

‘Soles4Souls’

It's disheartening to believe there are those who have no shoes to wear or the only shoes they have are 'flip flops.' Sister Gail Thomas, the African Methodist Episcopal Zion Church Oregon-Washington Lay Council Conference President, learned of 'Soles4Souls' from a co-worker. Inspired to go beyond the walls of the church, the local Lay Council and the church congregation (the laity) agreed to support 'Soles4Souls'. The congregation at Community A. M. E. Zion Church, in Vancouver, contributed (200) two-hundred pairs of gently used shoes for adults / children. These shoes will be distributed to people in need and disadvantaged communities. Legendary Vocalist
Linda Hornbuckle, 1955-2014

Legendary vocalist Linda Hornbuckle has passed away. The Oregonian reports Hornbuckle's longtime collaborator Louis Pain announced she died Oct. 4 in hospital. Hornbuckle has been fighting liver cancer since 2012. She was a beloved health educator with Multnomah County who worked with teens and families. A celebration of her life is Oct. 14 at the Crystal Ballroom in Portland.

Her friends and supporters had planned a "More Love for Linda" benefit to pay part of the cost of her medical bills. Instead, it will be a celebration of her life, Tuesday, Oct. 14 at 7 p.m., and contributions are still being taken to pay the bills. Tickets are $20, with limited VIP tickets, available through www.TicketTomato.com.

Musicians featured that night include many of her best friends over the years: Quarterflash, Liv Warfield, Linda Hornbuckle Band, Andy Stokes, LaRhonda Steel, Soul Vaccination, Patrick Lamb, Norman Sylvester, and Eddie Martinez.

Famously, Hornbuckle started singing as a small child in her father's church, the Grace & Truth Pentecostal Church, which was led by her father, Bishop Howard Hornbuckle. Since then she has thrilled audiences in the Pacific Northwest, Europe, Canada and across the U.S.

For many years she worked a community health specialist for the Multnomah County Health Department, educating teens about HIV, sexually transmitted diseases and teen pregnancy. She also served on the board of Better People, a nonprofit dedicated to helping formerly incarcerated people find work and stability.

In recent years Linda performed regularly and recorded in a duo with award-winning pianist Janice Scroggins, as well as with the Linda Hornbuckle Band. A tireless supporter of local grassroots communities, Hornbuckle performed at countless fundraisers, including and especially the Waterfront Blues Festival benefitting the Oregon Food Bank.

Third Annual Church Prayer Walk

By Rev. Gene Poore

If we ask anyone between five-years old and one hundred what "Holiday" falls on October 31st, 100 percent will resound: "Halloween!" If we ask the same individuals what the next day proclaims, I guess 90 percent would stare back bewildered, because All Saint's Day, November 1st, remains unknown by many.

Nevertheless, my Letter to the Editor in the Daily News, Jacksonville, North Caroline, two years ago brought added attention to All Saint's Day. I announced that my wife and I would walk once around one of our city's landmarks, Jacksonville Commons' Pool, at 6:00 p.m., praying for God to continue to guide and bless our nation. I invited other Christians to join our ten minute walk. A small group arrived and shared our praying. Last year, another Letter to the Editor drew more praying walkers.

This third year, I am sending this same invitation to every Newspaper and Christian church email I can find, throughout America. I encourage churches to tell their congregations of this prayer walk. Further, I encourage Christians, wherever they worship, to gather at a landmark in their city or community. Then, on November 1 at 6:00 p.m., praying Christians can join spiritually over vast distances in our Third Annual All Saint's Day Prayer

Walk.

What a blessing God will bestow on our nation if two or three (thousand) gather in Christian spirit every All Saint's Day.
