

Issues: Health

40 Years of Service

Left to right: Carol Chisholm, Margaret Carter, Promise King with banner for Center for Community Mental Health

Leola Johnson and Amalia Fuchs at Planned Parenthood on Killingsworth

Cholesterol screening

When I move to Portland on January 1, 1990, I immediately subscribed to the daily but it didn't give me the information I needed to understand what was happening in the Black Community and who the players were.

All my early education about Portland's Black Community came from The Skanner. I've always appreciated that issues that are important to the Black Community take center stage. Whether on the political, educational or social front, The Skanner continues to hold that position today! Happy 40th! I look forward to the next 40 being just as productive!

—Jo Ann Hardesty

Quayshum Sanders, 5, getting a shot from nurse Debbie Danna at Multnomah County Northeast Medical Clinic while father, Ricky Sanders, watches on

Celebrating The Skanner for 40 Years of Supporting

Our LGBTQ Families

Every Community. Every County. Every Corner.

