CELEBRATION EVENTS

Unique Film Shows Dr. King in Action

The Clinton Street theater will screen ‘KING: A FILMED RECORD - From Montgomery to Memphis’ at 7p.m. and 9p.m. Monday, Jan. 16.

Directed by the acclaimed Sidney Lumet, the 1971 documentary film is compiled from vintage newsreels, and shows Rev. King not as a saint, but as a compassionate man of God with great goals for all people. Most of King’s great speeches are featured, including an uncut version of his historic “I Have a Dream” speech - given in Washington D.C. In addition it contains powerful and rare footage of marches and civil rights demonstrations. Anyone who seeks an insight into the man behind the dream will love this film.

The film was originally shown at theatres as a “one-time-only” event on March 24, 1970, and was later shown on U.S. television. It was nominated for the 1971 Academy Award for Best Documentary, and deemed “culturally significant” by the United States Library of Congress in 1999. Later it was chosen for preservation in the National Film Registry.
