

Yashawnee Missing

Family members console Vaughn's mother Shaquita Louis, at left, being embraced by Desiree Turner, Vaughn's cousin. A crowd of supporters, including the woman behind Louis, marched on Thursday at the North Precinct to demand police investigate the case.

PALM SUNDAY

Members of Vancouver Avenue Baptist Church's Angel Choir lead everyone in song during the commemorative Palm Sunday Procession, April 17, celebrating the church's historic dignitary-filled opening event 60 years ago.

CREATING A BRAND

Iyasha Rosser, Alexis Tanner and Monerae Hill wear the 'Run Like a Kenyan' tee-shirts they designed with other members of Team Hamasa, for the NIKE Product Creation Experience. Mentors from Self enhancement Inc. and NIKE worked with high school students for 6 months on project. Team Hamasa took first place in the competition.

MIRACLES CLUB

The grand opening of the new Miracles Club building brought music, food and throngs of prayerful supporters. The newly-constructed apartment and services complex at 4200 NE Martin Luther King Jr. Blvd. is designed for addictions recovery. Pastor Matt Hennessee of the Vancouver Avenue First Baptist Church led a prayer before the doors were opened. The mission of the Miracles Club is "to provide a clean and sober environment for individuals seeking a lifestyle free from alcohol and drugs."
