if I was "saved" before I met my husband. A lot of people assume I had a spiritual awakening when I met him and it bothers me that people think that happened overnight.

KW: The bookworm Troy Johnson question: What was the last book you read? MG: I'm currently reading my husband's book, "Produced by Faith." <http://www.amazon.com/exec/obidos/ASIN/1451671962/ref=nosim/thslfofire-20>

KW: The Uduak Oduok question: Who is your favorite clothes designer? MG: I love anything vintage. And I love Marc Jacobs and shoes by Giuseppe Zanotti.

KW: Dante Lee, author of "Black Business Secrets," asks: What was the best business decision you ever made, and what was the worst? MG: Best – to do Deception. Worst – one or two films I did that I won't call out by name.

KW: The Michael Ealy question: If you could meet any historical figure, whom would it be? MG: Rosa Parks or Jesus.

KW: The Pastor Alex Kendrick question: When do you feel the most content? MG: When I'm with my family.

KW: The Toure question: Who is the person who led you to become the person you are today? MG: God. And my mom has been amazing.

KW: The Judyth Piazza question: What key quality do you believe all successful people share? MG: They don't believe in "no."

KW: What advice do you have for anyone who wants to follow in your footsteps? MG: Keep God as your main focus. Make sure your desire to do what you're aspiring to do is deeper than just fame and being a celebrity. Be willing to work hard, and don't believe that when a door closes it's anything personal.

KW: How do you want to be remembered? MG: As a woman who represented God but was controversial, stood by what she believed and wouldn't allow other people's opinions of her to manipulate her directions. As someone who helped others, loved others deeply even if they tried to hurt her, was there for people when she could be, and ultimately made everything she did about God and not just about herself.

KW: Thanks again for the time, Meagan, and best of luck with the show. MG: Thanks, Kam.
