

Cannon Beach Civil Rights Weekend

Cannon Beach, Ore., hosted Pulitzer prize winning civil rights historian Taylor Branch at a celebration of the 50th anniversary of the Freedom Rides of 1961. Appearing with Branch was University of Washington Professor Quintard Taylor, author of "Civil Rights in the Northwest," and Joseph Stevenson, one of the original freedom riders. The Cannon Beach Arts Association hired a bus to transport Portlanders to the venue for a weekend of lively discussions and events Jan. 28-30. Here are a few scenes from the weekend's festivities.

