

Opening This Week — Feb. 1

BIG BUDGET FILMS

Bullet to the Head (R for profanity, nudity, drug use, graphic violence and bloody images) Grisly revenge thriller, set in New Orleans, about a hit man (Sly Stallone) and a detective (Sung Kang) who form an unlikely alliance to track down the killers of their respective partners. Featuring Christian Slater, Jason Momoa and Jon Seda.

KAM'S CAPSULES

Movie Reviews by Kam Williams

Warm Bodies (PG-13 for violence and profanity) Romeo and Juliet re-imagined as a romantic horror comedy set in a devastated, post-apocalyptic America and revolving around a zombie (Nicholas Hoult) who falls in love with the girlfriend (Teresa Palmer) of one of his victims. With John Malkovich, Rob Corddry and Cory Hardrict.

INDEPENDENT & FOREIGN FILMS

The Gatekeepers (PG-13 for violence and disturbing images) Oscar-nominated Best Documentary chronicling the exploits of Shin Bet, Israel's national security agency entrusted with the country's closely held top secrets. Includes archival footage, computer animation and in-depth interviews with all six surviving former heads of the organization. (In English and Hebrew with subtitles)

Girls against Boys (R for nudity, sexuality, profanity and violence) Battle-of-the-sexes slasher flick about a college coed (Danielle Panabaker) who embarks with a girlfriend (Nicole LaLiberte) on a retaliatory, man-hating killing spree after a series of dates gone bad. With Liam Aiken, Andrew Howard and Michael Stahl-David.

Mumia: Long Distance Revolutionary

The Haunting in Connecticut 2: The Ghosts of Georgia (R for disturbing images) Scream sequel finds a married couple (Abigail Spencer and Chad Michael Murray) settling into a historic home in the South where their young daughter (Emily Alyn Lind) suddenly starts seeing dead people visible only to her. Supporting cast includes Cicely Tyson, Katee Sackhoff and Andrea Frankle.

Koch (Unrated) Intimate

portrait of Ed Koch, the intensely-private, former Mayor of New York who occupied Gracie Mansion from 1978 to 1989. With reminiscences by Congressman Charles Rangel, Reverend Calvin Butts, City Council Speaker Christine Quinn and current Mayor Michael Bloomberg.

See MOVIES on page 7

Bullet to the Head

Information is Today's Currency

At home or on the go, rely on The Skanner News for expert insight and guidance on what's important to you