analyst. Dibadj said the focus on craft sodas is an attempt to emulate what happened in the beer industry, where craft beers have been the main driver of growth. But Dibadj thinks craft's potential on soda may be more limited, since soda's problem for most people isn't taste, but the calories.

There is no definition for what makes a soda "craft," but the trend is characterized by traits such as glass bottles and ingredients that are seen as more wholesome. Jaime Jose, a 21-year-old student from New York, doesn't drink soda but said she's tempted to buy the glass bottles of Coke as an occasional treat.

"It's that retro thing of having a story behind it," Jose said.

The idea is compelling enough that Coca-Cola created a "craft beverages team" last year that oversees recently acquired brands like Hansen's.

It's also presenting its flagship soda to fit craft sensibilities. Sandy Douglas, head of Coke North America, said last year that Coke's packages by the end of the 1990s were all "huge" and "boring."

But he said the newer aluminum bottles and mini-cans were winning back customers, particularly those with more earning power. He also said the smaller sizes were in line with the desire for more modest portions.

Coke Chief Financial Officer Kathy Waller said she thinks such alternative sizes could "easily go to 30 percent" of sales, up from about 15 percent last year.

Mexican Coke is also expanding distribution and enjoying double-digit volume growth, although it remains relatively minimal. The glass bottles and sugar that made it popular among certain circles are in step with the desire for "authentic" foods marketers say people increasingly want.

REQUEST FOR PROPOSALS

METRO DESIGN SERVICES FOR POLAR BEAR HABITAT AND RELATED INFRASTRUCTURE AT THE OREGON ZOO RFP 3131

The Oregon Zoo, a Department of Metro, a metropolitan service district organized under the laws of the State of Oregon and the Metro Charter, located at 600 NE Grand Avenue, Portland, OR 97232-2736, is requesting proposals for Design Services for Polar Bear Habitat and Related Infrastructure.

Sealed proposals are due no later than 2:00 p.m., March 17, 2016, in Metro's business offices at 600 NE Grand Avenue, Portland, OR 97232-2736, Attention: Karen Slusarenko, RFP 3131.

Metro is requesting proposals from an interdisciplinary consulting team with expertise in architecture, engineering, interpretive exhibits, animal habitat design, sustainable practices, public engagement, budget and cost estimating, to design and perform contract management duties for the polar bear and related infrastructure projects at the Oregon Zoo.

A voluntary pre-proposal conference will be held in the Skyline Room of the Cascade Crest Banquet Center at the Oregon Zoo, 4001 SW Canyon Road, Portland, Oregon on Thursday, February 25, 2016 at 1:00 pm. No zoo admission required. Interested proposers are encouraged to attend the conference in order to gain information about the RFP requirements.

Proposals can be viewed and downloaded from the Oregon Procurement Information Network (ORPIN), at <http://orpin.oregon.gov/open.dll/>.

Metro may accept or reject any or all bids, in whole or in part, or waive irregularities not affecting substantial rights if such action is deemed in the public interest.

Metro extends equal opportunity to all persons and specifically encourages minority, women-owned and emerging small businesses to access and participate in this and all Metro projects, programs and services.

Metro and its contractors will not discriminate against any person(s), employee or applicant for employment based on race, creed, color, national origin, sex, sexual orientation, age, religion, physical handicap, political affiliation or marital status. Metro fully complies with Title VI of the Civil Rights Act of 1964 and related statutes and regulations in all programs and activities. For more information, or to obtain a Title VI Complaint Form, see www.oregon-metro.gov.
