivision on the north side of the county Belt Line Road, plus other areas north of the belt line and east and west of Gilham Road; the Flintridge subdivision, Goodpasture Park, and Norkenzie Garden subdivisions; the Carmel, Monterey Lane and Morning Side Drive areas; a section south of Cal Young Road and immediately west of Oakway Road; the Paradise Park area north of E. Jeppeson Acres Drive; and the Meadow Lark Elementary and Sheldon High Schools.

These areas, Allen said, where trunk lines will be completed early and where the need for sewer lines is particularly urgent.

The council will also conduct a series of public hearings on variance and zoning issues that were considered by the Eugene Planning Commission at its April 2 quarterly zoning meeting. Also before the council are several recommended summer paving projects.

The council meets at 7:30 p.m. in the city hall.

Springfield City Council

The Springfield City Council Monday night will receive a letter from members of the Springfield Fire Fighters Assn. asking for a reduction in their average work week from 63 to 56 hours.

The association, comprising members of the fire department, want the work week reduction to become effective sometime between July 1, 1963, and June 30, 1964.

The letter was sent last week to City Manager Frank Smiley who has placed it on the agenda for Monday night's meeting.

Firemen indicated last week they feel the work week can be reduced to 56 hours with the hiring of three additional firemen. They estimate the cost will be $15,000.

In another matter, the council will conduct a public hearing on the proposed vacation of a narrow strip along the north edge of Centennial Boulevard about 216 feet east of Mohawk Boulevard to 18th Street.

The council is also expected to initiate the following street and sidewalk construction projects:

West B Street from Mill to 312 feet west, N Street from 10th to 11th, F Street from 10th to 14th, Ninth Street from Main to South A, portions of E, F and 51st Streets (paving only), and M Street from 9th to 10th (sidewalks only).

Smiley will recommend that the council grant a request from the Jancek Motor Co. for establishing a no-parking zone on 16th Street south of South A Street.

Councilmen will also discuss the need for "scarifying" several unimproved streets.

The meeting will start at 7:30 at the Springfield City Hall, Fourth and North A streets.

Eugene Project Advisors

An annual meeting of the Eugene Project lay advisory committee will be held at 7:30 p.m. Wednesday in the North Eugene High School auditorium.

All patrons of the district are welcome to attend. There will be reports by various special committees and sub-committees concerning budget, buildings, public information, legislation, and the educational plan for the district.

Richard Miller, chairman of the Eugene School Board, will make an introductory statement, and Otto Vonderheit, chairman of the lay advisory group's executive committee, will preside.

Special committees for the 1963-64 school year will be appointed.

The lay advisory committee is a group of district residents who advise the district administrators and school board on carrying through the Eugene Project.

"Eugene Project" is the name of a long-range plan under which the district is improving itself by studying and assimilating the best new techniques and methods in education.

It is sponsored in part by a $335,000 grant from the Fund for the Advancement of Education, a subsidiary of the Ford Foundation.

Through visitations to other schools throughout the country, visits of outside experts to advise Eugene educators, summer workshops for Eugene teachers and administrators and through a number of other means the district is attempting, under the plan of the Eugene Project, to become acquainted with educational innovations and to select and adopt those that would improve local schools.

County Budget Committee

Lane County's proposed $10,388,270 budget for the 1963-64 fiscal year will go before the six-member county budget committee at 9 a.m. Monday.

The committee's initial session will likely get under way at the courthouse with the election of a chairman. From there, the committee moves on to analysis of the budget and discussions with department heads on estimated financial needs for the year starting July 1.

The amount sought by departments this year is about $42,000 less than the budget of the current year. Changes come through reductions in public works department, capital improvement and public assistance expenditures.

Members of the committee are Commissioner Kenneth Nielsen, Jess Hill and Frank Elliott and lay citizens Fred Morris, Ralph Witcher and R. A. Kronenberg.

The sessions are open to the public.

Eugene Water & Electric Board

The Eugene Water & Electric Board will hold its second meeting of the month on Tuesday instead of Monday this week. Board members decided at their last regular meeting to postpone Monday's session until 2 p.m. Tuesday. The board will meet at the EWEB offices, 500 E. Fourth Ave., Eugene.

Eugene School Board

Further consideration will be given by the Eugene School Board Monday to possible revision in plans for constructing the district's next two junior high schools.

The board will hold a regular meeting at 8 p.m. in the administration building, 275 E. Seventh Ave.

The board will hold a regular meeting at 8 p.m. in the admin-on the advisability of constructing two starter unit junior highs for the fall of 1964 rather than building two complete junior high buildings in consecutive years.

There will also be a report on condemnation proceedings that are under way to acquire new school sites.

Springfield School Board

A report by Albert R. Kitzhaber, University of Oregon English professor, will be presented to the Springfield School Board Monday night on a proposed special English program for the Springfield School District.

A second curriculum report will be on the social studies program.

A change in the bid opening date for the Goshen School addition is expected to be made because some plans were not ready until Thursday. The original opening date was to have been April 29.

The regular board meeting will be in the School Administration Building, 1030 G St., at 7:30 p.m.

Springfield Charter Revision Group

Springfield's charter revision study committee will meet Tuesday morning for a final session to take a last look at changes it is recommending in the city's 70-year-old charter.

The breakfast meeting will start at 7 at Hull's Cafe.

Committee members met several times during January and February to draw up recommended charter changes.

The recommendations are expected to be submitted shortly to the Springfield City Council. The council could, if it desired, alter the recommendations and even add new provisions before submitting the proposal to voters.

State Board of Higher Education

The status of the State Board of Higher Education's 1963-65 budget request is expected to be under discussion when the board meets in Portland Monday and Tuesday.

Chancellor Roy Lieuallen, who has been involved in a number of legislative hearings on various portions of the budget request, is expected to report to the board on the basis of his experience.

The board's docket also includes acceptance of primarily plans for a first addition to the University of Oregon music buildings and a report of bids for construction of the final 202 units to Westmoreland Village, UO married students housing project.
